RAIL BUSINESS BOOMS; REVIVE TERMINAL PLAN

Christmas Travel Crowds Trains.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Christmas holiday travel that is taxing Chicago's railroad terminals led city officials yesterday to get ready for a renewal of the project for a consolidated passenger station at Randolph street just east of Michigan avenue.

For years this site has been proposed as a permanent home for the railroads using the four stations scattered south of the loop and east of the river. Cost of the project is estimated at $19,000,000.

The holiday trafic rush, the heaviest reported by the railroads since 1928 and 1929, serves to emphasize, as the city hall views it, the need of solving the ancient terminal problem if Chicago is to keep its supremacy in transportation.

Heavy Increase in Business.

Most leading roads report their business is 20 to 30 per cent greater than last Christmas time. During the depression trafic was slim and gloom mantled the terminals. This year the crowds are back. Most roads say all their passenger equipment is in use and trains are running in two to six sections. Some have had to use refrigerator cars to handle package express.

In six days, Dec. 17 to 22, the New York Central system moved [illegible] extra trains in and out of Chicago. Last Friday the Commodore Vanderbilt arrived in six sections. Travel increase is figured by this road at 25 to 50 per cent over last year.

The Rock Island reported its business equals that of 1929. Officials of the Milwaukee road said the task of moving the holiday throngs was "herculean." The Hiawatha will travel today in seven sections, four northbound, three southbound.

Moving in All Directions.

The travel is in all directions. Some forty extra trains a day have been used by the Pennsylvania system in carrying trafic into and out of Chicago. During the rush some 350 extra trains have been used at the Union station.

The Santa Fe reports its business as 40 per cent larger than last year, and the old Dearborn station is jammed with customers. The Chicago and North Western reports an increase of 25 per cent in travel over last season. The "400" has been running in two sections the last ten days. All equipment is being used. The Burlington says its passenger business is 25 per cent greater than last year, with most of its chief trains, including the twin Zephyrs, running in extra sections.

The Baltimore and Ohio is running most of its through trains in two sections, and has added a new train, the "Holiday Special," between Washington and Chicago. It reports all its passenger equipment, including more than 500 air-conditioned cars, is in service.

I. C. Reports 30% Increase.

Automobile trafic jams have been caused in Michigan avenue at times as crowded Illinois Central trains have arrived at the Central station at Roosevelt road. Most of these trains are running in extra sections. Four specials arrived yesterday bringing 3,000 college students.

The Illinois Central's general travel business is 30 per cent over that of last year. Its suburban trafic recently has been averaging 120,000 passengers a day as against 100,000 last year.

Ald. B. A. Cronson [4th] said yesterday that the swing to the railroads—due to faster trains, streamlining, air-conditioning and lower fares—gives a new impulse to the proposal for a consolidated station at Randolph street. Mr. Cronson has a council order pending, instructing the railway terminals committee to reopen negotiations at once with the railroads. E. J. Noonan, engineer of the committee, said meetings will begin soon after New Year's.

Public Returning to Rails.

"Heretofore," said Ald. Cronson, "the railroads have always said they haven't been financially able to settle the terminal problem. Stories have been carried in the press that twenty railroads using Chicago terminals are expending some 150 million dollars for new trains, engines and equipment.

"The public is moving back to the rails and the roads are recapturing business now that they have im-

SENATE BACKS IMPEACHMENT; ARMY HEAD WINS

Gomez Plans Flight to U. S. Exile.

BY GUSTAVO RENO.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Dec. 24 [Thursday.]—The Cuban senate early this morning removed President Miguel Mariano Gomez from office by a vote of 22 to 12. Gomez was found guilty of impeachment charges voted against him by the house of representatives Tuesday.

The senate's action makes Col. Fulgencio Batista, commander in chief of the Cuban army, the dominant figure in Cuban politics. The impeachment and ouster of Gomez followed his veto of the sugar tax bill sponsored by Col. Batista, the proceeds of which were to be used to establish army controlled schools throughout the country.

Gomez Coming to U. S.

The senate vote was announced at 1 o'clock this morning by Senator Octavio Rivera, a close friend of the ousted president. Gomez, who is the first president in the history of the Cuban republic to be removed from office by impeachment, was notified of the senate's action shortly after midnight. He immediately left the presidential palace, where he had waited through the night with friends, and drove to his home.

The president yesterday had admitted that his removal was certain, and he spent the day getting his affairs in shape for his successor, Vice President Federico Laredo Bru.

Charges Army Interference.

After his impeachment had been announced formally Gomez issued a statement. He charged army interference in civil affairs had led to his veto of the sugar bill.

Gomez declared he acted after having tolerated the army's demands "in so far as they were not prejudicial to the people as a whole."

He asserted his only limit on the army was practicability, "but they [army chiefs] want something more—to rival the executive power and command the palace from Camp Columbia [army headquarters]."

Gomez, who had been in office since May, prepared to fly with his family to voluntary exile in the United States today after broadcasting a farewell message to the nation.

The impeachment sentence, handed down by the senate, lengthily reviewed the procedure in the trial and the affairs of the congress "forced to take this step in the interest of the nation."

Text of Sentence.

The sentence read:

"Dr. Miguel Mariano Gomez y Arias, president of the republic, is hereby declared guilty of transgression against free functioning of the legislative power and is removed from the presidency of the republic, ceasing office upon notification."

The senate committee left the capital this morning for the home of Vice President Bru to notify him he now is president. He will be sworn into office tomorrow at noon before the entire Supreme court in the presidential palace.

Unable to Plead Own Case.

The public portion of Gomez's trial, which began at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, closed at 8:30 p. m. The senate then went into secret session to consider the charges.

Gomez was denied his request to plead his own case before the senate, which sat as a court of justice presided over by Supreme Court Justice Juan F. Edelman, but his personally written defense plea was read before the court. He named Senator Jose A. Gutierrez to represent him.

Gutierrez warned the senators that if they voted to oust Gomez it would mean loss of democratic government for Cuba and the saddling of the country by a military dictatorship headed by Batista.

Senate Under Pressure.

The senate, he charged, was under pressure, and "everybody knows where the pressure is coming from." He followed this with the accusation that Batista, long known as the "power behind the throne in Cuban politics," had threatened to throw the "president out of the palace and dismiss congress" if Gomez was acquitted.

Earlier Senator Ambrosio Casabuena, another Gomez supporter, had demanded proofs of the charges against the president that he had vio-

DIFFERENT WAYS OF EXPRESSING THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

The pope uses his ebbing strength in a world-wide Christmas broadcast.

The archbishop of York, one of the heads of the church founded by Henry the VIII. to facilitate his divorce, shows his Christmas spirit by excoriating the ex-king for his love affair with a divorcee.

In Washington, the Gridiron club exemplifies the Christmas spirit by drawing together many men of conflicting opinions for an evening of enjoyment and companionship.

Police to Stop Bank Nights in Movie Houses

Police Commissioner Allman said yesterday that he was drafting an order to stop bank night and screeno prize drawings in Chicago movie theaters as violations of the city code. The order will be sent to district captains in a few days. All except about fifty of the city's movie theaters have prize nights of some type.

Commissioner Allman's order will be based on an opinion of Corporation counsel Hodes that drawings are "a chance distribution of money" outlawed by the city code. Attorney General Kerner, in his third opinion on the subject, held yesterday that they are also a violation of state statutes.

Bureau Protests to Mayor.

The Chicago Better Business bureau started a campaign against theater prize drawings last month. When the theater owners refused the bureau's request to eliminate the drawings voluntarily, Kenneth Barnard, manager of the bureau, asked Mayor Kelly to act.

The bank night idea has made a wealthy man of Charles U. Yaeger, Denver motion picture exhibitor, since he conceived it just four years ago tonight. Yaeger's first drawing used merchandise given by merchants in exchange for trailer advertising on the screen and was operated on a Christmas eve, traditionally the worst theater night of the year, to boom attendance.

Checks Give Plan a Name.

Later Yaeger started giving cash prizes, payable by certified checks, from which practice the plan got the name of "bank night." He patented the idea, gave up his job, and set out to sell bank night to the movie exhibitors of the nation, who were facing slumps in attendance because of the depression.

Today there are 5,000 theaters running bank nights, paying royalties of $5 to $50 a night, depending on seating capacity, to Yaeger. The plan is licensed in Europe and South America as well as the United States.

Screeno, the other principal prize drawing device in Chicago movie houses, is essentially the game of keno; which is played in most of the large gambling houses of the country.

$6,000,000 Given Out.

Prize drawings in the 250 theaters conducting them have resulted in the distribution of $6,000,000 in Chicago in the last two years, it was estimated recently. Individual prizes, which accumulate from week to week if the person whose name is drawn is not present to receive them, have run as high as $2,750.

Where theaters permit patrons to register at any time during the day and thereby become eligible for an evening drawing attendance is sometimes as high on the day of a drawing as for the other six days of the week.

The principal operating expense of Affiliated Enterprises, Inc., which licenses bank nights, is the maintenance of a staf of attorneys to resist attempts to halt the drawings under the lottery laws. According to the promoters of the scheme, Supreme courts of four states have held bank nights to be legal.

EXECUTIVES OF BRANIFF LINE CRASH VICTIMS

Witness Tells of Cry as Flames Spread.

BULLETIN.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 24 (Thursday).—(AP)—A Pennsylvania Central Air Line plane, flying eight passenger, made a forced landing last night at Vermilion, O., 30 miles east of here.

Pilot G. V. McLaflin said a broken crank shaft caused the landing at Vermilion field, which is equipped with beacons and field lights. The passengers were brought here by automobile.

McLaflin and his co-pilot, Eddie O'Donnell, both are from Detroit.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Six men were killed today in the crash of a Braniff Air Lines ten passenger Lockheed Electra plane, half a mile from Love field, municipal airport. The plane caught fire and all the bodies burned.

All victims were officials or employés of the line. The ship had been taken up for a routine test after a motor replacement.

The dead:

W. T. Chambers, 35, crew chief.
Hubert Daane, 28, mechanic.
Pascal Florence, 30, mechanic.
Sterling Perry, 38, superintendent of maintenance and former associate of the late Wiley Post.
Fred Sleeper, 28, mechanic.
Don Walbridge, 33, operations manager.

Falls Over on Back.

The tri-motored plane slipped into a cornfield about 100 yards from the shore of Bachman's lake, 500 yards north of the airport, tumbled over on its back and burst into flames.

Joe Mason, cement worker employed on a building project fifty yards away, told a detailed story of the tragedy.

"I heard the motors directly over my head," he said. "I watched the plane careen, strike the ground with its right wing, and then spin over.

"I ran to the plane, already afire, and heard a man shouting for help. I made my way to the side of the cabin and heard a man pleading with me to get him out.

Cries "I'm Burning to Death."

"'My God, mister, please pull me out—I'm burning to death, he said. I grabbed his belt and tugged, but he was caught at the knees. I heard another man back in the cabin groaning.

"Suddenly a gas tank exploded and flames shot out at me. I gave one final pull, but the man gasped two or three times and slumped over. My hands were burning. I couldn't see. I just had to let go of that poor fellow.

"I got to the edge of the wreckage just as new flames blazed up. The pilot was still sitting at the stick. Four of the men may have been killed instantly. I heard the voices of only two."

Walbridge at the Stick.

Firemen found Walbridge—W. M. Clough, purchasing agent of the lines, said he was piloting the ship—still clutching the controls. All the bodies were removed after chemicals had extinguished the blaze.

Clough said no theories as to the cause of the crash could be advanced without further investigation.

Perry was closely associated with Wiley Post before Post was killed in a crash in Alaska. He operated an airplane shop for Braniff when it was located at Wiley Post airport at Oklahoma City.

Mason and a man sitting in a rowboat on Bachman lake, whose name was not learned, said the ship "tilted" just before it crashed. Mason said fellow workers told him the right engine did not seem to be working."

Plane Misses 10 Workers.

Ten laborers were at work on the building project when the plane passed only a few feet over their heads and crashed.

C. E. Harman, manager of the Dallas aviation school with headquarters just across the 300-yard wide lake, said he believed the ship's engines failed.

WomanBreaks Silence After 3 Years in Jail

Mrs. Daisy Tegtmeyer, 50 years old, the "forgotten woman" of the Cook county jail, broke a stubborn silence of nearly three years yesterday and admitted in a court hearing that she kept $32,000 from an estate of which she was trustee. Despite her statement, which was made in her 22d attempt to gain freedom, the whereabouts of the money remained as much a mystery as ever last evening and Mrs. Tegtmeyer was back in jail.

Her return to a cell came after she and three deputy sheriffs searched an apartment at 6033 Vernon avenue where she said she had concealed $27,000 of the missing funds in the lining of a heavy winter coat. Neither the coat nor the money was found although two hours were spent in ransacking the dusty and unlighted rooms.

Believes Burglars Got It.

Mrs. Tegtmeyer said she believed the garment had been taken by burglars but the investigators were unable to substantiate this. She will be questioned again today.

It was on Jan. 5, 1934, that Mrs. Tegtmeyer was sent to jail by Judge Hugo Friend of the Circuit court for contempt of court after she refused to say anything at all about the missing $32,000. At that time she was trustee of the estate of Henry Tegtmeyer, father of her husband, Edward, who also is dead. She was holding the sum in trust for minor heirs and a brother-in-law, Frank Tegtmeyer, who has not been found.

On many occasions—21, to be exact—she sought release from jail but each time her plea was denied because she still was evasive on the subject of the trust funds. Yesterday, however, her attitude was different. When, late in the afternoon, she appeared before Judge Cornelius J. Harrington in Circuit court [Judge Friend is now in the Appellate court], Mrs. Tegtmeyer talked freely.

Admits Keeping $32,000.

"I kept the money, judge," she admitted. "I had it in cash and I paid $5,000 of it for some speculative mining stock—it was in a gold mine, I got a receipt for the money but never got any stock certificate.

"With the rest of the money I decided to be smart. We were still in the depths of the depression back in 1933 and 1934. I determined to keep the money and put it into the stock market when the first signs of recovery came along.

"I didn't want to put it in a bank so I sewed it into the lining of my coat and left the coat in my flat. It was right there when I went before Judge Friend and I hope it has been there ever since. I've been paying rent on the place while I've been in jail.

Really Tired of Jail.

"I only agreed to tell all this after two of my friends, Mrs. Bessie Little and Mrs. Agnes Lavin, told me burglars had been in my place. I want to go out and see if the money's still there. If it is, you can have it. I'm really tired of jail."

With Mrs. Mary Deverman, the county's only woman deputy sherif, and two other deputies, Mrs. Tegtmeyer was taken to her Vernon avenue apartment. There were no lights in the place and the search for her coat was made while the deputies struck matches.

"My coat's gone," Mrs. Tegtmeyer announced finally. "I guess the place has been turned upside down by burglars."

Clyde Mornier, 6021 Rhodes avenue, janitor for the apartment building, said that thieves broke into the flat a year ago.

"See," said Mrs. Tegtmeyer. "That proves my story."

Nevertheless, she was taken back to jail. She must appear before Judge Harrington today for further questioning.

CHINA TO KILL ALL UNCURED NARCOTIC ADDICTS ON JAN. 1

PEIPING, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Coffin makers worked overtime today to finish preparations for executions of uncured narcotic addicts, condemned officially to die Jan. 1.

The execution order was issued by the government in a move to stamp out the use of narcotics and to "encourage" addicts to take advantage of free treatments.

The treatments will cease Jan. 1, officials said, "as there will not be any addicts after the execution orders are finished."

Pope Ready to Give Message to the World

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 23.—Fears were expressed at the Vatican today that Pope Pius XI. never again will be able to walk. Reports allegedly originating from his bedroom say the varicose veins in his left leg have reached such an advanced state it is doubtful whether he will ever be able to use it without danger.

The muscles of both legs are said to be in a state of weakness and relaxation, perhaps because of the general debility of his system.

These reports gained added impetus when it became known a special wheeled chair with a leg rest has been ordered.

No Imminent Danger.

All sources agree, however, the pope is in no imminent danger and is progressing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. He never leaves his bed now as he used to do until a few days ago because his prolonged illness, during the whole of which he has been kept on an almost entirely liquid diet, weakened him to such an extent he feels faint as soon as he rises.

Nevertheless, he is bearing up very well under his numerous afflictions and his mind is as active and clear as ever, as he proposes to prove tomorrow when he broadcasts a Christmas message to the world.

He will begin broadcasting at 12:30 p. m. [5:30 a. m. Central Standard time]. He was expected to speak in Italian and be at the microphone for nearly 20 minutes, the message consisting in all of about 1,000 words.

Translation to Follow.

As soon as the pope has ceased speaking his words were to be repeated in English over the same Vatican radio station and in French and German over other stations. Translations in other languages will follow later.

The pope will speak from his bed, for his doctor is insistent that on no account is he to get up until he can do so with perfect safety.

His voice will be heard by countless millions of people all over the world for hardly a single broadcasting station has not made arrangements to pick up his message and retransmit it over local wave lengths.

of men wearing Braniff Airways overalls or jumpers.

Prestou Stroup, Associated Press employé, was knocked to the ground and his camera damaged. The same group seized cameras from two other cameramen, destroyed their films and made threatening gestures.

The plane fell 500 feet from the busy Northwest highway, about eight miles north of the Dallas business section.

Taken Up for Test.

Clough said the Braniff employés took the plane up for a routine test hop several minutes before the crash. A new engine had just been installed and the crew was giving it a final test before starting the plane out on a regular transport run.

Braniff and department of commerce officials started an immediate investigation.

Braniff officials offered a possible explanation in a telegram to department of commerce officials in Washington. The message said in part:

"Theory on cause of accident, after preliminary investigation, was that plane approached field for landing, was forced to go around due to interference by two other planes. Right engine failed when throttles were opened. From eyewitnesses' report ship failed to gain sufficient altitude one-half mile west of field with flaps and landing gear coming up. Was over small lake at the time and pilot evidently tried to make opposite shore. Slight speed could not be maintained and ship fell off into right spin."

Reach Area of Crash.

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—A rescue party, wearied from floundering through deep snow and mountain thickets, tonight had reached the north Idaho area in which a Northwest Airlines transport crashed Friday but had made no report of having found the wreckage.

A. R. Mensing, Northwest Airlines division superintendent, telephoned here from Calder, Idaho, that a ground rescue party left this morning from Big Creek cabin, three miles from the place where the plane wreckage was sighted Monday. Their progress was impeded by snow drifts and possibly a blizzard.

It was estimated that three feet of snow had fallen since the plane struck, presumably killing Pilots Joe Livermore and Arthur Haid. It was expected the searchers would have to be almost alongside the wreckage before they could hope to locate it.

Concentrate on Wasatches.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Search for the Western Air Express liner that vanished eight days ago with seven persons aboard was concentrated in extreme southwestern Utah today after officials of the air line proved valueless a story by a turkey buyer who believed he had seen the plane attempting a forced landing.

An army bomber and five other planes flew over the rugged mountains and valleys around St. George, Utah, near the border lines of Arizona, Nevada, and Utah.

The aerial search was centered between St. George and Milford, 76 miles toward the north, over which Pilot S. J. Samson sent his last radio message shortly before his plane was to have arrived here.

It was found that the big liner M. D. Talley saw, apparently seeking a landing spot northwest of St. George as "its motors sputtered and died," was a searching ship.

Hit Derrick; Two Hurt.

Oklahoma City, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Roy Hunt, nationally known stunt and race pilot, and a passenger were injured today when a $60,000 twin motored luxury airplane crashed on a fog shrouded pasture north of here after striking an oil derrick and ripping off part of one propeller.

Mrs. Leslie Fain, for whom Wiley Post's famous plane, the Winnie Mae, was named, suffered three broken ribs. Hunt was cut slightly about the head when the plane was wrecked.

Two other passengers escaped injury.

Army Plane Falls in River.

Middletown, Pa., Dec. 23.—(AP)—An army plane en route to Patterson Field, Fairfield, O., crashed a moment after it took off from Middletown field this afternoon and sank in the Susquehanna river. The pilot, Sergt. Rafferty, was unhurt. He crawled to safety.

FRANCE ASKS U. S. TO HELP EUROPE SAVE DEMOCRACY

PARIS, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Premier Leon Blum of France declared today his Popular Front government had saved France from dictatorship and said it now aims, in unison with Great Britain and the United States, to preserve world democracy.

In a speech to the Anglo-American Press club, Blum said France and the United States had never been more closely united in friendship, understanding and coöperation. His government, he said, "spared France from joining the ranks of the totalitarian states."

Assailing the idea that war in Europe is inevitable, the premier said he believed it possible that in a few more months the most serious international problems would be solved. France's internal worries, he maintained, have been grossly exaggerated.

SHELL CRUMBLES TOWER OF MADRID PHONE BUILDING

Center of City Suffers by Rebel Attack.

MADRID, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Fascist artillery crashed ten shells into the center of Madrid late today, one of them crumbling a tower of the American owned telephone building and piercing through to the 13th floor of the structure.

One person was killed and two injured as a shell burst in Duke of Alba street. Three insurgent bombers, escorted by six fighting planes, rained bombs on government lines in the northwest sector near Pozuelo de Alarcon and the villages of Las Rozas, Majadhonda, and Romanillas.

The death of Pablo de la Torriente, Cuban political commissar, was reported from the Pozuelo front. Pablo Yague, government commissar of food supplies, was shot and gravely wounded by attackers at Las Ventas, a Madrid suburb. Yague was driving to purchase food and the assailants stopped his car.

Rebels Try Flank Movements.

Insurgent infantry today spread in a flanking move to the south in an effort to cut off Madrid's highway link with Valencia. Madrid artillery shelled rebel concentrations near San Martin de La Vega. Government defenders of Aranjuez strengthened their barricades.

Political prisoners of the war are to be made to work to earn their keep under a decree by the minister of justice published at Valencia today.

Tentative plans call for the establishment of labor camps where the prisoners would work under heavy guard.

Authoritative sources said that five members of the family of Col. José Miaja, commander of Madrid defenses, had been released as insurgent hostages in exchange for ten members of the family of the rightist Deputy Joaquin Bau, head by the government.

Claims Germans Fortify Ifni.

A government spokesman tonight charged Germany was establishing a huge airplane and zeppelin base in Ifni, Spanish possession on the northwest coast of Africa.

He said the government vouched for reports that several large airdromes with hangars, mooring masts and repair shops were being constructed in various parts of Ifni.

[Ifni was ceded to Spain by Morocco in 1860 but it was not until April 6, 1934, that the Spanish flag was hoisted. Ifni has an area of 965 square miles.]

Government reports, the spokesman said, asserted the Graf Zeppelin and the Hindenburg were making frequent trips to Ifni, loaded with airplane parts and assembly machinery.

Urge Halt to Recruiting.

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The European neutrality committee appealed again today to Spain's civil war combatants to permit neutral observers to check on their armaments purchases.

Evidencing a desire to hasten its program for keeping the Spanish war in Spain, the committee also heard Britain's appeal to the twenty-seven other member nations in the neutrality group to pledge specifically to halt foreign enlistments in Spanish armies by Jan. 4. [Some governments already have replied favorably.]

The committee asked the twenty-eight member governments to say immediately whether they would share the cost of sending observers. It was understood that Gen. Francisco Franco, Fascist chieftain, had requested information on the identity of the proposed observers and their functions, and that the Valencia government had not yet consented formally to the observer plan.

Ivan Maisky, Russian ambassador to London, engaged in a heated exchange with Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador, and called Franco a "pocket general." Grandi cracked back that Maisky's utterances were a "kind of recurrent fever."

Thirty-five Sent from New York.

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Socialist party of New York tonight disclosed it had been quietly recruiting volunteers for the loyalist army in Spain and already had sent thirty-five men to help defend Madrid.

A call for additional volunteers was issued. Jack Altman, executive secretary of the party, said 500 men and $50,000 had been set as twin objectives of the drive.

The Socialist expeditionary force will be called the "Eugene V. Debs column," he said, in memory of the Socialist leader.

Senator Flays Recruiting.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Socialist party's New York recruiting campaign for volunteers to aid the Spanish government forces was condemned today by Senator Pittman [Dem., Nev.], chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, as "contrary to the whole theory of neutrality."

He said that restrictions on such recruiting "should be very carefully considered" in drafting a new neutrality act to replace the present law, expiring May 1.

"I know of no specific law against recruiting American citizens for a foreign struggle," Pittman said, "but it certainly is contrary to the policy enacted by the government."

BELGIUM APPROVES A PEACETIME ARMY OF 84,000 SOLDIERS

BRUSSELS, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Belgium approved a peacetime army of 84,000 men for the first time in history today and moved quickly to bulwark its defenses against Germany's rearmed Rhineland.

The new army, provided in the 1937 defense bill voted by the chamber of deputies last night, will embrace 33,000 volunteers, 45,000 recruits and 5,400 reserves.

Gen. Leon Dens, minister of defense, immediately announced plans to reorganize the defense of Luxembourg province. The frontier staf and depots were ordered removed 60 miles from the border to guard against a surprise attack from Germany that might cut off the Ardennes corps.

FRANCE SETS UP 124 MILLION ARMS FUND FOR POLAND

PARIS, Dec. 23.—(AP)—France is placing 2,700,000,000 francs [$124,2000,000] in bond issues and commercial credits at Poland's disposal largely to enable her ally to build a stronger army on Germany's eastern frontier, Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos told the chamber of deputies finance committee tonight.

Since 1923 France and Poland have been bound by a defensive alliance against Germany. The advances outlined by M. Delbos will be made under a new financial and military agreement supplementing the alliance, concluded when Gen. Edward Rydz-Smigly, inspector general of the Polish army, visited Paris last September.

The committee voted approval of the flotation in France of Polish bonds totaling 1,350,000,000 francs [$62,100,000], of which 405,000,000 francs [$18,630,000 would be in the name of the Polish government and 945,000,000 francs [$43,470,000] in the name of the Franco-Polish railway company, which controls the main Polish lines. The government by decree will guarantee 80 per cent of the credits extended Poland by French arms manufacturers to assist in strengthening the Polish army. The government would guarantee a maximum of 1250 million francs [$57,500,000] of such credits, he said.

Leg Is Twisted Nearly Off in Fall; Medics Astonished

Cleveland, O., Dec. 23.—(AP)—When a man fell down a flight of stairs late today the police ambulance arrived in time to find the victim unconscious, with one of his legs twisted completely around. He was rushed to an operating table. Doctors rolled up their sleeves and ripped off the man's trousers. The leg was cork.

RETURN ACCIDENT VERDICT.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday at the inquest over John M Catlon, 38 years old, world war veteran, who died of burns Tuesday in the Clayton hotel, 2026 North Clark street, after falling asleep while smoking.

FRANCE DEMANDS NAZIS QUIT AIDING SPANISH REBELS

Hitler Worried; Summons Aids to Debate Course.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 23.—Yvon Delbos, French foreign minister, in a note to Great Britain, declared that France would not tolerate an increase in German forces in Spain, it was reported here today.

It was further alleged that Delbos had gone so far as to threaten to send French troops to the aid of the Madrid defenders if the German "volunteers" with the Spanish rebel leader Gen. Francisco Franco were not withdrawn.

It was learned that the German ambassador, Johannes von Welczek, conferred at length with Delbos in Paris tonight. Previously Delbos had talked at length with London.

The question of what Germany will do about Spain was the subject of an extraordinary conference earlier today between Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and his aids. In the conference were Gen. Faupel, Hitler's chargé d'affaires in Spain, Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, reichsminister for air, and Joachim von Ribbentrop, ambassador to London.

Revives Question of History.

Gen Faupel told the Fuehrer he lacked confidence in Franco, and urged the Fuehrer to seek a compromise. Germany and Italy recently recognized the Fascist Burgos junta as the official government of Spain.

Students of history remember with apprehension that the question of who should rule Spain—a friend of France or a friend of Germany—led to the Franco-Prussian war in 1870.

Hitler had planned to leave Berlin last night, but he was so strongly alarmed by the reports that he postponed his departure in order to study the situation more closely.

Reports reached Berlin that the German "volunteers" in Spain were having difficulties with their Spanish comrades who disliked their "bossiness." The Germans, for their part, speak disparagingly of the Spanish fighting spirit, complaining that many Spaniards "leave most of the fighting to the foreign units."

Fail to Get Enough Ore.

Friction between Germans and the Spaniards also was reported in business circles. Germans complained that they get less metal ores from the Spanish mines than they expected. The bulk of the German population, which still knows nothing of the presence of the German "volunteers" in Spain is disgruntled because "Franco, whom Germany helped by recognizing him officially, is not even sending oranges to Germany."

Gen. Faupel's dissatisfaction with Gen. Franco induced Hitler and his friends to shelve a plan they have been considering, which called for a division of Spain into nationalist and Catalonian states.

The chancellery and the foreign office has been studying a proposal made by France and England to support a totally new man in Spain who might be able to unite the stricken nation behind him.

May Shift to Zamora.

The man whose name was in the foreground in the diplomatic conversations is Niceto Alcala Zamora, first president of the Spanish republic.

This movement for a compromise finds support among high military officers. Prominent generals of the German army took it upon themselves to call on the Fuehrer to warn him that his army men could not countenance the departure of more "volunteers" for Spain.

High officials of the Nazi party, at loggerheads with the generals, insisted that Spain provides an ideal opportunity to fight openly "the international Marxist forces."

The generals do not share this opinion and warned Hitler that the army needs another three years to complete its rearmament and train the necessary number of officers and technical staf.

It is understood that the recent resignation of Admiral Foerster, commander in chief of the German high sea fleet, long before the pension age, was inspired by the admiral's desire to dissociate himself from the venture in Spanish waters.

Admiral Carls, his successor who heretofore was commander of the German naval forces in Spanish waters, is a fanatic Nazi the same as Field Marshal Werner von Blomberg, minister of war.

HOHENZOLLERN REJECTED.

Although there were other general and special causes of the war of 1870, the election of a prince of Hohenzollern to the throne of Spain and the subsequent negotiation on it between Paris and Berlin, constituted the immediate cause.

A revolution broke out in Spain in 1868 and Queen Isabella fled to France. The Bourbons then were deposed from the Spanish throne. There were negotiations with several foreign princes and the prince of Hohenzollern accepted the Spanish crown. Paris saw this as the result of Prussian intrigue endangering France. Subsequent negotiations aggravated the situation and on July 19, 1870, the French declaration of war was delivered.

Museum Buys Valuable Monument

AUSTRIA SLASHES FOOD PRICES TO END SUICIDE WAVE

VIENNA, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Austrian cabinet ordered reductions in the price of basic food necessities today in an effort to stem the increasing suicide rate.

Milk, sugar, and coffee were included in the latest move to ease the economic pressure which is said to be the outstanding cause of self-destruction.

Persons from all stations in life are involved in daily newspaper reports of suicides. An ever increasing number of Jews, exiled from Germany, are among those seeking advice from the government about combating their desire to kill themselves. It is estimated that in Vienna alone six persons every day seek death.

TWO DISOBEDIENT EDITORS ORDERED TO QUIT BY NAZIS

Frankfurter Zeitung and Berliner Tageblatt Hit.

BERLIN, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Authoritarian Germany moved today to replace with "dyed-in-the-wool" Nazis two newspaper editors who have refused to obey orders from the propaganda ministry.

The Frankfurter Zeitung will be permitted to continue publication, officials said, on the condition a national socialist leader assumes the chief editorship and approves all articles before publication.

"Safe" Man for Tageblatt.

The Berliner Tageblatt also will be compelled to accept a "safe" man as chief editor, it was announced. Paul Scheffer, former Washington correspondent and present editor of the Tageblatt, will be given a foreign correspondent's post, officials declared.

Scheffer, who is not a member of the Nazi party, was asked to accept a party appointee as a "super" or "controling" editor, remaining in nominal charge of the paper himself.

He declined this offer, asking instead to be put on the foreign staf.

Editors Widely Quoted.

The Frankfurter Zeitung's chief editor — Rudolf Kircher — has been widely quoted, as has Scheffer, on matters of German foreign policy, Kircher, it was understood, would be replaced by Martin Schwaebe, deputy chief editor of the Westdeutscher Boebachter at Cologne.

The Frankfurter Zeitung incurred the displeasure of Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister, Dec. 16 by publishing a story that Germany faces a 1,000,000 ton wheat shortage. At that time Goebbels was reported seriously considering withdrawal of the newspaper's publication permit.

Powerful industrial interests in the Rhineland, however, were reported later to have intervened on the paper's behalf.

COMPLETE FILTRATION PLANT.

MALONE SEIZED AS FUGITIVE ON ARRIVAL IN N. Y.

Arrested in U.S. Tax Case After 3 Years Abroad.

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—William H. Malone, former chairman of the Illinois tax commission, was arrested tonight as he arrived from Germany on the liner Europa. He has been a fugitive for three years on an indictment charging a $59,579 income tax evasion.

Agents of the bureau of internal revenue took Malone into custody, acting at the request of United States Attorney Michael L. Igoe of the Chicago district.

Malone was taken to the federal house of detention to be held over night. He will have a hearing tomorrow at 11 a. m. before United States Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter. He is expected to waive a hearing on his removal to Chicago, where real estate valued at $61,500 has been posted to cover a $25,000 bond which is expected to be set for his release.

Wife Returns With Him.

Malone's wife arrived on the liner with him and they were met at the pier by a New York attorney representing George K. Bowden, Malone's Chicago attorney.

The prisoner said he expected to spend Christmas in his home at 201 Grand boulevard, Park Ridge. Discussing the charges against him, he said:

"I think it is only an honest difference between the government and me. I think I will be vindicated."

Denies Flight to Dodge Trial.

Malone was indicted on Oct. 13, 1933, charged with defrauding the government of taxes on his income for 1929 and 1930. He could not be found when a bench warant was issued for his arrest, and he next appeared in Germany.

He always denied that he fled from the United States to escape the federal charge, explaining that he went to Germany to collect $90,000 which he had loaned to Paul and Martin Polka, brothers, when they operated the Pickwick motion picture theater in Park Ridge.

Several weeks ago when Malone prepared for his journey home, German authorities ruled that the money collected from the Polkas could not be transferred abroad.

Speeders Take Gifts to Auto Victims in Hospital

Scene in ward 34 of the Cook county hospital yesterday as 125 speeders under 21 years of age visited trafic accident victims on orders of Judge John Gutknecht and passed out gifts in addition to the regular cash donations. The speeders also visited the county morgue. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

125 SPEEDSTERS DO PENANCE IN COUNTY MORGUE

Also Take Gifts to Injured Victims.

One hundred and twenty-five youthful defendants arrested for speeding in the last month visited victims of trafic accidents in the county hospital and viewed bodies in the morgue yesterday at the direction of Judge John Gutknecht in Trafic court. They distributed gifts to the injured, including 25 children, and contributed a total of $100 for their aid.

Many of the young men and women were accompanied by their parents. "The visits of these young men and women to the county hospital are not compulsory," Judge Gutknecht said. "I don't believe in fines or jail sentences for first offenders. These boys and girls are discharged after they go to the hospital and make contributions."

Young Women in Group.

Among those in the group were Miss Kathryn Becker of the Ambassador East hotel, a student at Northwestern university; Miss Edna Shellstrom, 4330 North Sacramento boulevard; Miss Ruth Nelson, 2629 Farragut avenue, all 20 years old; Miss Ruth Toenniges, 21 years old, 3645 North Claremont avenue, and David Irwin Jr., 18 years old, 687 Blackthorne road, Winnetka, a student at Yale university.

In Boys' court Patrick Sweetman, 17 years old, 6401 South Aberdeen street, was sentenced by Judge Stephen Adamowski to serve ten days in the Bridewell for reckless driving. He was arrested Tuesday after his car had collided with another machine at Green and 71st streets.

Christmas Plea Granted.

James Lavery, 30 years old, 4815 Ferdinand street, was sentenced by Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Safety court to serve five days in the Bridewell for driving while intoxicated. On his plea to spend Christmas at home, however, he will not have to start serving the jail sentence until Jan. 4.

Ex-Member of Chicago Police Killed in Wreck

Monticello, Ind., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Harry Walker, 54, retired member of the Chicago police department and operator of the Walker series of cottages on Lake Freeman near here, was killed last night when his car slipped off the icy pavement and struck a tree near Lebanon, Ind.

THREE LINERS IN LATE AFTER BAD OCEAN CROSSING

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Three Cunard White Star liners arrived today from Europe with 870 passengers and 11,000 sacks of mail. The ships were twenty-eight to forty hours late because of storms on the North Atlantic. The French liner Normandie was past Sandy Hook, but will not dock until tomorrow. The Europa arrived earlier today, a day late.

Capt. Robert B. Irving, master of the Aquitania, said the ship had bucked heavy seas throughout the voyage.

Capt. John McRoatie, master of the Samaria which was forty hours late from Liverpool, said he had a series of gales and heavy seas all the way over from the Irish coast. On Tuesday night, Dec. 15, he said the ship met a hurricane from the west with a velocity of ninety-five miles and the barometer fell to 27.90.

The Ausonia from Havre was forty hours late and also had a rough passage. On one day the liner made only 110 miles.

POLICE OF EIGHT STATES HUNT FOR MISSING HEIRESS

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Fear that beautiful Elizabeth Butterfield might yield to a suicidal impulse spurred police of eight states today in a search for the missing 28-year-old heiress, who lived until recently in swank Sutton Place South.

Wearing a $7,000 Persian lamb coat and valuable jewelry, Miss Butterfield, a former Smith college student, fled Tuesday from the nurse who was caring for her at the Whitney Eckert boarding estate, Greenwich Conn.

Her precipitated dash to Portchester, where she was believed to have boarded a New York bound train, was cloaked in further mystery yesterday when her wealthy aunt and guardian, Miss Elizabeth Quinlan, arrived here from Minneapolis to spend Christmas with her.

ROOSEVELT, GARNER MAKE DEAL; THEY CALL OFF DINNERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Vice President John N. Garner made a "deal" with the President today by which he is assured of retiring to bed at his customary hour of 9 o'clock every night in January.

January is the only month which offers difficulty to the vice presidential bedding schedule. By custom he is guest of honor at a White House dinner and in return must give a dinner to the President.

Garner called at the White House today to suggest that the President cancel the Vice President's dinner scheduled for Jan. 7 and in return offered to cancel his dinner to the President, the date of which had not been set. Because the White House social season is extremely crowded due to the earliness of Lent, Mr. Roosevelt readily agreed.

The President and Vice President agreed to lunch together more frequently under the "deal." Garner left the White House with his bushy white eyebrows dancing with pleasure at gaining several more hours of sleep.

The vice presidential dinners, particularly those of Mr. Garner, are an outstanding event of the Washington social season. During the life time of the late Will Rogers, the Vice President had the humorist preside over the entertainment phase of the evening, which gathered celebrated artists of the stage before his guests.

N. Y. WILL DROP SLAYING CHARGE AGAINST BOY, 13

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—New York state decided today it would not prosecute a murder charge against 13 year old John Macari, who confessed slaying a 10 year old chum two months ago.

In announcing murder charges would be dropped against the boy who confessed slaying Frank Liano, Assistant District Attorney Sylvester Cosentino said Macari will be arraigned in children's court on a charge of juvenile delinquency.

Macari told his story to officers at the New York State Training School for Boys at Warwick, N. Y., where he was confined as an incorrigible child Oct. 15. He is believed to have killed the Liano boy by beating him over the head Sept. 18 in a dispute over the division of stolen lead pipe.

WISCONSIN CLUB OF CHICAGO LINES UP WITH FRANK

The University of Wisconsin Glee Club of Chicago yesterday adopted a resolution opposing the action of some members of the university's board of regents in lodging charges against President Glenn Frank and seeking his removal. After the action was taken at a meeting in the Hotel Brevoort the following message was telegraphed to the board of regents at Madison:

"Resolved, that the University of Wisconsin Club of Chicago is opposed to the removal of President Glenn Frank, and, further resolved, that it deplores the methods employed to accomplish the removal of the president of the university." The message was signed by James G. Peterson, president of the club.

Peterson said the resolution was adopted without a dissenting vote by some seventy-five University of Wisconsin alumni who attended the meeting.

DONNEL PREDICTS COLDER WEATHER FOR CHRISTMAS

Chicago will have a green Christmas, C. A. Donnel, official forecaster predicted yesterday.

Indications are that the day will be cloudy, with threatened rain or snow, and somewhat colder than the last few days. Today, Mr. Donnel predicted, will be fair and mild, with a maximum temperature during the day in the neighborhood of 48 degrees.

Southwest winds raised the temperature yesterday to a maximum of 46 degrees between 2 and 3 o'clock. This was 13 degrees above the normal maximum for Dec. 23.

STRUCK BY AUTO; DIES.

Washington, Ind., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—John L. Fegan, 59, died today of injuries received yesterday when he was struck by an auto while repairing a tire on his car.

SOCIAL WORKER KILLED BY AUTO DRIVEN BY FRIEND

Widow, 63, Steps in Car's Path in Deerfield.

Mrs. Mary Ward Reichelt, 63 years old, a social service investigator for the Deerfield-Shields township high school, was killed last evening in Deerfield by an automobile driven by one of her close friends.

Mrs. Reichelt, a widow, had left her home at 745 Chestnut street, Deerfield, and was crossing the street at Chestnut street and Deerfield avenue when she was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Nellie Waite, 941 Cedar street, Deerfield, wife of an automobile salesman.

Police said Mrs. Reichelt apparently became confused by the lights of a car approaching from the opposite direction and stepped into the path of her friend's automobile. Mrs. Waite, who was prostrated by the accident, was not held.

Woman Killed by Taxicab.

Mrs. Helen C. Bassett, 50 years old, 6800 Sheridan road, saleswoman for a drapery company, was fatally injured last evening when she was struck by a taxicab at Sheridan road and North Shore avenue. She died a short time after the accident in the Rogers Post hospital. Police questioned the cab driver, James Fuller, 3208 Maypole avenue, and released him.

Joseph Plaisted, 21 years old, 415 East 60th street, a senior at Dartmouth college, and a companion, Miss Hilda Woolcott, 23 years old, a Claremont, N. H., school teacher, were killed when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a tree and overturned near Lebanon, N. H. The driver, James H. Truman, 24 years old, of Hanover, N. H., who was injured slightly, was charged with reckless driving.

Arthur B. Peckenpaugh, 45 years old, 4839 North Lincoln street, was killed when his car collided with another machine on state route 78, two miles northwest of Morrison, Ill. Fred Becker, a farmer, driver of the other car, blamed the slippery pavement for the crash. Peckenpaugh was a salesman for the Agar Packing and Provision company.

Pedestrian Dies of Injuries.

George Gohring, 36 years old, 43 West 108th street, died early today in St. Luke's hospital from injuries suffered several hours earlier when he was struck by an automobile at 13th street and Leif Ericson drive. The driver, Harry Davis, 29 years old, 2842 North Whipple street, was not held by the police.

John Raciborski, 44 years old, 1632 Brigham street, was injured fatally last night when he was struck by a truck in front of 1712 North avenue. The driver was Frank G. Folsom, 35 years old, 1836 North Linder avenue.

Dies of Trafic Injuries.

George Prebensen, 72 years old, 438 Arlington place, a real estate dealer, died yesterday in the Columbus hospital of injuries incurred Tuesday when he walked into an automobile in front of 2436 North Clark street.

A coroner's jury ordered yesterday that John Krol, 27 years old, 2538 North California avenue, a cab driver, be held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter for the death of Joseph T. Gagner, 36 years old, 3114 West 38th place, who was killed Sunday when he was struck by Krol's cab at Archer avenue and Rockwell street.

Trafic deaths in Cook county thus far in 1936 exceed the total for all of 1935, the coroner's office reported yesterday. This year's figure to date is 1,019, compared with the 1935 total of 1,015. Of the 1936 total, 767 were killed in Chicago, while 19,288 were injured in trafic accidents in the city.

British Officer Slain in Battle with Indian Rebels

NEW DELHI, India, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Maj. J. W. Williams, British officer, was killed and Second Lieutenant R. G. T. Baines and two soldiers were wounded today in an engagement between a British military expedition and revolting tribesmen in the Khaisora valley of Waziristan, on India's northwestern frontier. The fight occurred at the scene of a battle last month in which a British column lost more than 100 killed and wounded.

Men Trample Children in Battle for Prize Balloons

Blair, Neb., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Glasses worn by children were broken and a window smashed here today as men battled for balloons containing 50 cent merchandise tickets intended for children.

St. Louis Zoo's Gorilla, One of Few in Nation, Dies

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Yonnah, the St. Louis zoo's 9 year old gorilla, one of the few in captivity in the United States, died today of an intestinal ailment. The animal was purchased in May, 1931, for $2,700.

CHURCH ATTACK ON FORMER KING VEERS TO WALLY

Empire Never Would Have Stood Her, Bishop Avers.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 23.—Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson was mentioned specifically for the first time today in the post-abdication attack by leaders of the Anglican church upon its former head, Ex-King Edward VIII. of England.

Her name appeared in a diocesan message issued by the Rt. Rev. Dr. B. O. F. Heywood, bishop of Ely, who expressed the view that Mrs. Simpson, because of her divorces, would not have been approved as queen either in this country or elsewhere in the commonwealth.

Bishop Heywood's reference to Mrs. Simpson followed a criticism of the bishops in the press, which demanded that church leaders openly name those of Edward's friends against whom they are directing their recriminations or cease their attacks.

Two other bishops, the Rt. Rev. Dr. F. S. Guy Warman of Manchester and the Rt. Rev. Dr. Mervyn George Haigh of Coventry entered the fray, but both confined their remarks to the ex-king and a lament on his giving up the throne for the woman he loved.

Dwells on Divorce Angle.

The ecclesiastical battle, which started with a heavy bombardment by the Most Rev. Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, archbishop of Canterbury, followed by a barrage almost as damaging from the Most Rev. Dr. William Temple, archbishop of York, yesterday, appears now to be spreading into a series of light skirmishes.

The bishop of Ely dwelt at length upon the divorce angle.

"Surely it was neither on account of Mrs. Simpson's rank or nationality that the British people were so resolutely opposed to the projected marriage of the late king," he said. "But because of the deep underlying conviction that divorce with remarriage, however it may be tolerated in an imperfect world, is not in accordance with those higher standards of living which, in their hearts, most men approve.

"The king might have married Mrs. Simpson, thus making her queen, but neither in this country nor any part of the empire would that course have been approved.

Sees Monarchy Periled.

"And if it had been followed, the stability of our constitutional monarchy would indeed have been imperiled. It was abundantly evident that the British people could not accept as queen one who already had two husbands living.

"Alternatively, if the king, aware of the disfavor with which the proposal was viewed, had renounced all thought of marrying Mrs. Simpson—while the sacrifice of his personal inclination would have been acclaimed in many quarters—there would undoubtedly have been a prevailing feeling of uneasiness which would have qualified the loyalty with which the British people are accustomed to regard the occupant of the throne."

The bishop of Coventry saw a victory for parliament and the people in the outcome of the royal crisis.

"The throne can only profit by the revelation of the nation's conception of the kingship, and parliament has rediscovered its power to express the national mind and will," he wrote.

Bar Palace to Americans.

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The News Review, weekly publication, asserted tonight the doors of Buckingham palace will be open to "few Anglo-Americans" under the rule of George VI.

The magazine said the archbishop of Canterbury's criticism of the abdicated Edward's friends is "pleasant to the ears of the socialites who have long scorned the fast moving Anglo-American set which rode to influence in Edward's reign."

"Young couples with a habit of switching husbands will cease to be received" at the British court, the publication declared.

In its summary of the crisis centering around Edward's love for Wallis Warfield Simpson and its aftermath, the News Review said:

"What particularly roused court officials' anger was the fact that for weeks letters poured into the palace from Americans who addressed their correspondence: 'Mrs. Simpson, queen of England.'"

The article said that "the chief characteristic of the friends of the new king and queen who henceforth will hold sway in court circles is the love of the traditional graces of hospitality.

Modernity "Out."

"Modernity makes little appeal to them. All the women are good, though not sensational, hostesses. Among them are no spectacular figures and with one or two exceptions no one could call them outstandingly smart. Dignity and restraint will be the new court circles' watchword.

"Hostesses noted for gay, impromptu parties will find themselves quietly left out in the cold. Pushful trans-Atlantic party givers will be relegated with aristocratic finesse to social oblivion or unimportance. Bright young people will find their glory dimmed.

"Dashed will be the American element. No lovers of slickness and streamlining are the king and queen. The decorum by which George V.'s court was distinguished will prevail again; undesirables will be frigidly turned down."

GETS DIVORCE

MRS. JUDITH COOK.

Judge Oscar F. Nelson of the Superior court yesterday granted a divorce to Mrs. Judith H. Cook, 23 years old, 2815 Abbott court, a ballet dancer, who charged her husband, Ralph, a night club entertainer, with desertion. Mrs. Cook was given custody of their son, Ralph Jr., 2 years old, and $5 a week for his support. Cook lives at 640 Wrightwood avenue.

HIS 23 CHILDREN WILL HONOR HIM CHRISTMAS DAY

Whitesburg, Ky., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—The big family of Roscoe Holcomb, Line Fork headwaters farmer, will celebrate Christmas in grand style. All of his twenty-three children will come and do the aged man honor—for on that day he will celebrate his 70th anniversary.

This is perhaps a record family, all living and having families, except one daughter, who was married only a few months ago. There are twelve sons and eleven daughters, most of them having large families, a good start toward reaching the high level of the parents. So far there has not been a death in the Holcomb family. Several of the sons and daughters have been teachers, some are professional men, some are farmers.

All these will come and do honor in the celebration of their father's birthday, an event to be long remembered.

The father of Holcomb reared twenty children, and the father of Mrs. Holcomb reared eighteen. Generally speaking, the Holcombs have large families.

Nine Women Hurt in Fall of Loop Freight Elevator

Nine women were injured last night when a freight elevator in the Pure Oil building, 35 East Wacker drive, got out of control on the eighteenth floor and slid to the bottom of the shaft, striking the shock springs in the basement. The elevator was carrying about 20 persons, all service employés of the building. Most severely injured among the passengers was Mrs. Mary Kulisz, 41 years old, whose left knee was broken. The others hurt were treated by a physician for sprains and bruises and were permitted to go to their homes.

MOTHER PUT ON PROBATION.

Charged with neglecting her three children for liquor, Mrs. Stella Kaplan, 48 years old, 1427 Walton street, was placed on a year's probation yesterday by Judge George B. Weiss in Domestic Relations court.

GIFTS FLOOD IN TO EDWARD, BUT HE'LL KEEP NONE

"Fan Mail" Mounts to 35 Pounds a Day.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ENZESFELD, Austria, Dec. 23.—Christmas gifts from all over the world for Edward, the duke of Windsor, poured into Enzesfeld today. There were too many for him to send all of them back, according to custom, and it is reported he intends to give them to people of the neighborhood.

"Fan mail" of the former King Edward VIII. of England is said to be increasing steadily and to have passed 35 pounds a day, even after weeding out.

Christmas preparations this evening interrupted the usual schedule at the castle of Baron and Baroness Eugene Rothschild, where Edward is a guest. One large room holds a huge Christmas tree for the servants' children.

Party for Children.

Twenty-five children will attend a Christmas party tomorrow afternoon and receive presents.

It is reported Edward will pay a semi-official visit to the British legation in Vienna Christmas day.

The force guarding the Rothschild castle has been reduced, supposedly at Edward's request. Two Viennese detectives, his own bodyguard and some gendarmes remain on duty, however. Most journalists have withdrawn from Enzesfeld, leaving a mere corporal's guard to make sure nothing is missed.

It was learned from Kitzbuehel today that the villa there of Leander J. McCormick of Chicago, which was once reported to have been rented to the duke of Windsor, had been let to a German industrialist.

Chauffeur Is Sent Back.

Probably the most unhappy man in Austria at that news is the promoter who built a bowling alley there when he heard Edward had taken up the game at the Rothschilds.

A Viennese chauffeur hired for Edward reported for work today and his first duty was to drive his English predecessor, G. S. Ladbrook, to the railroad station for the Arlberg express, which took him toward London for Christmas. Ladbrook was for eighteen years the constant employe of Edward.

Edward is said to be taking a great interest in Viennese cooking, and, according to a castle report, whenever an unfamiliar dish is served he asks what it is called and how it is prepared. The castle cuisine is prepared by Karl Weicht, who comes from Carinthia, southern Austria.

COURT REFUSES TO DROP HEWITT MAYHEM CHARGE

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Despite her daughter's unwillingness to testify, Judge George J. Steiger declined today to dismiss mayhem charges against wealthy Mrs. Maryon Hewitt McCarter, accused of plotting a sterilization operation performed on her heiress daughter, Ann.

"The charge has been filed against Mrs. McCarter and I feel it should not be dismissed lightly," the judge said, continuing the case until midsummer. He described Miss Hewitt's attitude toward her mother as "commendable," but not sufficient alone to close the case.

If Mrs. McCarter, now in New Jersey, is not returned to the jurisdiction of California courts, Dr. Samuel Boyd and Dr. Tilton E. Tillman will face alone a $500,000 damage suit which Ann filed as a result of the operation.

The daughter charged her mother plotted the surgery as a means of preventing the Hewitt fortune from passing to another generation. The doctors were acquitted of criminal mayhem in connection with the operation by court instruction.

SETS U. S. PRESS "RIGHT" ON SIMPSON AFFAIR

(In this, the ninth of a series authorized by ex-King Edward and Mrs. Wallis Simpson, Newbold Noyes corrects a few of the false impressions left by recent inaccurate news stories. Mr. Noyes, who has just returned from London, is associate editor of the Washington Star and a cousin of Mrs. Simpson by marriage.)

BY NEWBOLD NOYES.
[World Copyright: 1936: By Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate.]

Women in low-backed gowns and men in white ties and tails . . . tall ceilings and polished floors . . . champagne and scotch and sodas . . . nobility and the haute monde . . . Edward and Wallis . . . Merry Christmas and New Year.

The group over in the corner of the ornate living room burbled with vivacity. It usually did when his royal highness, the prince of Wales, was in the center. Beautiful women vied with bon mots for a momentary glare in the spotlight and the prince was able to return quip for quip.

An "American Friend."

And a charming evening, what? . . . "most terrible drive down from Lunnon." . . . "Evening, Lady Duff-Gordon." . . . "Indeed it is. What else could a Christmas be . . ."

Guests mingled, bowed, walked on. "Sir, I want you to meet an American friend of mine. Mrs. Simpson, your highness. I am sure you two have much in common. . . ."

It was Christmas eve, 1931, at Melton Mowbray. Connie Thaw, who prefers to be known as Tamar in England, had brought her friend, Wallis Simpson, down for the holidays. A sister of those internationally famous Morgan twins, Lady Furness and Gloria Vanderbilt, the wife of Benjamin Thaw, had known the prince for several years. Lady Furness had been one of the prince's favorite dancing partners.

Deflates San Diego "Meeting."

Since the day when the American press first became aware that a new star was in the ascendancy on the royal horizon many stories have recounted the first meeting of Wallis Simpson and the man who has just told the whole world he loved her. It is true that Mrs. Simpson, then the wife of Lieut. Earl Winfield Spencer Jr., "met" the prince of Wales at San Diego when he was in America in 1920. As far as I have been able to discover, so did practically everybody else in the United States.

But the romance that transcends fiction's fondest dreams began that evening of Dec. 24, 1931, when the heir to the throne of the Windsors met "my American friend."

Many are the errors committed unwittingly by the American press during these exciting weeks when the love of a man was balanced against the crown of an empire. I shall attempt to correct a few of them.

Disclaims Historic Rôle.

First off, I was not the "gray haired, middle aged man" who accompanied Mrs. Simpson to France, no matter how hard one press service tried to leave that impression. It is with considerable pain that I admit the description fits. But, although I would have traded my right eye for the privilege of taking part in such a historic occasion, I remained in London that night and, to my chagrin, was unable to confirm her departure until the next day.

Wallis Simpson was not a "Cinderella." She has met her Prince Charming, but she never has had to sit by the fire and spin. At no stage in her life did she ever lack for the means and the background to make life very much worth while.

The yarn about that "two story home" in Baltimore, in which her mother rented rooms, isn't exactly correct, either. The reporters took off a story to make a story. It was a three story house and a very élite one in its day. Taking in boarders indicated a lack of ready cash at that time, but it caused very little loss in prestige for any family that had an established background. And Wallis' family had exactly that.

Father Alive at Birth.

Incidentally, her father did not die before she was born, as so many papers have stated. He died about four months after her birth.

I have seen in several newspapers since I returned from England a story that Wallis' mother, Mrs. Charles Gordon Allen of Washington, told a faithful nurse on her deathbed:

"It will be impossible for Wallis ever to have a child."

A "deathbed statement" is a rather hard thing to disprove. But the fact is that neither Wallis herself nor any member of her family ever heard her mother make any such statement or knows any justification for such a belief.

Favorite Color Matches Eyes.

"Her favorite colors are blue, jade amber, soft brown, flame, and the pink of rose quartz."

As a matter of fact, Wallis Simpson's favorite color is a light shade of violet, almost matching her eyes. Her stationery is that color. Her informal letterheads have "Wallis" reproduced in her own handwriting at an angle in the upper lefthand corner. Her more formal stationery also carried her address, 16 Cumberland terrace. What address it will carry after this, who can tell?

"Reaching King Edward directly is impossible."

I quote from a New York afternoon newspaper. The statement is not correct. I asked the king whom I should contact when I wanted to talk to him. He said:

"I will be my own press relations man."

Told to Use Private Switchboard.

He gave me the number of his private switchboard, and thereafter when I wanted to inform him of some new development, I could reach him as easily as you could reach the office of your newspaper.

"Mrs. Simpson has acquired purely British tastes."

Perhaps so. But she served popovers—real southern popovers—with roast pheasant in her home in London.

"Mrs. Simpson never was called 'Wally' back home."

Bosh! Although she never liked it, several of her closest friends used to refer to her as "Wally" and sometimes still do unless they're speaking to her.

Incidentally, when she was very young, she was called Bessie Wallis. This raises the interesting point that if the dice had fallen differently, England might have had another Queen Bess.

Doubts Press Interview.

"It is tiring to travel under these conditions. We literally had to flee from our hotel this morning. I need rest; plenty of rest."

Like dozens of other statements, this one was attributed by a press service to Mrs. Simpson on her trip through France from Dieppe to Cannes.

No doubt she was tired. No doubt she needed rest. But I can say on direct information that Mrs. Simpson made absolutely no statement on that journey. Knowing her dislike to be quoted, I view with grave suspicion any of the sensational statements she supposedly made to the press since she went to France, except for the one released by Lord Brownlow in which she disclosed her willingness to give up the king if necessary.

Cables for the Truth.

Scores of other inaccurate statements are being made from day to day. To refute a few of them, definitely and decisively, I sent this cablegram to Wallis today:

"Greatly appreciate cable immediately brief answers to following list. [Stop.] Personally sure most queries preposterous, but need specific corroboration in order to kill. [Stop.] Give answers by numbers. [Stop.] One, has bought home northern Africa. [Stop.] Two, negotiating purchase old Merryman house in Green Spring Valley. [Stop.] Three, offering personal by-line story romance. [Stop.] Four, going Austria meet King Christmas. [Stop.] Five, was forced prior leaving England to return large quantity jewels claimed as crown property. [Stop.] Six, divorce being pushed forward enabling marriage Feb. 1. [Stop.] Seven, can you give idea how long remain at Cannes."

Her answers should put some of these rumors to rest and may establish others.

If Mrs. Simpson cables a reply, and I think she will, you'll know the answers tomorrow.

Policeman Gets Night Off to Trim Yule Tree; Dies

John J. Morris, 42 years old, a patrolman assigned to the Austin police station, obtained the night off last night in order to trim a Christmas tree for his young daughter. As he was hanging some ornaments on the tree in his home at 4249 Monroe street, in the presence of the daughter, Mary Frances, and his wife, Alvina, he collapsed. Dr. Harold P. Sullivan, fire department physician, was summoned and pronounced him dead of heart disease.

He pleaded guilty to two charges of obtaining money under false pretenses and a charge of carrying a concealed revolver.

Sandspur, Choking Child, Is Removed from Throat

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 23.—(AP)—A specialist removed a sandspur today from the throat of 7-year-old Juanita Petty of Arbyrd, Mo., without the aid of an anesthetic. The girl seemed near choking to death when brought here. She swallowed the spur, resembling a cockle burr with long spikes, two days ago and had lost the use of her vocal chords. Her throat was swollen almost shut.

POLITE BURGLAR WAKES WOMAN; QUIETS HER FEAR

Says Merry Christmas; Praises Children.

A finger of light flickered across the face of Mrs. Beatrice D'Ambrosio, 32 years old, as she slept in her apartment at 2432 Blaine place early yesterday and she was awakened by the whispered words, "Merry Christmas."

Despite this reassuring greeting she became frigid with fear as she opened her eyes on a dark figure standing beside the bed in which she was lying with her daughter, Rosemary, 10 years old. It was the figure of a man and he held a flashlight in one hand and a small pistol in the other.

Tells Story to Police.

"He told me not to get excited, that he wasn't going to hurt me but was only after money," said Mrs. D'Ambrosio, recounting her experience later to police.

"He turned his light on Rosemary and complimented me on having such a pretty little girl, and then suggested that we go into the living room so we wouldn't wake her. He took $37 out of my purse, which was beside the bed.

"In the living room he saw a bottle of medicine on the arm of a chair and asked me why I hadn't told him some one in the family was ill. I told him it was our son, John, who was asleep in a rear bedroom, and he said, 'Why, I passed him just a moment ago and he certainly looked well and healthy.'

Wishes Her Merry Christmas.

"He wanted my wedding ring, but when I begged him not to take it he said I might keep it. Before he left he wished me a merry Christmas."

Mrs. D'Ambrosio's husband, John, president of the Illinois Terrazzo and Tile company, 53 West Hubbard street [Austin avenue], was away from home on a business trip to Mattoon, Ill. The prowler, Mrs. D'Ambrosio told police, was about 20 years old, slim with dark hair and swarthy skin.

Waukegan Grocer Learns the Ways of Tarantulas

Cedric Hansen, owner of a food store at 946 North avenue, Waukegan, found a large tarantula yesterday in a bunch of bananas and placed it in a milk bottle. Inspecting it some time later, he discovered that hundreds of tiny tarantulas had been hatched from eggs carried in a sac attached to the mother's body. A second inspection still later in the day disclosed that all of the little tarantulas were gone. The mother had devoured them.

Fall on Ice Is Fatal to Mishawaka, Ind., Woman

Mishawaka, Ind., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mary Troyer, 69, died here today of injuries received when she fell on ice near her home Sunday.

HE DRANK RYE EVERY MORNING BEFORE HIS BREAKFAST; DIES AT 110

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Now that Abraham Ginsberg is dead at 110, his recipe for longevity may be revealed. He always said he lived so long and stayed so healthy because he drank a glass of rye whisky every morning before breakfast, ate four meals a day and never worried about anything.

So effective was his method that he never had a day's illness in his life until he suffered a heart attack last Sunday. His mind remained as clear as ever even then, his spirits as high, and he chatted cheerfully until a few hours before he died last night in the Brooklyn Hebrew hospital and Home for the Aged.

Mr. Ginsberg had lived at the home thirteen years and the other old men and women were planning a celebration for him as the oldest guest. Instead, they attended funeral services for him in the home this morning.

SECRETARY HULL CALLS ON WORLD TO DESTROY WAR

Inter-American Parley on Peace Closes.

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull declared, "We must destroy war or war will destroy us," in a plea for peace read for him as the inter-American peace conference came to a close here today.

Challenging the rest of the world to follow the parley's example of cooperation in charting a course for peace, the chief of the United States delegation denounced militaristic policies which he said "unfortunately prevail in many parts of the world."

"Instruments of destruction which have been invented," he said, "are so devastating in their effects that compromise is no longer possible. "Glory is not achieved by the march of armies and the death of men. The real patriots and the real heroes of the future will be the leaders who find and follow the road to peace."

Urges Nations to Forgive.

The time has come, he said, "for every nation of the world to take inventory and to examine its own purposes and policies. Like individuals, nations must learn to forgive and forget the injuries done them by fellow nations."

Assistant Secretary of State Sumner Welles read the message for Hull, who decided not to speak because of hoarseness from a cold.

The historic parley ended three weeks and a day after President Roosevelt, addressing the opening session, pictured the 21 American republics standing "shoulder to shoulder" against aggression from abroad and determined to prevent conflicts within the new world.

Lay Groundwork for Peace.

In their labors the delegates put his proposals into specific form. They laid the groundwork for consultation among the American republics if war threatens the new world from within or without and for peaceful settlement of American disputes.

The delegates tonight were preparing to leave for home. Secretary Hull and most of the other United States representatives will sail aboard the liner Southern Cross Saturday after having Christmas dinner at the United States embassy.

The address of Hull was the high-spot of the final session.

War "Crime of Man."

"War," he said, "is not an act of God but a crime of man. We conceive modern civilization to be incompatible with war.

"I don't believe peoples will passively accept the conclusion that because men since time immemorial have died on battlefields they have no choice but to continue to die on battlefields in the future."

The accomplishments of the parley, he declared, are "not mere aspirations and pious hopes but have practical meaning and vital force," which should provide a lesson to the whole world.

As an example of his assertion that a new pan-American spirit of mutual confidence and friendly understanding has grown up, Hull cited the fact that, "for the first time in the history of inter-American conferences, projects of fundamental import have been presented by the unanimous action of all delegations."

National Security Safeguarded.

Reviewing the general effect of pledges under the conference-approved consultative and neutrality pacts, the United States secretary asserted they provide assurance that in the event of any future threat of outside aggression "the national security of each American republic will become the common interest of all."

Emphasizing his often expressed conviction that trade rivalries are the most prolific seeds of war, Hull declared:

"The twenty-one republics could have taken no more significant step in promoting regional and world peace than by making their unanimous, unequivocal declaration of equality of commercial treatment and lowering the barriers obstructing trade."

Vital Peace Points.

Reiterating President Roosevelt's declaration that "democracy is still the hope of the world," Hull emphasized these points as vital for peace:

1. Necessity of mobilization of public opinion in solution of all controversies.

2. Common interest in defense of peace on this continent.

3. Maintenance of the fundamental principles of international law upon which stability and international order are dependent.

"If history shows that wars have been frequent," he said, "it also shows that enlightened statesmanship could have prevented them.

"Free peoples of the world have the right to reject the theory that war is natural and inevitable. They are no longer thrilled by the panoply of the militarist, no longer carried away by the hysteria and propaganda for war.

"Those who sit in the masters' seats and shape the destinies of other men are under the most imperative of mandates to leave no course which may avoid war unexplored."

Monroe Doctrine Hit.

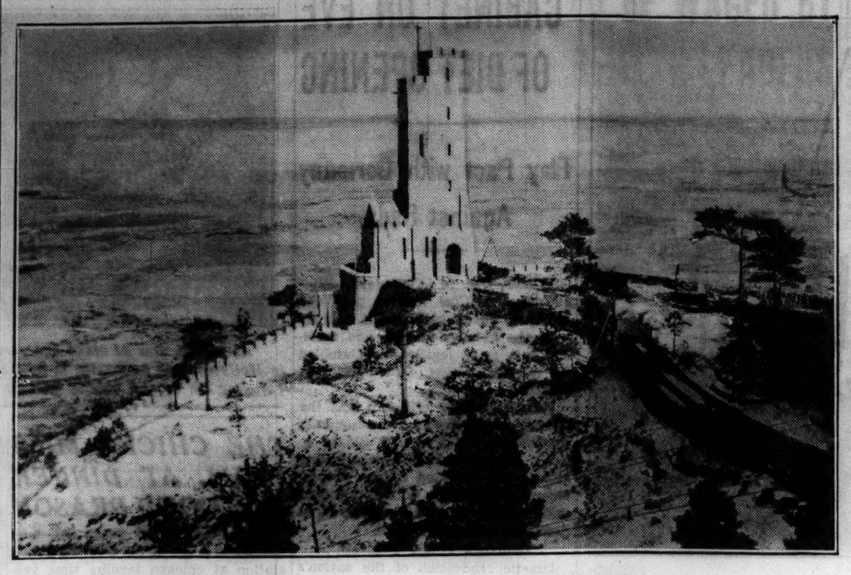
Carlos Saavedra Lamas, president of the conference and Argentine foreign minister, in his closing address expressed the hope that President Roosevelt's "good neighbor" policy would become a permanent guide to North American relations with other nations in the western hemisphere.

The Monroe doctrine, he said, is "a matter worthy of serene meditation," adding that it "is a theme which has peeped into pan-American conferences, but which I believe should be confronted definitly. It would be convenient that it be debated once and for all by the Lima conference [in 1938], inasmuch as reiterated declarations of Presidents of the United States have well defined its character as unilateral policy.

"That character doesn't conciliate itself with contractual accords, which, as is to be supposed, are only conceivable in equality of rights and reciprocal obligations; it is not conceivable they can be realized without the complete finish of its [Monroe doctrine's] unilateral policy."

Among proposals laid over for consideration at the Lima conference were those for creation of an American league of nations and an American court of justice.

WILL ROGERS SHRINE NEARING COMPLETION



The beautiful Shrine of the Sun, built in memory of the late Will Rogers, humorist and actor, as it appears nearing completion on promontory 2,000 feet above Colorado Springs, Colo. It will be dedicated next summer. The memorial was conceived and financed by Spencer Pemrose of Colorado Springs, friend of Rogers. The humorist and Wiley Post, aviator, were killed nearly two years ago in Alaskan plane crash.

COMB KENTUCKY HILLS FOR 17 YEAR OLD GIRL AND ALLEGED KIDNAPER

Pineville, Ky., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The hunt for A. G. Cawood, a coal mine operator, and Vivian Lee, 17 year old youth administration worker whom he is accused of abducting, centered in the Kentucky mountains tonight after a telegram signed "Vivian" informed her father she had "left home."

The telegram came from Williamsburg, Ky., in adjoining Whitley county, County Attorney Walter B. Smith announced. He said it chided Lee for saying she had been "kidnaped."

Cawood, a married man, is alleged to have fled with the pretty former University of Kentucky co-ed following a party last Friday night.

CUBAN PRESIDENT OUSTED; SENATE BACKS MILITARY

Gomez Plans Flight to U. S. Exile.

lated the constitution by exerting coercion on congress to defeat the sugar tax measure. His request was refused. He then asked to go on the senate record as declaring:

"This is not a fair trial. It is criminal. It is a civil coup d'etat against Gomez and the civil sovereignty to establish Fascism and a military dictatorship. It has been decreed by Batista and supported by President Roosevelt and Caffery [Jefferson Caffery, American ambassador]."

Reads Gomez Defense.

Next Senator Gutierrez read Gomez' own defense. Gomez warned congress of its grave responsibility in choosing between democracy and Fascism. He had tried to the last minute to maintain democratic principles, uninvaded by the military boot, he said.

"In reality," he said, "there is nothing that I can properly do but appeal to the conscience of each one who may be a worthy man to refute them.

"In the depths of my soul I hope, not for the personal advantage of retaining the post to which the people elected me, but for the triumph of the principles of civility and the democracy I have tried to maintain, that the sinister plot shall not triumph."

"High Reasons of State."

Prosecutor Felipe Jay hinted at "high reasons of state" behind the impeachment charges against Gomez, but he did not develop this theme.

The formal charges, read by Guillermo Alonzo Pujol, secretary of the senate, besides accusing Gomez of attempting to use force on congress, declared that he dismissed public employés without proven charges, violated preëlectoral pacts which made his election possible, embezzled at least $2,000,000, committed high treason by seeking support of President Roosevelt, and flouted the will of the Cuban people in vetoing the sugar tax bill.

The revenues of the sugar tax bill, estimated at about $1,500,000 annually, were to go to the army-taught rural schools throughout the country, and this was one of the things which Gomez said he feared would lead to the development of Fascism. He insisted that education belonged to the civil department of the government.

Bru Fought in 1898.

Bru, who is expected to be installed to replace Gomez later, is 61 years old. He was a colonel in Cuba's war of independence back in 1808. He was secretary of the interior in 1910 in the cabinet of the late President José Miguel Gomez. He had a revolt against President Alfredo Zayas in 1924.

He then retired from politics until Aug. 12, 1933, when he was appointed secretary of interior in the government of President Carlos Manuel de Cespedes. He wrote Cuba's new penal code, which became effective last summer.

HERE'S HOW CUBAN PRESIDENTS HAVE COME AND GONE SINCE 1933

HAVANA, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Here's the story of Cuba's other presidents in the hectic three and one half years preceding the impeachment trial of President Miguel Mariano Gomez today:

Gerardo Machado, forced from office in August, 1933, by a revolution after having served over eight years. Now a fugitive.

Alberto Herrera served for a few hours on Aug. 12—the day Machado fell. Now a fugitive.

Carlos Manuel de Cespedes served 22 days after he succeeded Herrera, forced out of office by a coup d'état led by Sergt. Fulgencio Batista, who then became head of the army.

Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin took office Sept. 10, 1933, and served about four months. Forced to resign when he lost the support of the army. Now in self exile in Miami, Fla.

Carlos Hevia served for 33 hours after Grau. He was forced out because he lacked support of the army. Now in self exile in the United States.

Manuel Marquez Sterling, as secretary of state, served for a few hours after Hevia, while arrangements were being made to select a provisional president. He became ambassador to Washington and died while serving in that post.

Carlos Mendieta succeeded Marquez Sterling and served almost two years. He resigned of his own free will because his policies were not accepted by large groups of the people. Now a "gentleman farmer" near Havana and is friendly with the army.

José A. Barnet succeeded Mendieta and served for nearly six months until President Gomez took office May 20, 1936. He resides in Havana.

Youth, 19, Seized in Stolen Auto, Is Named as Robber

Harold Goltz, 19 years old, 4744 Addison street, was identified yesterday at the Cragin police station by Roy W. Hansen, 1638 North Menard avenue, as one of three youths who forced him out of his automobile Tuesday night at Neva and Grand avenues and drove off with the car. Police said Goltz admitted stealing the car, in which he was arrested by Oak Park police, and confessed it had been used by the trio in two robberies. He named his two companions who are being sought.

NEUTRALITY PACT FIGHT IMPENDS FOR ROOSEVELT

Foes See New Backdoor Link to League.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt will have a fight on his hands early in the next session of congress when he sends the Pan-American consultative neutrality convention, recently approved at Buenos Aires, to the senate for ratification.

The senate isolationists who administered Mr. Roosevelt's defeat on the world court protocol in 1935 detect in the new inter-American convention another backdoor move to force coöperation by the United States with the league of nations.

The neutrality pact, proposed by Secretary of State Cordell Hull at the Buenos Aires peace conference and jointly sponsored by the twenty-one American republics, provides for consultations to determine a collective policy if the existence of war any where in the world threatens the peace of the western hemisphere.

The difficulty with this arrangement, as the senate opponents of the league of nations view it, is that a majority of the Latin-American republics are members of the league and their obligations under the league covenant are expressly excluded from the obligations imposed by the consultative pact.

Lewis Opposes Treaty.

"The commitments to the league of nations are paramount and they will render nugatory the neutrality convention," said one irreconcilable foe of the league who would not permit his name to be used pending further study of the pact: "Secretary Hull will have a difficult job saving his face."

Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, who opposed the President on the world court issue, was outspoken in his opposition to the Buenos Aires treaty, and other senate isolationists, such as William E. Borah of Idaho and Hiram Johnson of California, are known to hold similar views.

Senator Lewis recalled that he led the fight in the senate against a European consultative pact proposal put forward at the London economic conference in 1933 by Norman H. Davis, President Roosevelt's unofficial ambassador at large. His position at that time was that the proposed agreement, calling for consultations before reaching a decision in any dispute would permit the European nations to place responsibility for the decision upon the United States. The proposal met such vigorous opposition in the senate that President Roosevelt shied away from it and nothing ever came of it.

Charges European Influence.

"I have observed," said Senator Lewis, "that the move among certain statesmen in South America is on the same basis and apparently incited by the same European statesmen who made the former suggestion.

"South America would break up the present good neighbor policy of the President if it attempted to bring us in as a world court and league of nations neighbor. Our relations with South America must remain, as I have stated in the senate, for a contingent that shall be wholly an American continent."

Senator Lewis asserted that the South American republics were influenced by European nations according to their dominant populations, Chile by Spain, Argentina by Italy, Brazil by Portugal, which is in turn under British influence, etc. He suspects also that our South American neighbors would be influenced in any controversy involving relations with the United States by the large foreign debt they owe in Europe and by the heavy commercial credits extended to them by European industry.

Cites War Support Pledge.

Other senate opponents of any entangling alliances which might involve the United States in the wars of Europe, pointed out that, under the league of nations covenant, a majority of the South American countries are pledged not only to cooperate in the application of commercial sanctions but actually to supply arms and men against any warring nation voted by the league to be the aggressor.

If Germany should go to war with Russia, and should be declared by the league of nations to the the aggressor, the first duty of the South American league members would be to participate in joint action against Germany, the senate foreign relations experts pointed out.

Even though the hypothetical war between Germany and Russia might threaten the peace of the world, including that of the western hemisphere, one senator asserted, the league commitments of the South American countries would have precedence over the consultative neutrality agreement and make negative any suggestion of a collective neutrality policy.

Foresee Pressure on U. S.

Undoubtedly, it was said, the league members would exert great pressure upon the United States during the consultations provided for by the Buenos Aires treaty to adopt a policy dictated by the league of nations.

Even if the United States coöperated only to the extent of withholding shipments of munitions of war and raw materials, this action might drag her into the conflict, some senators believe. When the administration was seeking to coöperate with the league in applying sanctions against Italy and threatened to embargo shipments of oil, Mussolini declared that he would regard it as an unfriendly act. Italy needed oil, whereas Ethiopia did not, and Mussolini was ready to construe the threatened oil embargo as an act of discrimination between belligerents.

HOLD MASS FUNERAL FOR 39 MINERS KILLED IN MEXICAN EXPLOSION

Eagle Pass, Tex., Dec. 23.—(AP)—A mass funeral was held today for 39 miners, killed by an explosion which shattered a coal mine at Nueyo Rosita, Mexico, and injured 35 other miners.

Investigators said all workers had been removed from the débris-strewn mine No. 6 of the Rosita Coal company. No Americans were killed or injured.

Seven hundred miners were underground yesterday when the explosion, believed caused by deadly "black damp," tumbled rock and broken timber into the shaft. The demolished shaft delayed rescuers. Officials said carbon monoxide gas killed most of the men as they struggled to reach the surface through an air shaft.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

By CALEB

TOMORROW is Christmas—a good Christmas for the world, we hope! Though it will be a sad Christmas for large segments of the population in some unfortunate countries. Meanwhile, with Christmas wishes and greetings we can more than hope.

We wish our customers a Happy and a Merry Christmas. We wish them a holiday season made cheerier and better by the things they are giving and will receive which came from our store. We wish our friends who are not our customers a Merry Christmas.

We wish all our employes whose loyalty and good efforts we fully appreciate, a Merry Christmas—and a New Year filled with progress and accomplishment.

We wish the manufacturers and the inventors and all the weavers and the spinners and the craftsmen who have fashioned goods for us over all this broad country, a Merry Christmas.

In far-off Europe and the Orient, in England and in Ireland—we wish those who are working for us and those with whom we transact much business through the year—a Merry Christmas.

We wish a Merry Christmas for those men of all nationalities who piloted big ships through all the seas to bring things here for our holiday trade And the crews of trains, and the drivers of trucks—we wish them, too, a Merry Christmas.

To the telephone girls and the linemen and others who keep our communication system intact through the year, we wish a Happy Yuletide. To employes of the city and the county and the state and to the thousands untold of federal employes we wish a Merry Christmas.

To executives of great businesses who have difficult courses to steer—and to executives of little businesses whose problems loom large, we wish a Happy Holiday and a respite from their cares. To the workers in all businesses large and small who are striving upward, we wish a Merry Christmas and an ever better year ahead.

To firemen and policemen and postmen in this difficult season for them all, a special Merry Christmas! To all those persons who are harried and worried and distressed and in doubt—safe anchorage and a good new year! And to Chicago as a whole—our own city and its citizens—a good and happy holiday!

RED INFLUENCE GAINS IN CHINESE REBEL CAPITAL

Three Day Truce Granted to Hold Parley.

NANKING, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Chinese government was confronted tonight with alarming reports that Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang's rebellion in the northwest is gaining strength rapidly and assuming an increasingly communist aspect.

Hopes for the early release of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, captive of the rebels at Sianfu since Dec. 12, and suppression of the Shensi province uprising grew fainter.

The generalissimo's wife, and her brother, T. V. Soong, arrived at Sianfu yesterday by airplane to treat directly with the insurgents for the Nanking leader's freedom.

Dr. Soong telegraphed urging suspension of the government's punitive expedition against Sianfu. Government leaders decreed a three day truce, to end Christmas day. This was the third truce granted, totaling eight days.

Rebel Forces Increase.

Reports from several sources generally agreed the rebel forces in Shensi were steadily gaining in numbers. The total was expected shortly to reach 150,000, with several of Marshal Chang's units hitherto in Kansu and Ninghsia, provinces west and northwest of Shensi, on the march to join their comrades at Sianfu. Military advices from Loyang report that the rebels are digging trenches and planting mines in the vicinity of Weinan, 45 miles west of Sianfu.

Moreover leaders of communist groups hitherto concentrated in northern Shensi and Kansu were reported in Sianfu, figuring prominently in the insurgent councils. Marshal Chang himself was reported to have flown to Fushih, in Red territory 200 miles north of Sianfu, to meet Chinese communist leaders. He was said to have brought back at least one of them to confront Mme. Chiang, Dr. Soong, and W. H. Donald, adviser to Chiang.

Report Aviators Safe.

Two American aviators were reported safe at Sianfu although prevented from leaving. They were Edward Weingart of Erie, Pa., an employé of the Nanking government who happened to be in Sianfu at the time of the uprising, and Royal Leonard of Glendale, Cal., in the employ of Marshal Chang.

News of their safety was brought here by Julius Barr, formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa., and director of the Hankow airport.

One foreigner was shot and killed by Chinese soldiers in the early days of the Sianfu revolt, according to word received here. The name of the slain man [said to be of German ancestry] was not revealed. The victim, standing in the street before his home, was ordered inside. He apparently did not understand and failed to comply promptly. He was shot five times with a rifle. Sporadic firing and looting were still going on in the streets of Sianfu Monday.

Trouble in another section was reported today. Changhwa, Chekiang province, sixty-five miles west of Hangchow, has been captured and looted by communists, who made a raid from the mountains of western Chekiang. The magistrate's offices and Kuomintang headquarters were ruined and several leading officials were slain. Government troops have been ordered to the area.

Japanese Execute "Rebel."

Kweisui, Suiyan province, China, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Gen. Wang Yin, a leader of the Chahar province guerillas who joined Mongol forces in the recent attempt to invade Suiyan province, was executed Dec. 21 under orders of Japanese military officers, said Chinese reports today from Chapser in Chahar province.

The Japanese, according to these reports, held Gen. Wang responsible for mutinies among the Chahar irregulars early in December after failure of the attempted invasion. Chinese troops defending Suiyan drove the invaders back across the frontier.

FRANK HAWKS FLIES 311 MILES AN HOUR; PREDICTS 375 SPEED

East Hartford, Conn., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Frank Hawks, noted speed pilot, attained an indicated speed of 311 miles an hour today with his new 1,000 horse power plane, "Time Flies," in tests over Rentschler field.

"I know the plane will perform as wind tunnel tests indicated," Hawks said after the tests. "She is the smoothest ship I have ever piloted and should have no difficulty in attaining 375 miles an hour."

The pilot said his highest speed with the twin Wasp powered ship was attained at 8,000 feet while he was using only 65 per cent of the available horse power.

He pointed out that his retractible cockpit, providing complete fuselage streamlining, added 25 miles an hour to the plane's performance.

Further tests will be made soon, Hawks said, in asserting he would attempt to establish a new world speed record for land planes as soon as conditions are suitable.

NEW ARMORED AIR BOMBER IS GIVEN ARMY O. K.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—The first of a fleet of twin motored, armor plated ten passenger bombers designed for substratosphere flying rolled off North American Aviation, Inc., runways today and was sent into the air on its maiden voyage at Los Angeles Municipal airport.

Powered with 1,250 horsepower Wasp motors and fashioned of multiplated armor, the craft spun through a series of rigorous tests under the eye of United States army experts.

By late afternoon it was declared qualified by military air corps observers. The ponderous "Dragon" bomber was flown by Lieutenant Commander D. W. [Tommy] Tomlinson, whom the army borrowed from TWA for the flight.

Huge reserves of gasoline are carried in its midwing. Its cabin and crew compartments for ten men are sealed for flying at 30,000 feet altitude.

At Dayton, O., next March the North American bomber will enter competition with other American made warcraft. At that time the army's 1937 aerial equipment will be chosen.

RAIL BUSINESS BOOMS; REVIVE TERMINAL PLAN

Extra Trains Carry Holiday Trafic.

proved service. This terminal problem is going to become more and more serious as the railroad trafic grows.

"Jesse Jones of the RFC has said loans could be had by the railroads for improvement of terminal facilities. This is the propitious time for the city to get together with the railroad men and get busy. Chicago is second city in the United States, but terminal facilities in smaller cities like Cleveland, Buffalo, and Cincinnati, which don't do one-tenth the business Chicago does, make us look like a piker town."

Idea of Plan Commission.

The consolidated proposal follows a plan presented four years ago by the Chicago Plan commission through its head, James Simpson. It proposes abandonment of the Grand Central station at Harrison and Wells streets, the LaSalle street station on Van Buren street, the Dearborn station at Polk street, and the present Illinois Central terminal at Roosevelt road.

The 17 railroads now running into these stations and one other line, the Alton, would be rerouted into the new Randolph station to be built on land owned by the Illinois Central.

When completed, the project would concentrate all of Chicago trunk lines into three modern terminals, the present North Western and the Union stations, both west of the river, and the new structure at Randolph street. Engineer Noonan has estimated that the building of the new station and the removal of tracks would cost $19,000,000 and that an annual saving of $3,000,000 in operating expense would result.

MOSCOW GRANTS YEAR EXTENSION OF FISHING RIGHTS TO JAPANESE

MOSCOW, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Communist Russia granted a one year extension of valuable Siberian fishing rights to Japan today, but indicated the grant was only a temporary expedient to lessen irritations between the two nations created by the Japanese-German anti-communist accord.

Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu had worked for weeks to obtain renewal of the concession. Originally the renewal was to have been for eight years, beginning in 1937, but the soviet government ended negotiations Nov. 9.

Announcement of the Japanese-German front to combat communism aroused Russia to vigorous criticism, and subsequently it was indicated the fishing grant would be withheld. Suddenly today, however, officials of the soviet foreign office approved the one year extension. Details of the new convention still are to be completed, the foreign office said.

CHICAGO YOUTH TO SPEND YULE IN 'IRON LUNG'

PEIPING, China, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Nine months in an "iron lung" will not prevent Frederick Snite Jr., 26 year old Chicagoan, from celebrating Christmas.

From his bed in Peiping Union Medical College hospital, where he has lain since he was stricken with infantile paralysis late in March, Snite has made known his desires that the ten Chinese nurses and the doctors who have ministered to him shall be remembered. His wealthy parents, who have been with him constantly since he was stricken, are carrying out his desires.

Snite, accompanied by his parents, was on a trip around the world when he fell ill in Peiping. Helpless from the neck down, he was unable to breathe without artificial aid. Dr. Claude E. Forkner, Johns Hopkins university graduate, devised a respirator to force air in and out of the patient's lungs. Without it he would have died quickly, doctors said.

FOES ATTACK JAP CABINET ON EVE OF DIET OPENING

Flay Pact with Germany Against Reds.

TOKIO, Dec. 24 [Thursday].—(AP)—Japanese political leaders predicted today a bitter parliamentary fight over the nation's foreign and financial policies as legislators assembled for the convocation of the seventieth session of the diet.

Focal point for criticism was the German-Japanese anti-communist agreement, which caused Russia to delay extension of Siberian fishing rights, and asserted failure of prolonged negotiations with China over anti-Japanese demonstrations in Shanghai and other cities.

Demands Policy Reforms.

Drastic renovation of the nation's policies both at home and abroad is imperative, Dr. Kisaburo Susuki, president of the powerful Seiyukai [opposition] party, said before today's session of the diet convened.

"The government committed undeniable diplomatic blunders abroad and produced an enormous military budget at home, which not only imposed a heavy burden on the toiling masses but cast a thick gloom over future finances and economy," he said.

"We are especially opposed to the government's proposal for institution of a semi-military system, which we believe adds political and economic pressure against the masses."

Criticizes Army Meddling.

Seigo Nakano, leader of the Tohokai party, asserted that "we aim squarely at overthrowing the present cabinet by rigorously denouncing it for its errors, both at home and abroad, together with serious failures in dealing with soviet Russia and China."

Susuki criticized the army for asserted attempts to control government activity and asserted all government measures should be decided by public opinion "not the army."

Kenzo Adachi, head of the Kokumin Domei party, declared the three months' negotiations with China succeeded only in increasing anti-Japanese agitation and led China to despise Japan.

JAIL WOMAN WHO SHOT PILOT IN FRENCH PLANE

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Accused of attempted murder in an airplane, pretty Mme. Marie Schemeder spent tonight in the Holloway women's jail after nearly fainting when she was ordered held for a week pending extradition to France.

It was expected she would be taken back to that country next week in connection with the shooting of Pierre L'Allemant, aviator-engineer, who owned with her the plane in which she cracked up in Sussex Sunday. L'Allemant was shot while piloting the plane in which he was flying with the chic 32 year old woman, wife of a rich manufacturer. He brought the plane down at Villacoublay airdrome and crawled out. Then she took off again and flew over the English channel, crashing near Selsey.

The heavily rouged woman trembled as the charge of attempted murder "within the jurisdiction of the French government" was mentioned in court, and a police officer held her arm while she used smelling salts. She was carried out of the courtroom.

THE CHICKS MISS PAUL AT DINNER FOR GOOD REASON

Paul Pusateri, 43 years old, was resting in a cell at the Deering police station at chicken feeding time yesterday facing charges of assault with a deadly weapon and of possessing a revolver from which the serial numbers had been removed.

The incarceration and the charges resulted when Pusateri ungraciously fired four shots at firemen who were extinguishing a blaze in his chicken coop in the garage at the rear of his home, 2912 Wallace street, early yesterday morning. On several occasions chickens had been stolen, so Pusateri had rigged up a burglar alarm which would sound beneath his bed if prowlers tampered with his garage.

When the firemen, summoned by a passerby, started to put out the fire, they set off the alarm. Pusateri sprang out of bed and fired the shots, one of which grazed the neck of Fireman William Hogan, 6443 South Troy street, of insurance patrol No. 3. Pusateri will be arraigned today in the South State street court. Meanwhile friends were trying to raise bond money for his release.

1. Every week-day until further notice a new, unfinished Limerick of four lines will appear in the Daily Tribune. Two cash prizes of $100.00 each will be paid each day for the best last lines submitted.
2. You may write your last line on a postcard, any sheet of paper, or on the coupon. Send as many last lines as you wish.
3. Mail your answers to "Limericks," Chicago Tribune, Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois. Mark the number of the Limerick on the outside of the envelope. All answers must be in not later than 6 p. m. three days following the publication of the unfinished Limerick. Prize winners will be announced one week after publication. For example, the winners of today's Limerick will be published one week from today.
4. This offer is open to everyone except employes of the Chicago Tribune and their families. It costs you nothing.
5. Limericks will be judged by a committee appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Originality, cleverness and neatness will count. Contestants agree to accept the judges' decision as final. In case of ties duplicate awards will be paid.

STRIKERS ACCEPT PEACE TERMS IN KEY AUTO PLANT

Kelsey-Hayes Men Win 75 Cent Wage.

Detroit, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Union employés who have been conducting a "sit down" strike in the two plants of the Kelsey-Hayes company here voted tonight to accept the company's proposals to return to work.

Within a few minutes this action was ratified by members of the United Automobile Workers of America. U. A. W. A. members were unanimous in their approval. Work is to be resumed Monday.

The Kelsey-Hayes company is a vital parts manufacturer for the automobile industry and the fourteen day strike has severely hampered production schedules and contributed to the layoff of thousands of employés.

Agree to 75 Cent Pay.

The agreement, signed this afternoon by the company and submitted to vote of the strikers, provided that workers in the plant shall be paid wages of 75 cents an hour immediately, that there shall be no discrimination against union men, and that adjustments shall be made on scales over 75 cents, provided the men leave the plant. The same proposals were to apply to the Windsor, Ont., plant, with the exception of the adjustment feature. The men began leaving the factory building as soon as they were notified tonight.

Five thousand workers were directly affected in the Kelsey-Hayes plants. Attempts at an understanding approached a climax yesterday when the Ford Motor company, which has been hard hit by the strike, took legal steps to remove dies from the scene of the sit-down.

According to Harry Bennett, head of the Ford service department, Ford is now beginning to make the brake drums for which the company has been dependent on the Kelsey-Hayes company.

Aluminum Strike Ends.

Neither side made any official move today in the dispute between the union and General Motors corporation. G. M. officials late yesterday answered a request by the union for a conference on grievances by referring the union men to the plant managers. A new demand was being prepared today by Homer Martin, president of the automobile workers.

At the same time today officials of the union announced that 600 striking employés of the Aluminum Company of America, idle for 14 days, had accepted terms of settlement arranged by federal labor conciliators and would return to work "as soon as shifts can be arranged and when business conditions permit."

The management of the Aluminum company's branch factory, which manufactures automobile parts, agreed to adjust pay rates and to return the strikers to work without discrimination.

Glass Strikers Stand Pat.

Toledo, O., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Glen W. McCabe, president of the Federation of Flat Glass Workers, came to Toledo today to confer with the local union regarding the strike at the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company plants here and in Charleston, W. Va.; Ottawa, Ill., and Shreveport, La.

"The next move is up to the company," McCabe said. He added that there was no change in the situation and left a short time later for Detroit for a conference with Homer Martin of the U. A. W. A.

McCabe said that the company must pay the strikers of the Ottawa plant the bonus they would have received if they had not been on strike before the union will discuss the situation at Charleston. It is believed here that the company and union each is waiting for the other to call the next conference.

RELIEF WORKERS SIT IN STATIONS TO PROTEST QUIZ

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Thousands of emergency relief bureau employés, somewhat hollow eyed, went back to work today after an all night sit-in strike in protest against an order requiring them to take a competitive examination for civil service rating.

The Association of Workers in Public Relief Agencies, which conducted the strike, said demonstrations were held in forty-six of the city's forty-eight ERB precincts and that 8,000 employés took part.

The official police report stated that workers remained in only twenty-one stations. The police estimated the number at fewer than 4,000. There was no effort made by police to prevent the coming and going of the demonstrators; no attempt to prevent food and coffee being brought to them, and no move made to lock restrooms, which also was done in WPA demonstrations.

Montreal Decrees Ban on Dancing Christmas Day

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 23.—No dancing will be permitted in Montreal on Christmas day. Police have strict instructions to prevent dancing in all cabarets and hotels from midnight tomorrow until 1:30 a. m., Christmas day, the period during which mass will be celebrated in the Roman Catholic churches here.

COOK COUNTY OLD AGE ASSISTANCE AVERAGES $19.35

Report Shows a Wide Variance in Cost.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—November payments of old age assistance in Illinois averaged $14.80, it was announced today by A. L. Bowen, director of the department of public welfare. The average for Cook county was $19.35, the average for downstate was $13.66. The average payment in April was $11.99. Average payments have been increasing slowly since then until they have reached the present level of $14.80.

The average for 38 states in the month of September was $18.67. These awards range from $3.58 in Mississippi to $31.50 in California.

"The table of average awards by counties bears out the warnings of a year ago that it will be impossible to secure any sort of uniformity of administration under the system now in vogue," Director Bowen said.

Washington County Is Low.

"The highest average award in November was $19.35 in Cook county; the lowest was $9.59 in Washington county. There are three or four counties that are paying between $1.00 and $11.00. The awards range between $9.59 of Washington county and the $19.35 of Cook county.

"The number of recipients in November were 77,433. The percentage of administrative costs to the total expenditures averaged for the state 7.4."

W. A. Meteer Jr., statistician for the division of old age assistance, predicts that this operating ratio can be brought to less than 4 per cent by May, 1937. The 7.4 ratio of November was very much less than the ratio of six months ago.

Large Overhead Variance.

"Here, again," said Director Bowen, "the lack of uniformity among the counties is displayed. In Boone county the percentage of administrative costs to total expenditures was 1.1. The percentage runs from this low to 9.4 in Jo Daviess county. While there might be natural causes for slight variation in this ratio, natural causes cannot explain such radical differences among the counties."

The number of employés on Dec. 1, carried on the county rolls, was 788, of whom 379 were downstate and 409 were in Cook county. This number does not include the employé in the general office in Springfield.

On December 1, applications pending for the whole state totalled 44,940, of which 24,885 were in Cook county. Out of this total of 44,940, about 10,000 were reported as partially completed and the remaining 35,000 were reported as not having been investigated. Of these, 10,000 were downstate, the remaining 25,000 being in Cook county.

140,291 ON RELIEF IN STATE; 4,000 ADDED IN MONTH

The Illinois Emergency Relief commission reported yesterday that the number of November relief cases was 140,291, a jump of almost 4,000 above the October figure of 136,657.

Unemployable persons comprised 66,243 of the November figure, a slight rise above the 64,654 so registered in October. Cook county has 74,774 relief cases, slightly more than half the state's total, and 68,899 of them are in Chicago, of which 39,836 are unemployables. In October there was a total of 64,065 on relief in the city, of which 36,020 were unemployables.

FREED AFTER SUICIDE ATTEMPT.

Mrs. Aubrey Heise, 38 years old, of Niles Center, who attempted to end her life by swallowing poison on Dec. 9, was freed of a charge of disorderly conduct yesterday by Judge Joseph E. Hermes in Women's court.

BROTHER AND SISTER PERISH IN SAILBOAT MISHAP; 2 ARE SAVED

Santa Monica, Cal., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Two girls and a young man were rescued today from an overturned sailing craft to which they had clung all night. One of the girls died shortly afterward and a fourth member of the party presumably drowned when he swam away to seek aid.

The survivors were picked up about daybreak by a Japanese fishing boat. Soon after being taken aboard, Helen Briggs, 18 years old, of Brentwood Heights, a Los Angeles suburb, died from shock and exposure.

The young man believed drowned in a brave attempt to save his companions was Helen's brother, Robert Briggs, owner of the eighteen foot sailing boat Laguna, in which they had gone sailing yesterday. Life guards searched the shore waters unsuccessfully for the body.

Betty Powell, 18, of Los Angeles, and Stanley Bliss, 21, of Brentwood Heights, were taken to a hospital suffering from cold and exposure. Miss Powell told of Briggs' attempt to swim ashore after the boat capsized off Playa Del Rey, south of here, in a violent squall.

INDEX FILES ON LINDBERGH CASE FOR THE FUTURE

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 23.—(AP)—New Jersey state police are indexing the Lindbergh kidnap-murder case files so future generations, as well as the present one, can check on the perennial "hot tips."

Col. Mark O. Kimberling, state police superintendent, said the survey of the thousands of reports, being made by a special investigator, had revealed nothing waranting reopening of the case and he knew of new clues that forecast immediate developments.

Kimberling revealed that Leon Hoage, New York investigator, has been cross indexing every name and every angle of the case for five months.

"We're going to have this case with us a long time," Kimberling said." Queries come in and we have to check them. I want the files in such condition that I can put my finger on any matter in a minute's notice. My successors should be able to do the same."

MEDICAL SOCIETY OFFERS REWARD TO HALT HOLDUPS

Dr. Thomas P. Foley, president of the Chicago Medical society, announced yesterday that the society will offer a $50 reward for arrests and convictions in robberies and thefts against physicians in 1937. The offer, Dr. Foley said, is an outgrowth of the murder last Jan. 2 of Dr. Silber C. Peacock, whose four slayers have been convicted and imprisoned, and the continued holdups of medical men. Holdups and thefts involving Chicago doctors have averaged about five a month, Dr. Foley said.

Orders Vote on Transport Collective Bargaining Agent

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The national labor relations board today ordered a secret ballot by employés of the Motor Transport company, Milwaukee, Wis., within the next twenty days, to determine which of two organizations shall represent them in collective bargaining with their employer. The organizations are the Union of Public Utility Employés and the General Chauffeurs, Teamsters, and Helpers' union, No. 200.

WAR ON SYPHILIS TO BE WAGED BY HEALTH LEADERS

Washington Conference Opens Monday.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—The first mobilization of the nation's health forces for war on syphilis and gonorrhea will take place at a three day conference starting here next Monday, according to plans announced today by Surgeon General Thomas Parran, chief of the United States public health service.

This will be the first conference for the stamping out of venereal diseases which private medical practitioners and laymen have ever been invited to attend. More than 300 delegates, representing 32 states and the District of Columbia, will gather for the meeting.

The program outlined by Dr. Parran for the three day discussion will include the best talent in the country for the explanation of all phases of the problem before medical, public health nursing and social service persons attending the conference.

Plan National Program.

The purpose of the gathering, according to Dr. Parran, is to encourage discussion of the problem in open forum, in order that a more practical and workable national program may be initiated.

The first day of the conference will be devoted to general sessions conducted by experts in various fields of public health and venerology. On the first program will be Dr. Parran and R. A. Vonderlehr, assistant surgeon general in charge of the division of venereal diseases.

Other speakers at the first day's sessions will include:

Dr. Edward S. Godfrey, New York state commissioner of health; Dr. Earle G. Brown, secretary of the Kansas state board of health; Dr. Walter Clarke, director of the New York city bureau of social hygiene; Dr. P. S. Pelouze, genito-urinary surgeon at the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. John H. Stokes, professor of dematology and syphitology at the University of Pennsylvania; Paul de Kruif, author of books on medical science; and Homer Folks, executive secretary of the New York state Charities Aid association.

Sectional Meetings Slated.

Five sectional meetings are scheduled for the second day under the supervision of nationally known medical authorities. The closing address of the conference on Wednesday will be delivered by Dr. Alan M. Chesney, dean of the medical faculty, Johns Hopkins university.

The Illinois delegation to the conference was announced as follows:

Dr. Frank J. Jirka, director of the Illinois department of public health, and Dr. John J. McShane, chief of its division of communicable diseases; Dr. Theodore K. Lawless, department of dermatology at Northwestern university; Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health; Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, secretary of the Chicago board; Miss Mary M. Maxwell, executive secretary of the American Association of Medical Social Workers, Chicago; Dr. Rachelle S. Yarros and Dr. Bertha Shafer, Illinois Social Hygiene league, and Dr. W. W. Bauer, American Medical association.

POSSEMEN PUT HOUNDS ON TRAIL OF OZARK KILLER

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Bloodhounds were taken into the Ozark hill country west of here today to aid peace officers and CCC workers in an extensive hunt for an escaped murderer who kidnaped two hunters last night.

Sherif Lester Massingham prepared to use his airplane in the search for Claude McGee, slayer under sentence of death, who fled from the jail at nearby Benton a month ago. Until last night there had been no trace of him.

McGee was identified through photographs by William R. Phillips of Little Rock, Ark., United States government land bank examiner, and Horton Scott of Caruthersville. Mo., as the man who abducted them and then fled in their automobile.

The two men said McGee was waiting at their car when they came out of the woods where they had been hunting near Deering, Mo. With two guns leveled on them, he ordered Phillips to drive toward Popular Bluff on side roads. The car later was found wrecked.

McGee was under sentence to hang for the murder of W. T. Carlton of Grays Point, Mo.

VENTRILOQUIST WILLS $10,000 TO DUMMY TO CHEER CRIPPLES

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Edgar Bergen, ventriloquist, has had his attorney draw up a will bequeathing $10,000 to his dummy, it was disclosed today.

The unusual will was printed in today's issue of the law journal along with a letter from Bergen's attorney asking for opinions of other lawyers as to the validity of the document.

Under its provisions the fund would be known as the "Charlie McCarthy fund," Charlie McCarthy being the dummy's name. It would be administered by the Actors' Fund of America.

The will stipulates that the income from the fund be used to pay competent ventriloquists to give benefit performances at orphanages and hospitals for crippled children and provides that Charlie must always be used as the dummy.

POLICE CAPTURE PAROLED THIEF IN WILD BATTLE

A paroled convict was captured by police in a thrilling battle last night as he fled after looting John Warren's first floor apartment at 4134 Clarendon avenue.

Mrs. Josephine Horn, 4132 Clarendon avenue saw the burglar in the Warren apartment across an air shaft, and notified the Town Hall police. Six policemen surrounded the place. One of them, Detective James O'Neill, took up his post at the window from which Mrs. Horn had seen the burglar.

Others climbed through a rear window into the Warren apartment. The prowler saw them and jumped out of another window, falling to the bottom of the air shaft, a drop of about ten feet. He looked up to see police flashlights playing on him from the Warren apartment, and not seeing Detective O'Neill, tried to escape by climbing a ladder to the window of Mrs. Horn's flat. When the burglar reached the window Detective O'Neill helped him through the window, believing he probably was unarmed.

O'Neill was mistaken, for the moment the burglar's feet touched the floor he drew a pistol and said: "I've got you cop. You'll help me out of this."

O'Neill wrenched away, and the gunman fired one shot, the bullet passing through the policeman's coat. Before the burglar could pull the trigger again O'Neill slapped him down and disarmed him.

At the police station the prisoner was identified as Leo Cox, colored. Police records showed that in 1932 after confessing the burglary of nine Evanston homes, he was sentenced to Pontiac reformatory. He was paroled last April 18.

CONFER TODAY ON MOVES TO CURB 'CHASING' RACKET

In an effort to devise an effective curb against "ambuiance chasers" in Chicago aldermen, state legislators, and police officials are to meet today with representatives of the Chicago Motor club in the Palmer house. Chief topics are expected to be a proposed city ordinance and an amendment to the state laws. Police Commissioner Allman said he will be represented by Capt. John Prendergast.

Meanwhile the investigation of the state's attorney's office into the racket centered yesterday around activities of policemen reported to have acted as tipsters for the "chasers." Assistant State's Attorney Irwin Clorfene announced that about 200 members of the force will be questioned before the grand jury. The first five of these are to appear Monday, he said.

Clorfene doubted whether this phase of the investigation would result in any prosecutions, but he said he felt it would put a stop to the practice at once and might reveal data of a more serious nature.

TUNNEL WAR ON CITY'S DIGGERS ENDS IN PRISON

Newark, N. J., Dec. 23.—(AP)—John Dreher's tunnel campaign against the city for condemning his property was set back today by a six month penitentiary sentence.

Dreher, 51, and a dairyman, already was on probation from a three year sentence for writing threatening letters to City Commissioner Reginald Parnell after his property was condemned for the opening of a street.

Today he admitted to Common Pleas Judge Brennan that he had almost completed a tunnel from his yard to a point under the street with the avowed intent, probation officials said, of obstructing sewer lines.

Asked if he had intended to blow up the sewer, Dreher said: "No, I just wanted to put a key in it."

VOTE TO INDICT 10 IN 20TH WARD ELECTION FRAUD

5 Women Named Already Under Sentence.

Five women election officials who served in the 4th precinct of the 20th ward in the April primary and five men who acted as poll watchers in the ward were reported named in true bills voted by the grand jury yesterday on charges of conspiracy to make fraudulent returns of ballots.

Last October County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki sentenced the women to jail terms on contempt of court charges based on the election frauds. Assistant State's Attorney John Boyle said the contempt convictions would not bar prosecution of the women on the criminal indictment. The contempt hearings were civil proceedings, he said, and have no effect on the criminal prosecution even though the evidence might be the same in both instances.

Three Judges, Two Clerks.

Three of the women named in the true bills yesterday were election judges. They are Mrs. Dorothy Berger, 1033 South Damen avenue; Mrs. Edna Sullie, 1219 South Damen avenue, and Mrs. Rose Amore, 1043 South Winchester avenue. The others, Mrs. Nancy Del Monaco, 1038 South Winchester avenue, and Mrs. Kate Paldo, 1933 South Spaulding avenue, were clerks.

The judges were sentenced by Judge Jarecki to a year each in the county jail, and the clerks to six months. All have been at liberty in bond pending appeal.

Husbands Also Named.

Reported indicted with the women yesterday are Barney Siegel, 1260 South Spaulding avenue; John Zittello, 1911 Taylor street; Sanders Caravello, 1132 South Winchester avenue, and Herman Sullie and Clement Amore, whose wives are named in the true bill. In addition Caravello and Amore are charged with altering ballots. Bond was set at $2,500 for each defendant.

LUCK CHANGES FOR FRANK, AND WHAT A CHANGE!

As a Chicago bound flyer of the Northwestern railroad passed through the Waukegan station early yesterday Frank Hough, 35 years old, 3015 Eshcol avenue, Zion, slipped on a patch of ice. Despite his desperate scrambling, he slid almost under the wheels. One of his gloves was whipped off and ground to shreds. His lunch pail was mashed into a tin patch. Hough grinned broadly and addressed the sympathetic onlookers who picked him up and brushed his clothing.

"My luck has changed," he said. "That's the first bit of good luck I've had in the last three months, and that's a fact.

"Three months ago I got a job in a factory here—my first post depression employment. I thought I was all set but what happened? My first day at work I had a hand injured and carried it in a sling for six weeks. A week after that accident I went to the hospital for an appendicitis operation. Thirty-two days later I was in an auto accident, and a week after that I fell down the steps of my home and cracked a bone in my ankle.

"But I'm even again after today. I thought I was gone when I fell and it flashed through my mind that it was just my luck. But—my luck has changed."

IT'S 'MEANEST THIEF' AGAIN! HIS CHRISTMAS TREE FRAUD NETS $13

The Irving Park district's "meanest thief," who in recent days defrauded two boys of several dollars in change, worked his swindle on a man yesterday. He met Earl Ekman, 4823 Argyle street, on the street as Ekman was selling Christmas trees, and bought two for $2, asking Ekman to carry them into a nearby building. He then got $13 in dollar bills from Ekman, saying that he wanted to change a $5 and a $10 bill, told him that he had to enter his apartment by a rear door to get the money, and vanished.

Rushes to Aid of Boy Under Tractor; Finds It's His Son

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—A retired fireman, who by chance had parked his car nearby, rushed to a steam shovel trailer today when he saw a screaming boy dragged from its deck into the tractor tread. He collapsed when he discovered that the boy, crushed to death, was his own son, William Quinty, 10.

MORE GOODS AT LESS COST.

Since the Brookings institution made its notable study of America's capacity to produce and consume, the gospel of prosperity through lower prices has enjoyed a considerable revival. It found another disciple the other day in Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric company. In his quarterly letter to stockholders he defined progress as "more goods for more people at less cost."

There is, of course, nothing new about this precept. For years, until the depression, it was a commonplace of orthodox economic thinking. Improved methods of production resulted in lower prices. Lower prices resulted in larger consumption. Larger consumption meant more economies in production and further lowering of prices. The process was speeded by competition which forced manufacturers and distributors to pass on the benefits to the public almost as speedily as they were obtained. That meant a steadily rising standard of living for the people generally, even though money wages remained constant or rose relatively slowly.

The depression upset faith in this theory. Widespread unemployment and a sharp fall in prices led to clamor for stabilization of business and prices which, it was thought, would result in reëmployment and in the resumption of profitable operations. Competition which had been regarded hitherto as beneficent was denounced as the source of all our ills. With the approval of a large section of the business community and almost all representatives of organized labor, NRA was introduced as the sure cure. The experience of a hundred years was forgotten.

It is interesting to observe that many of the business leaders who a few years ago were seeking criminal laws to prevent price reductions today are recommending price cutting as eminently desirable. They are able to take a longer view now that their immediate worries are less pressing. Perhaps their knowledge that recovery became more rapid after NRA was invalidated has hastened the change of heart.

But meanwhile a number of laws have been enacted on the theory that price reductions are evil. The Robinson-Patman act will tend to discourage price concessions to quantity buyers. State laws penalizing chain stores and permitting manufacturers of branded goods to fix retail prices work to the same end. If, as we believe, Mr. Swope is right in his latest declaration, these are bad laws, but they will not easily be repealed. A vested interest in economic backwardness has been created and it will not yield without a struggle.

GAS OVER LONDON.

Although the gas defense preparations under way in Great Britain under the direction of the government seem fantastic and unbelievable extravaganzas, the matter is no joke. Home Secretary Sir John Simon advises the financial leaders to take every precaution. The police are being equipped with new masks and the people are urged to possess and learn to use them.

There have been some jocular remarks about the masks for babies and the need of including them in the layette and of having the growing child remeasured for his masks just as he would be for his clothing and shoes, but the joke is a triumph of humor over fear.

Some critics accuse the government of playing upon public apprehensions in order to bring about a more reasonable public opinion on the general subject of national defense. Recruiting for the army has been discouragingly slow and the war ministry hasn't been able to make the service attractive to anything like the number of men wanted.

The ministry is charged with dullness in the matter and with failure to perceive the simple arrangements which would induce a young Englishman, if he were not getting ahead very rapidly in civil life, to make a start in the army without regarding it as a disagreeable service having no future in itself and being a probable obstacle to any kind of success in civil occupations later.

The ministry may be emphasizing and dramatizing the peril, but no one in Europe now cherishes any illusions as to the danger of civilian populations in time of war. The probabilities of anything like civilian extermination are no doubt greatly exaggerated, but it is also fairly certain that an enemy will do anything within his power, regardless of the consequence to noncombatants of all ages.

Madrid still stands and holds out, although it has been subjected to weeks of bombing attacks which have done some damage and taken many lives but have not hit at anything vital in the defenses of the city. The experience has been tragic for many families, horrifying to many observers, and a plague on the name of civilization. The bombers, if they could punish the city so terribly that it would capitulate, would do so. It is the will to destroy rather than the destruction itself which strikes the imagination and causes the feeling that man becomes more ferocious as he progresses in knowledge and mechanical development.

In spite of modern instances seeming to support this idea, it happens to fall down when the comparison is made with the military practices of the ancient civilized world and of the medieval. The obliteration of whole peoples was an accepted practice, whereas in our modern times the militarists merely do not permit themselves to be deterred from seeking an advantage because others than the armed forces of the enemy will be involved in the consequences.

The people of the Americas, observing the British defense preparations, may continue to hope that the Atlantic ocean will never grow smaller.

THE NEW PROBLEM FOR INDUSTRY.

How to get along with government is a problem that nowadays transcends all of the ordinary difficulties of manufacturing and selling for American industry.

In the days in which this was becoming a great industrial nation manufacturers concerned themselves with financing, production, pay rolls, purchasing, labor, sales, and competition.

Those who succeeded will tell you there was a struggle every step of the way. Those who did not succeed either saved up and tried again or were long ago forgotten. Most of them struggled through a period when every pay day was almost a tragedy. With many it was touch and go for years whether the business would fold up. Probably most of those that started failed to make it. Often it took a miracle of financing or business ingenuity or selling to keep life in some businesses that have since become great.

These problems cannot have become any less important, but they seem completely overshadowed by that of getting along with government.

This change in what it takes to keep going was apparent in the program of a recent convention of Wisconsin manufacturers. Time was when such a program would have a banker as its chief speaker. A red hot sales manager would give his formula for success and an engineer would describe the improvements that his science had injected into his business. Improved methods of operation would be apt to result from these interchanges of ideas.

The Wisconsin program contained not one speaker of this type. Every subject and each lecturer dwelt on some phase of the manufacturer's efforts to interpret new legislation and to adapt his operations to it.

Instead of hearing from outstanding successes in their own fields the employers heard a program of lawyers, tax experts, specialists on security legislation and government men skilled in some particular of the new type of laws.

There was a lawyer, a specialist in interpretation and application of recent labor decisions. There was a tax expert who explained the pitfalls that must be avoided to escape tax penalties. There was an expert on unemployment compensation and there was long and earnest discussion of the application of the federal law relating to negotiations with employés.

None of these business men was seeking to avoid compliance with any law. They were engaging the best available experts to tell them how to comply. The Wisconsin conference was typical of what is taking place wherever business men get together with their fellows. They hope they can continue to operate and grow. They are puzzled and confused rather than resentful.

The last generation has seen a constantly improving condition in industrial relations, worked out voluntarily between employers and employés. They have been conspicuous exceptions, but the laws of competition have operated for a continuous improvement in every field and every workshop. Yet there is an apparently increasing class which feels that social betterment will come much faster and surer under government exaction than by voluntary negotiation.

American industry is the laboratory in which they are working. The life of industry and the future of America is the stake with which they are experimenting.

HAVE WE JOINED THE LEAGUE?

Among the many resolutions passed in the closing hours of the Pan-American congress at Buenos Aires was one which seems to have committed the United States to coöperate with the league of nations in its efforts to prevent and end wars. The resolution applies to nations which, though not members of the league, have signed the Argentine anti-war pact and the Kellogg-Briand pact. That describes the United States.

Coöperation is a vague word. It can mean almost anything. The acceptance of this resolution by the United States may be interpreted in future as a pledge to adopt any measures which the league devises as a means of keeping the peace. The league today is dominated by Britain, France and Russia, military allies as they were in 1914. Against them are arrayed Germany, Italy, Japan and lesser powers in and out of the league.

Is the resolution adopted at Buenos Aires, in effect, a commitment to join Britain, France and Russia against their enemies? It may be. Is it a commitment to observe a kind of benevolent neutrality toward the dominant group in the league? It may be. Or is it just a rhetorical flourish inspired by the weather in Argentina? It may be.

In view of the ambiguity, it is to be hoped that the state department will lose no time in clarifying the matter. The people of this country have voted repeatedly against joining the league. They regard league membership as a too convenient device for involving our country in a European war. Perhaps at Buenos Aires we joined the league without knowing it. A declaratory pronouncement by Mr. Hull would be welcome.

ONE-HUNDRED-DOLLAR TOBACCO.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

The burley tobacco belt, which reaches through Kentucky and embraces sections of a dozen surrounding states, is experiencing an almost unbelievable windfall this winter.

Only those who wrestled with the hard-to-raise crop through spring and summer drought and fall dryness, who hoped at best that this year's crop of burley would bring a few dollars more than last year's, can appreciate the full significance of high crops bringing $100 a hundred—a dollar a pound—and of general market averages hovering near $50. In most cases producers are receiving double the amount they expected for their crop before the sales season opened.

Well-wishers of the burley producers, whose new-found prosperity will be shared through the veins of trade with most of the people in and near the burley belt, hope that this year's boom in burley will hold up during the seasons to come and that market conditions will remain such that one-hundred-dollar tobacco will continue to bring $100.

TIME TURNED BACKWARD.

Egypt, where time has lead soled shoes! We were heading for the homeland; I who knew it and milady, who'd never seen it. The old colored gentleman at the crossing pointed for us. "The St. Joe; othah side of the square, suh." Ah, the St. Joe. Up a long flight of wide, worn stairs to the lobby, spacious and dark. Back of the desk a portly little old man, gold chain and charm, puffy white shirt sleeves, shoestring bow, fringe of white hair, blue eyes. "Certainly, sir; glad to have you." . . . Down the long hall to a corner room on the same floor, old, old, but spotless. Back to the desk for cigarets and talk of business, crops, and taxes. Then in the room, the missus, pajamaed, slippered, and smiling. "We must be nearing the Promised Land, Charles; look." On the door a card:

1 Ring, Bellboy.
2 Rings, Ice Water.
3 Rings, Livery Rig.

Man, did we sleep that night? Home again.

A CHILD THINKS OF THE NATIVITY.

What strange gifts for a baby:
Myrrh, frankincense and gold.
I should have brought a little quilt,
So he would not be cold.

I should have brought a bunny,
Or any soft, wool toy,
And one small cap of eiderdown,
To fit a baby boy.

Two apples for the donkeys,
The oxen, seven more,
Then blown a kiss to Mary dear,
And hurried out the door.

THREAT OF REALITY.

[For Michigan City's myth destroyers.]

Those teachers who cannot maintain respect while allowing some trustful little soul to believe a little longer in a beautiful myth are doubtless the same ones who invest in movie tickets on bank nights, and think that every philandering married man who tells them his wife doesn't understand him is deserving of consolation. It appears that there are myths and myths. But if one of these earnest seekers after reality had told my child that there was no Santa Claus I am afraid that she would have come face to face with stark reality in a manner most abrupt and unpleasant. As it is, all I can do is to hope that Santa fills their irreproachable blue stockings with bent pins and paper wads. Marjorie F. W.

A dusky sheik of Bronzeville contemplated the charms of an ebon damsel who was wallflowering for at least five minutes at a Sunday evening gathering. LAST CHANCE BEFORE CHRISTMAS.

This is your last chance to purchase Linebooks before Christmas—Dec. 24 is that way. Hundreds of critics have pronounced it the most cheerful, the cleverest compilation of wit, humor, and sentiment published this year. You can do your friends a favor, if you like it yourself, by forwarding to each a copy before New Year's Day. This 64 page booklet may be had at the news stands and in stores at 10 cents a copy; or at 13 cents by mail through The Tribune Public Service Office.

DEFEAT SYPHILIS.

SYPHILIS is a disease that can be spread from person to person. It occasions much suffering and many deaths. Only sporadic efforts have been made to control it owing to the stupid attitude that its very existence should be kept secret, its ravages mumbled over only in whispers.

Although we have known for nearly a generation how to render syphilitics noninfectious, it has continued to extend and to affect hundreds of thousands of the virile youth of the nation. The reason is that we have neither diagnosed nor treated the disease early enough. Before the condition is recognized accurately the victim may have infected a dozen others, and of that group many no doubt will pass it on. The circle is an ever widening one. IF EVERY CASE OF BEGINNING SYPHILIS COULD BE GIVEN 20 DOSES OF ARSPHENAMIN AND DOUBLE THAT NUMBER OF MERCURY OR BISMUTH WE COULD CRUSH THIS DREAD INFECTION WITHIN A 12 MONTH PERIOD.

Our difficulty lies in the fact that the disease does not disable its victim immediately. If it fractured a bone, tore a muscle, injured a fingernail, or caused severe pain, those afflicted would seek skilled aid without delay. Unfortunately it produces none of these symptoms. There is rarely any pain. Sometimes the original sore is disregarded, and even when the secondary rash appears the sufferer may be content with such a cursory diagnosis as "the itch."

Because the disease fails to fly warning signals opportunity is given for the spirochetes—the wormlike parasites that are responsible—to ensconce themselves in remote locations throughout the body. They are then far more difficult to destroy. One would almost assume that nature has played a trick on humanity in failing to provide more obvious signs of so vicious a plague.

In our campaign against syphilis education of the public has been neglected. The first consideration is to urge every person, on the earliest sign of the disease, to submit to treatment so that he cannot possibly convey it to any one else.

For those who are not able to employ a private physician there are available public clinics and laboratories. Every case known to have the disease should be reported officially. Some day an aroused public will compel syphilitics to pursue treatment with sufficient regularity to insure against its dissemination. We would not knowingly permit one with diphtheria to mingle with others in a crowded place, even though he were able to do so. He would be quarantined or isolated. Why make an exception of syphilis, a far more serious infection?

All of the fault does not lie with the public, however. There are some practitioners of medicine who are either too careless or too indifferent to make the necessary tests for the presence of the spirochetes. This means that physicians too, must be exposed to more intensive training, not only in the identification but in the treatment of the disease. The blood test is such a simple matter that it should be used as a routine measure. If carefully performed a negative result is reassuring.

The administration of salvarsan is not a difficult or a dangerous procedure, but it must be done accurately and in a thoroughly sterile manner and with proper equipment. In any campaign that is to be effective coöperation of private physicians is absolutely essential. Those who are not equipped to administer the treatment should send these patients to skilled colleagues who are.

Free discussion, bringing all the facts into the open, is our best weapon. Instructions should be available to our high school students. The subject may well be a part of the teaching of biology—a lesson in the rôle of animal parasites as agents of disease and death.

We must look at the whole problem however, sanely and with common sense. We must not develop such a fear of the infection that we will breed hypochondriacs. The great majority of our people are not affected and never will be. Nevertheless the very existence of this menace to health is a challenge to our intelligence.

HODGKIN'S DISEASE.

REPLY.

Hodgkin's disease and tuberculosis have certain features in common, but modern opinion regards them as separate disease entities. One does not cause the other, but both may exist in the same person.

ADMINISTRATION OF ESTATE.

Chicago, Dec. 19.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. I was administrator of a piece of property since July 5, 1934, when the woman died and the whole thing has been through Probate court.

2. I was dismissed by the court and my bonds have been taken off.

3. Can I turn the keys and personal things over to the lawyer named in a telegram sent by each heir, or is it necessary to have them both send me a letter with their signatures before I can let their lawyer have full possession?

One of the heirs lives in St. Paul and the other in Dubuque and [4] none of them will give me their signatures by mail in their own handwriting, only by telegram. F. D.

1. It seems probable that you employed an attorney in these proceedings. If so, he is in a better position to advise you than we are.

2. It is difficult to understand how you were dismissed without any showing that you had distributed the estate in your hands.

3. If you are sure that all debts and costs of administration have been paid and that no person now claiming is the authorized agent of the beneficiaries, then we see no practical objection to your turning the remaining assets over to him, but see preceding answers.

4. There are so many unusual features involved in your letter that we strongly advise you to go to the attorney who handled the original proceedings.

A HOUSEWIFE ADDRESSES SANTA.

Evanston, Ill., Dec. 21.—Santa, the first thing I'm asking for is calendar pads, a dozen of various sizes. They are impossible to find here. Are they carried in Iceland? The dime store has tiny ones "for the purse," they say. How often would one be used in a purse? It would be in the other purse, anyway.

The calendar for the telephone stand should show a month on each sheet, with space enough around the numbers so that a certain date could hold "PTA. Sym. Orch. Edna birthd.," and be legible. I would rather have just the pad without a pastoral scene or a girl, however pretty. Full moons need not be shown, but holidays in red are convenient. Engagement books will not do [I have three], nor day by day sheets.

A pad with large figures is needed in the kitchen. The other day I was unable to figure out whether the laundryman would have to be paid again from this month's allowance. If I had had a calendar on the inside of the cupboard door I would have been happier immediately.

A calendar is a necessity for any living room. Not one to hang on the wall advertising general merchandise, nor one that ought to be in that drawer, but one to paste on the inside of the dictionary. And then, a calendar on the inside of each bedroom door would be as handy as an extra pair of scissors, a saver of steps.

I want pencils, also, please, a dozen of them or a box, if that is more, with No. 2 lead. Is there anything in the world worse than a No. 3 lead pencil? I doubt it. Our father uses that kind at the office and they seem to outnumber all others at home.

Then, I want a lot of pads of paper suitable for grocery and shopping lists. They should be colored so as to be easily seen and identified. I do not want a fancy pad with pencil attached with "beans-lima" suggested. I now use the backs of advertising letters, but it's a sloppy habit.

Another article very much desired is an oval Dutch oven. That is just a cast-iron pot with a flat bottom and a bale, if you don't know. I cannot allow myself to buy this because I already have a round one. But, although, it holds a pot-roast nicely, with potatoes and carrots, there is not room for cabbage.

I shall apparently be delighted over the guest towels I receive on Christmas, but it would be wonderful to get these things which I really want.
Maree Fellows.

SEASONABLE COMPLAINT.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—It burns me up to see people put up their Christmas trees a week or more before Christmas. My little girl thinks that Christmas is all over with and that Santa Claus has passed her up. I have an awful time explaining to her that he has not yet arrived. Quit fooling the kids.
Jacob J. Filliung Jr.

AFTER EIGHTEEN MONTHS.

Batavia, Ill., Dec. 21.—Upper Michigan avenue, that fashionable strip from the river to Oak street, has never had a suitable name by which it could be readily identified. The area, one mile long, includes The Tribune, radio station W-G-N, Wrigley building, Medinah club, many famous hostelries, as well as a great number of exclusive stores and shops.

I have given eighteen months intensive thought to the matter, and have created a name highly appropriate and entirely adaptable. It is "Coast Lane."

Perhaps you can enlist the enthusiastic coöperation of the business and professional leaders in the area, and take steps to adopt "Coast Lane." Furthermore, if this be done, and you feel that my efforts should not go unrewarded, it would, of course, please me no end.
Bernard Koffman.

FROM A VICTIM.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—Mr. Hit and Run Driver who knocked me down on Dec. 11 at 5:20 p. m. at Paulina street, near Belmont, do you know I am a father of five small children? My oldest son is only 13 years of age. My youngest child isn't even 2 years old. And I was a poor WPA worker for only $55 a month. You ran over my legs, knocked me unconscious, and left me there like a piece of rag. And I won't be able to work for a long time.

I want to remind you before Christmas holiday, when you sit down at your table with all the happiness around you, to think of my five children whom I can't make happy this Christmas.
Frank Silverman.

REWARD.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—John Hamilton gets a $25,000 job for putting on the biggest flop in political history. The Republican national committee is a sappier body than we even suspected.

TRIBUTE TO OLD ST. MARY'S.

Toledo, O., Dec. 20.—Some time ago I read in a Sunday Tribune that St. Mary's church in Chicago should be made a shrine where annual pilgrimages could be made. I heartily agree with that suggestion.

I love that dear old St. Mary's church. When I enter something overtakes me. Our Lord's presence there is felt. Something tells you our Lord loves this place, to see men of all walks of life enter and pay homage to their Creator, especially poor, old, and homeless men receiving succor from man's truest friend, indeed.

I wish more could be done to awaken people to Chicago's greatest possession, dear old St. Mary's, which has so often made my occasional visits to Chicago so enjoyable. John Rosette.

HIGH MOTIVES.

Eureka, Ill., Dec. 14.—May I take the liberty of thanking you for your very discriminating and sympathetic editorials in The Tribune of Dec. 12? I refer to your comments on the romance of Mrs. Wallis Simpson and King Edward VIII. In a world where so many people are unable to understand high motives, or an unselfish conception of life, it is cheering to have an influential paper like yours take such a view of these occurrences. Some of the unfriendly and even scurrilous comments made by certain papers have been painful to those of us who look upon the king's abdication and the necessity for it as a real tragedy.
Mrs. A. C. Gray.

CONFIDENCE GAME.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—This is to warn people to be on the lookout for a heavy looking man who comes around saying he just found a piece of jewelry and offers it for sale. I just got stuck for a piece of brass with a glass diamond.
Mary Berry.

DANGEROUS CROSSING.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—The corner of 59th and State streets is one of the most dangerous crossings in the city. There are no stop and go lights there and the drivers of trucks and machines give you no chance to cross. Why is there no policeman at this crossing? Mrs. Smidth.

COLUMBUS, 7; AUSTIN, 6.

Columbus, Miss., Dec. 21.—Better let Chicago grow a little more before you try again to beat General Lee's High school team. Odds about the same that Grant had, but game only lasted four quarters, not four years, therefore could not starve us out. Merry Christmas.
Sam Kaye.

From Across the Sea

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—For the first time in twenty years England will mint gold sovereigns for general circulation for the coronation celebrations next spring. A sovereign is a £1 gold piece, but at the present rate pre-war sovereigns are worth more than one and a half times their face value.

Before the war there were no £1 or 10 shilling notes in England. Sovereigns and half sovereigns were in general use. Until 1915 about £25,000,000 in new gold coins were issued every year. By 1916 the figure had fallen to £1,000,000, and a year later the issue of gold coin to the general public ceased.

Even now sovereigns continue to be shipped about the world's financial centers in the course of large scale money transfers.

The coronation sovereigns will be just like those of twenty years ago except that they will bear the head of King George VI., in accordance with tradition.

On the back there will appear the design of St. George and the Dragon, by Pistrucci. This design has appeared on the "tails" side of English sovereigns and crowns [five shilling silver pieces] for more than a century with slight interruptions.

Sovereigns were last coined in quantity, though they were not issued to the public, in 1925, when the Bank of England found many of them badly worn by handling.

Unlike other coins, which are accepted more or less as tokens at face value even after they are worn, gold coins lose value as the actual gold is worn away.

To remint 3,500,000 of them in 1925, £38,000 [roughly $190,000] worth of gold had to be added to make up the deficiency. That is one good reason why the sovereign and half sovereign are unlikely ever to come into general use again.

CITY WELCOMES MAGIC SPELL OF CHRISTMAS EVE

Gift Baskets and Parties for Children.

Many an anonymous benefactor will be blessed in Chicago today, Christmas eve, as Christmas baskets and cheer are distributed with a largess unseen since 1929.

Christmas eve, sacred always to children, will be marked this year by an unusua number of children's parties, ranging from caroling groups and Christmas tree gatherings to a children's candle light service in the old St. James Episcopal church at Huron street and Wabash avenue.

Christmas baskets which contain two new suits of woolen underwear as well as the customary toys and candy, will be given to 100 tiny poor children at a gala affair in the Central Y. M. C. A., 19 South La Salle street. A six foot stocking, red and bulging, will contain presents for each child.

Deliver 1,200 Baskets.

The Volunteers of America will begin its 40th annual distribution of Christmas baskets this morning. A total of 1,200 baskets will be delivered to needy Chicago families.

The Salvation Army will give two large parties this afternoon for more than 1,800 children from the army's family welfare rolls. The first one is to be held at 1512 Madison street, and the second at 3053 Normal avenue. Both will begin at 1:30 o'clock and will have music, entertainment, and a Santa Claus.

Ald. Roger J. Kiley will be host to 3,000 children of the 37th ward at his annual party at the State theater, 5814 Madison street, at 9:30 a. m. The crippled children from the Martha Washington home and the Spaulding school will be special guests. Albert J. Horan, Municipal court bailif, will hold his 13th annual Christmas show for children at the Senate theater at 9 a. m.

Legion to Play Santa.

Hazel Crest, No. 398, post of the American Legion, will play Santa Claus to every child in its community at dusk tonight. Down at the Chicago Christian Industrial league, 847 Monroe street, there will be an old fashioned Christmas party for some 80 men, who make the league their home. Employés of the Hamilton park offices of the Rock Island railroad will distribute Christmas boxes to 180 poor children.

The Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, which has 1,937 children whose stockings must be filled, reports that at least four of the families who have been begging for "a baby for Christmas" will have final adoption papers today for children placed in their homes.

Moreover, they add, two families are receiving adopted babies into their homes just in time to hang up their Christmas stockings tonight. A total of 110 children, counting the two babies, will spend their first Christmas in foster homes with their "own parents."

Melodies from the Skies.

The Frank Bennett quartet, aboard a TWA plane equipped with an electric organ, broadcast carols from far above the city last night. They were picked up by station WLS and rebroadcast, and also were heard over the public address system operated by the State Street council from the Palmer House. Several organizations will join in broadcasting Christmas songs over this system from 1 to 2 p. m. and 5 to 8 p. m. today.

Among the caroling planned for today is the four hour program of the entire choral club, 60 voices, of the Chicago and North Western railway. The chorus will sing from 1 to 5 p. m. from the west balcony overlooking the passenger waiting room of the Madison street station.

The Field Museum of Natural History will be closed Christmas and New Year's day, Stephen C. Simms, director, announced yesterday. These are the only days in the year, he said, when the museum is not open to visitors.

GEN. KILBOURNE, 38 YEARS IN THE ARMY, RETIRES

After thirty-eight years of service Maj. Gen. Charles E. Kilbourne, veteran of three campaigns and commander of the 6th corps [Chicago] area since last June, retired yesterday from active service. The occasion also marked his 64th birthday. Temporary command of the 6th corps area was assumed by Brig. Gen. Charles D. Herron.

Gen. Kilbourne began his military career in 1898 as a lieutenant in the signal corps. He served in the Philippine insurrection, the Boxer rebellion, and in the world war. He won numerous decorations. Now, he announced, he will spend his time in travel. Tonight he and his wife will leave for Key West, Fla., where they will spend their winters.

In a formal ceremony yesterday at the Great Lakes Naval Training station Rear Admiral John Downes, who has been transferred to command cruiser division No. 7 at Long Beach, Cal., turned over his command to Capt. E. A. Wolleson. Capt. Wolleson will serve until the arrival Jan. 4 of the new commandant of the station, Rear Admiral Hayne Ellis.

BUYERS THRONG STORES IN LATE RUSH FOR GIFTS

Sales Up 10 to 25 Pct. Over 1935.

Last minute rushes for Christmas gifts brought new record jams in the shopping districts yesterday, the loop, as usual, representing the best example. Stores and streets were packed, part of the urge to buy being credited to the distribution of bonuses by firms and individual employers during the last few days.

Women shoppers seeking a new handbag for Aunt Minnie and men who put off buying their wives presents until the last minute, together with the children who wanted to see Santa Claus or window shop for toys made up the cheerful throng that packed counter space and made the revolving doors of the large stores spin like tops.

Big Increase Over 1935.

Merchants are quite satisfied with the 1936 season. It is, representative spokesmen said yesterday, the best since 1930, and showed an increase over the heavy 1935 spending of from 10 to 25 per cent.

Fine merchandise is and has been moving extremely well, with fine furs, jewelry, good furniture, and high grade apparel selling much better—both in quantity and quality—than for several years. Jewelry and lingerie are at the top of the luxury items.

Street Car Average Up.

Officials of the Chicago Surface Lines were in a position to gauge the extent of the shopping since the first of December, when the number of fares shot up to six per cent greater than in the 1935 season.

One merchant reported yesterday that his Tuesday business was 70 per cent greater than that recorded on a corresponding day last year. His gain for the year will be about 12 per cent, he said, and the Christmas trade will average more than 15 per cent above 1935.

TRIP ON CLIPPER WILL PROVIDE 2 CHRISTMAS EVES

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Passengers aboard the Philippine Clipper, which left Manila yesterday for Alameda, Cal., will have two Christmas eve celebrations and two Christmas mornings en route.

They will be guests at the Pan-American Airways inn at Wake Island for a Christmas eve party. Aboard ship next morning they will have a Christmas tree with presents as they fly eastward to Midway.

In the midst of their party they will cross the international date line, which will take them back to Christmas eve.

So, at Midway they will be guests of Pan-American at a Christmas eve party and the following morning will take off to spend Christmas day [again with tree and presents] flying eastward.

Fire Damages Christmas Gifts on Southern Train

Lexington, N. C., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Lexington firemen extinguished a blaze aboard a Southern railway train today after it sped here from Linwood, six miles away, where smoke was first noticed seeping from a sealed car loaded with Christmas packages. Postal officials estimated a third of the cargo was destroyed or badly damaged by smoke and water.

Judge Frees 75 Boys and Gives Each One a Necktie

Municipal Judge Stephen Adamowski, sitting in the Boys' court, yesterday released 75 boys from court supervision and presented each with a necktie. The boys were under supervision for minor offenses, and they had satisfactory records since their last court appearance, the judge said.

FIND WORKSHOPS OF AUTO THIEVES HIDDEN IN WOODS

Authorities of Will and Cook counties were searching last night for a gang of automobile thieves who used an old shed hidden in the woods near Steger, Ill., in Will county, for stripping stolen cars, altering engine numbers and otherwise disguising them for resale. Lieut. Fred Mulhausen of the Cook county highway police learned of the place and notified Chief Deputy Sherif Gordon Breen of Will county, who raided the shed.

None of the thieves was captured, but the raiders found parts of a dozen automobiles as well as a car which was stolen on Dec. 17 from Henry H. Meis of Danville, Ill. A notebook bearing the name of an ex-convict from Peotone, Ill., known to be in the stolen car racket, was picked up by Breen.

Lieut. Thomas Kelly of the Cook county state's attorney's office said he had ordered an investigation of the gang's possible connections in Cook county. Sergt. John Kelly of the stripping plant was known here six months ago and the Will county sherif's office had been notified at that time.

GOOD FELLOWS GO ON YULETIDE ROUNDS TODAY

There's Still Time to Aid Needy Families!

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

Hundreds of old Good Fellows who know the thrill of helping out Santa Claus at Christmas time, with the many new recruits who have enrolled this year, will begin taking baskets of food, toys, and candy to unfortunate families in Chicago early this morning.

About 300 more Good Fellows than in 1935 appeared on the rolls last night, and there is time for others to obtain names of needy families today. Nearly 400 more baskets will be delivered than a year ago. Last Christmas there were 967 Good Fellows and they, and money sent to the Good Fellow fund, made it possible for 1,653 baskets to be distributed.

Traffic Club First.

The Good Fellows, walking, driving, and some even using airplanes, will begin their task right after breakfast this morning. The first to take baskets will be the members of the Traffic Club of Chicago, who will gather up their gifts at the Chicago Tunnel company's warehouse. After a brief ceremony around a Christmas tree they will deliver 185 baskets.

Next will come the Aviation Good Fellows, who will have their fourth Good Fellow program at the Chicago Airport at 9:30 o'clock and afterward distribute 170 baskets. Col. Roscoe Turner will be in charge of the party.

Trucks to Deliver Baskets.

At 10 o'clock numerous TRIBUNE circulation department trucks will roar away from the tower's loading ramps with hundreds of baskets purchased with the money contributed to the Good Fellow fund.

The next big event of the day will be the first Greek letter fraternity Good Fellow luncheon sponsored by the Interfraternity club at 12:15 p. m. in its dining rooms at 106 South Wabash avenue. After a talk by Bishop George Craig Stewart of the Episcopal church, to be heard over W-G-N from 1:15 to 1:30 o'clock, these men will deliver 140 baskets. The first Mr. Good Fellow, the late Edward C. Fitch, would have been happy over these plans. He was a fraternity man himself at Indiana university and often told how he was assisted in making up his Good Fellow baskets by "Greek letter friends."

Rotary Club Active.

All through the day the Chicago Rotary club will be delivering its Good Fellow baskets. This movement, which was started 25 years ago, is handled each winter by the chairman of the "Sunshine Committee," Byron O. Jones.

A few hours away is Christmas morning. The work of the Good Fellows will go on until then. You still have time enough to join. Call Superior 0100 and ask for the name and address of your Good Fellow family.

QUINTS TO SEE BABY BROTHER ON CHRISTMAS DAY

CALLANDER, Ont., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Santa Claus, who lives about as close to the Dionne quintuplets as to anybody, will bring the little girls their baby brother Friday.

Five month old Oliva, whom they never have seen, will spend Christmas day at the Dafoe nursery with Mamma Dionne and the rest of the family. Mrs. Dionne will take her six other children to church on Christmas morning. The family will return to the Dionne home and then cross the road to the Dafoe nursery, home of their famous relatives.

Before dinner, Mrs. Dionne will open the Christmas presents, and after the turkey has been disposed of the quintuplets will spend the afternoon playing with their brothers and sisters. The quintuplets at the table will have their usual diet. On Christmas day tourists will not be permitted to view the quintuplets. They will be 2 years and 7 months old the Monday after Christmas.

Granted Annulment

Mrs. Esther Leonard Glowienke.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

"It's not bigamy, it's polygamy," declared Judge Joseph B. David of the Superior court yesterday after hearing the astonishing marital histories of Mrs. Esther Glowienke, 35 years old, 1544 Melrose street, and Walter Glowienke, 35 years old, 1513 Wolfram street. "Somebody ought to be indicted for it," the judge stormed.

Mrs. Glowienke was in court to press her annulment suit. She said Walter married her in 1928, but she learned he already had a wife, Sophie, whom he had married four months earlier.

"But Esther was also married when I married her," Walter told the court. "She married a man named John Leonard in 1923, and never got a divorce."

"I didn't think that counted," replied Esther, "because John Leonard was married to Margaret Pearl House when I married him.

Bouncing out of his chair, Judge David called for the state's attorney until reminded by Mrs. Glowienke's lawyer, Maurice O. Greenburg, that the statute of limitations for bigamy is three years, making them immune to prosecution. Judge David then granted the annulment.

HOLIDAY TRAVEL FILLS OUTBOUND AIR TRANSPORTS

Heavy holiday travel both east and west filled to capacity virtually every transport airliner which left Chicago field yesterday, according to John Casey, airport manager.

For the third time this week United Air Lines yesterday operated a Boeing 247 liner filled with cargo alone—chiefly merchandise for last minute shoppers on the west coast—through Chicago to San Francisco. And, although the regular schedules call for but four daily trips west, the company sent seven planes filled with passengers out of Chicago.

American Airlines is experiencing a similarly heavy demand for seats, particularly on those schedules upon which the new Douglas DC-31 21 passenger planes are flying. Yesterday the company flew sixteen planes out of Chicago on all routes, nearly a 50 per cent increase over the usual number.

Transcontinental and Western Air, Chicago and South Air Lines, and Eastern Air Lines—particularly the latter, with its Florida bound planes—have been operating all available equipment for several days.

SOUND WARNING ON DANGERS OF HOLIDAY FIRES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Warning that many a Christmas party is plunged into tragedy by fires and other accidents, the American Red Cross today asked the public to observe these yuletide don'ts.

Don't let Santa Claus smoke around the Christmas tree.

Don't climb step-ladders carelessly.

Don't forget to provide easy exits at public celebrations.

Don't use unsafe wiring.

Don't let small children handle tree decorations that they might swallow.

BETHLEHEM STAR SHINES ON LAND FACED BY STRIFE

Palestine Is Filled with Men of War.

JERUSALEM, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Star of Bethlehem shone tonight over a Holy Land filled with men of war come to defend the Jews, and there was little to mark observance of the birth of the Christ child who inspired the message of peace on earth.

In Bethlehem and in Jerusalem shop windows were void of the familiar symbols of Christmas, because there were few Christians in either town.

Fewer Tourists.

Tourists arriving were principally from Cairo, and far fewer in number than the crowds of years gone by.

British soldiers, here to guard against a new outburst of the violence which marked the Arabs' long strike against Jewish establishment of a national home, were quartered in monasteries near the Church of the Nativity.

Steel motor trucks stood in the courtyard of the church, where tomorrow the birth of Jesus will be heralded in subdued pageantry.

Highway Patrols Strengthened.

Highway patrols were strengthened because of many holdups, in the most recent of which two trucks were looted and, the drivers beaten, near Kafr Kanna, scene of the biblical miracle of water turned into wine.

A special Christmas program for the United States will be broadcast from Bethlehem tomorrow, it was announced. The broadcast is to begin at 8:50 p. m. [11:50 a. m. central standard time], with an Anglican choir providing music. British Consul General Wadsworth will preach a Christmas message.

SANTA CLAUS IN POSTOFFICE ASKS HELPERS

Between 200 and 300 Chicago children who wrote letters to Santa Claus will be disillusioned tomorrow morning unless more persons with the Christmas spirit volunteer to act for Santa. This was pointed out yesterday by J. H. Harrington, who opens all letters coming to the postoffice addressed to St. Nick.

He has read and classified 2,112 letters to Santa Claus this season and set aside 680 as "deserving." These he believes are from poor children who will have no Christmas unless it is supplied by volunteers. Of this total more than 380 have been given to men and women who have called at his office to obtain the names of boys and girls.

Mr. Harrington pointed out yesterday that the recurring theme of most of the letters this year was a plea for food and clothing. He said that many children less than 12 years of age have begged for food, clothing, and toys for their brothers and sisters without mentioning their own wants.

CHURCHES PLAN CHRISTMAS EVE SONG SERVICES

Midnight Christmas services, preceded by Christmas carols rendered by full vested choirs, will be held in most Episcopal churches in the diocese of Chicago tonight.

A new Christmas carol will be sung publicly for the first time when the service opens at 11 p. m. in St. Luke's procathedral in Evanston. The words for the carol, "On Christmas Day in the Morning," were written by the Rt. Rev. George Craig Stewart, bishop, who will officiate tonight.

At St. Chrysostom's church the service will be preceded by a recital of Christmas music on the Crane memorial carillon, beginning at 10:30. In the chapel of St. Mary's Home for Children at 2820 Jackson boulevard some 50 or 60 tiny robed girls will sing the choral eucharist, set to "Missa Marialis."

Midnight mass will not be observed in any Catholic church in the Chicago area, although the traditional hour of midnight will be observed privately at a celebration at St. Mary of the Lake seminary in Mundelein. Christmas masses will begin at 4 a. m. in practically all Catholic churches. There will be special services of "julatta" in many Lutheran churches beginning at early hours.

Courtney, Arm Mending, Visits Office on Birthday

State's Attorney Courtney who has been confined to his home recuperating from a broken arm suffered on Dec. 14, celebrated his 42d birthday yesterday by returning to his office in the Criminal court building for a brief visit. He wished members of his staf a Merry Christmas and then conferred with Capt. Daniel Gilbert and First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert Crowley. Mr. Courtney incurred the fracture when he fell in his home.

SHELTER'S DOGS GET READY FOR ADOPTION RUSH

The stray dogs at the North Side Animal shelter, 5450 North Damen avenue, submitted gracefully yesterday to what usually is a severe form of canine punishment—a bath. To the shelter dogs, however, a bath may presage a new home for Christmas, as they now may be had for Christmas adoption. The only payment necessary is a small fee to the shelter, which provides asylum for hundreds of dogs every year. Mrs. Dorothy Eagles is founder and president.

SIMEON D. FESS, EX-SENATOR AND G. O. P. HEAD, DIES

Heart Attack Is Fatal to Ohioan in Capital.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Simeon D. Fess, former senator from Ohio and former chairman of the Republican national committee, died suddenly in his room at the Carlton hotel shortly after his arrival here from his home in Yellow Springs, O.

Mr. Fess, who celebrated his 75th birthday Dec. 11, was making a telephone call from his hotel room when he was seized with a heart attack. He fell back on his bed before he could complete the call.

Mrs. Margaret L. Welsh, the former senator's secretary, who had joined him to embark on a Christmas shopping tour, was in the room at the time of the heart seizure. She immediately summoned Dr. Samuel H. Becker, house physician of the hotel, who pronounced Fess dead.

Three Sons Survive.

The Ohio political leader, who had laughed and joked with hotel employés shortly before his death, is survived by three sons, Lehr Fess of Toledo, O.; Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs, O., and Charles S. Fess of Washington, who was summoned to the hotel room.

The body of the scholar politician, who once taught history to the late President Warren G. Harding, is to be taken to Yellow Springs tonight. Funeral services will be held in his home town Saturday.

Mr. Fess, a lifelong Republican, was born in Allen county, O., Dec. 11, 1861. His father died shortly after his birth and he was raised by an older sister. After attending county schools he entered Ohio Northern university and following his graduation he was professor of history from 1889 to 1897. During that time Warren Harding sat in one of his classes.

Head of Antioch College.

At the same time Mr. Fess continued his studies, taking a law degree from the university to become dean of the law school in 1897. He served in that post for three years and in 1902 was called to the University of Chicago, where he engaged in research work. In 1907 he became president of Antioch college, a post he held until 1917.

His national political career began with his election to congress from the 6th Ohio district in 1912. In 1914 his district became the 7th in his state. He held this seat until 1923.

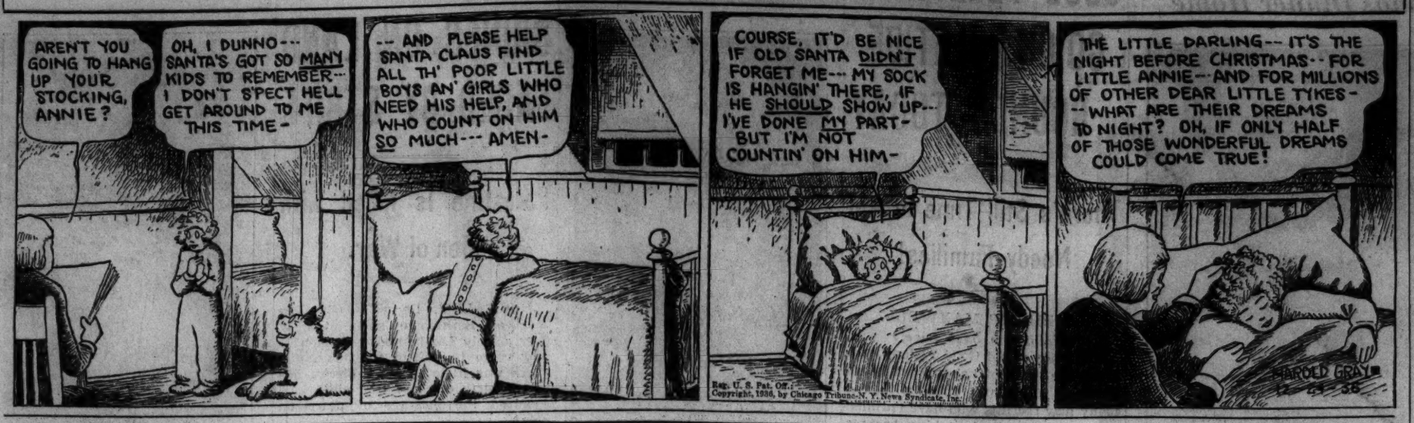
In the fall of 1922 he ran for the senate and defeated Senator Atlee Pomerene. He remained in the senate until his defeat in 1934.

Chairman in 1930-'31.

Senator Fess served as chairman of the Republican national congressional committee in 1918 and was a delegate to the Republican national convention which nominated Calvin Coolidge in 1924. He was chairman of the party in 1930-'31.

During his service in the senate Senator Fess was majority whip. He was stanchly conservative and was one of the most vigorous enemies of the New Deal.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Ready's Sister, Annie



VALUE R. T. CRANE ESTATE AT MORE THAN 33 MILLION

5,908 Employes Benefit Under His Will.

Probate Judge John F. O'Connell approved yesterday a third and final accounting filed by executors of the estate of Richard T. Crane Jr., president of the Crane company who died here on Nov. 7, 1931. The report placed the present value of the estate at $33,161,869, and said most of the bequests under Mr. Crane's will have been fulfilled.

Assets of the estate consist chiefly of a block of 933,191 shares of Crane company stock which was listed yesterday on the New York stock exchange at $43.75 per share. From the assets $1,155,914 in federal estate taxes, $480,000 in executors' fees, and $150,000 in legal fees have yet to be paid under authorizations approved by Judge O'Connell.

5,908 Employés Get Stock.

Under Mr. Crane's will a total of 88,040 shares of Crane company stock was set aside for distribution among 6,018 employés of the concern, the executors said. Thus far 86,525 shares have been distributed to 5,908 employés.

Of the 110 employés who have not received shares, attorneys for the executors explained that 100 have died and that the payments intended for them must be made to their heirs. The executors have been unable to find five employés, three others have been declared incompetent and two are in bankruptcy.

The estate's present value was said to be due to action of the executors in retaining vitrually intact all the company stock. At the time of Mr. Crane's death the shares sold at $5 and the entire holdings were appraised at $5,000,000.

Executors said probate proceedings probably will be concluded within a months.

C. L. Bastian Leaves $424,000.

Charles L. Bastian, founder of the Bastian Blessing company, 240 East Ontario street, manufacturers of soda fountains, left an estate valued at $424,000, it was disclosed yesterday when his will was admitted to probate. Mr. Bastian died on Dec. 5.

Under terms of the will the executors are directed to pay off a $210,000 mortgage on certain properties owned by the manufacturing company and then distribute the residual estate equally among five children. The beneficiaries are Mrs. Emily Buttner, 316 Sunset road, Winnetka, and Mrs. Henrietta Baldwin, Mrs. Elsa Elder, Mrs. Paula Lister, and Emil L. Bastian, all of Los Angeles.

Gift to Presbyterian Hospital.

The will of Mrs. Daisy J. Snow, also admitted to probate, disposed of an estate estimated at $31,000, a third of which is for the Presbyterian hospital; a third to be held in trust, the income to go to the Chicago Woman's club to further the education of the foreign born and their children, and the remainder to go to Henrotin hospital.

Mrs. Snow was the widow of Samuel Dexter Snow, attorney for the International Harvester company. She died Nov. 2 at the age of 66, in her home at 1100 North Dearborn street.

Sidney Kaiser, wholesale furrier who died Dec. 7 in his home in Antioch, left an estate valued at $100,000 consisting entirely of personal property, it was disclosed yesterday when his will was filed in the Lake county probate court at Waukegan. The widow, Mrs. Bessy J. Kaiser of Antioch, is bequeathed the entire estate. Probate Judge Martin C. Decker set hearing of the petition for admission to probate for Jan. 14.

FARMER TALKS FOR 18 DAYS, THEN DIES OF MALADY

Ocala, Fla., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—The strange monolog from which Howard Stillman, 44, farmer, had been unable to desist during 18 days of sickness was ended today by death.

He suffered an inflammation of that part of the brain which controls speech, and as a result could not voluntarily stop talking. He also sang frequently.

Dr. J. L. Chalker of the Ocala hospital, to which Stillman was brought from his home in Fort McCoy, said a similar affliction often caused sleeping sickness.

Stillman's sister, Miss Lucy Stillman, a missionary, who had learned of his illness while she was at sea on her way here from China, was speeding here from New York on the last lap of her long journey, but was unable to reach his side while he lived. Another sister is Miss Nettie Stillman, an employé of Columbia university.

GEO. E. M'GRATH, CITY SEWER DEPT. HEAD, DIES AT 72

George E. McGrath, 72 years old, 913 Agatite street, city superintendent of sewers, died yesterday at St. Luke's hospital of pneumonia after an illness of a few days. He had been a city employé for 39 years.

Mr. McGrath was born at Peekskill, N. Y. He came to Chicago in 1897 and went to work for the city as a house drain inspector. He soon became assistant superintendent of sewers and in 1910 was named head of the department.

Mr. McGrath was given credit for many improvements in the system which resulted in savings to the city. He is survived by a son, George Jr. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in Our Lady of the Lake church. Burial will be in All Saints cemetery.

JOHN R. DREXEL'S NET ESTATE GOES TO WIFE; VALUED AT $1,512,882

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—John R. Drexel of Newport, R. I., one time Philadelphia banker, left a gross estate of $1,803,473 and a net estate of $1,512,882 when he died in his Paris home on May 18, 1935, according to a transfer tax appraisal filed today in Surrogate's court.

Born in Philadelphia in 1862, he was the eldest son of Anthony J. Drexel, noted banker and founder of the Drexel institute. Educated by tutors and in private schools, he never attended college. After serving early in life in his father's Philadelphia bank, Drexel & Co., he became a member of the firm, but after a short time in that capacity he retired from the business, never to reënter it.

Aside from $15,000 which was left to Charles T. Bach of Philadelphia, Pa., the executor, in lieu of any executor's fees, the entire net estate was bequeathed to Mr. Drexel's wife, Alice T. Drexel of Newport.

MRS. MARGARET SHEEHAN RITES TO BE SATURDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Sheridan Sheehan, 9211 South Bishop street, will be held Saturday morning in St. Ethelreda Roman Catholic church, 88th street and Marshfield avenue. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery. Mrs. Sheehan died Tuesday night, at the age of 76, in Mercy hospital. She was born in Chicago and was a daughter of Mark Sheridan, police and fire commissioner at the time of the great fire in 1871 and later alderman from the old fifth ward. Six children, Daniel, Mark, Joseph and Police Sergeant Ignatius Sheehan, Mrs. Mary Lane and Mrs. Helen Gray, survive her.

Rites for Senator Norbeck Held in His Boyhod Home

Platte, S. D., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Funeral services were held here today for United States Senator Peter Norbeck [Rep., S. D.], who died at Redfield Sunday after a political career of nearly 30 years. DEATH NOTICES

In Memoriam.

CONFORTI—Alessandro Conforti. In memory of our beloved father, who passed away Dec. 24, 1933. Benjamin, Rose, Susana.

ETCHINGHAM—Annie Etchingham.
Four years ago today
My dearest treasure passed away—
My mother.
Peaceful be thy rest, dear mother.
It is sweet to breathe thy name.
In life I loved you dearly.
In death I do the same.
Lonesome daughter,
ANNA TORKELSON.

HANDLER—Albert [Al] Handler. Fondest memories of our beloved husband and father, who passed away one year ago today.
ROSE AND SHIRLEY.

KAISER—John Kaiser. In memory of our beloved, who passed away one year ago, Dec. 24, 1935.
The sunshine from his house is gone.
That voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in his home
Which never can be filled.
More and more each day we miss him,
Friends may think the wound is healed;
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.
But through God's only promise
We hope some day to see him,
Our own dear precious John,
Just as he used to be.
LONELY WIFE AND DAUGHTER.

Good Morning!

If you're looking for a restful retreat from the gay hullabaloo of the streets this last day before Christmas—drift into the World playhouse!

On its screen is the latest version of Franz Schubert's thwarted romance. It is saturated with the lovely Schubert music, lavender and lacey with the old world atmosphere and, altogether a pleasant relaxation to the mind that has been squirrel-in-a caging with the frenzied cogitations—"WHAT shall I get? I MUST get this! I mustn't forget THAT . . !"

Herr Schubert's biographers all chronicle somewhat different stories of the love life of the great composer, but all agree that it was unsuccessful. This picture, featuring the great European tenor, Richard Tauber, does a new, neat job in its treatment of Franz and Vicki, the dancing master's daughter.

Vicki causes him exquisite joy and exquisite sadness, but he brings happiness into her life by arranging matters so that she can wed the young officer she loves.

Mr. Tauber, though rather too pudgy to be prepossessing in the matters of mood and manner, portrays Schubert excellently as we have learned to think of him—proud, gentile, impecunious, but possessed of a dogged, underlying perseverance in carrying out anything he undertook.

He sings often and beautifully. "Ave Maria," "Red Roses," "Impatience," "Hark, the Lark," and "Faith in Spring" are among the compositions included in the film.

The story, not without humor, is tinged with gentle melancholy. It is excellently acted and Jane Baxter, the leading woman, has great personal charm and a delightful voice.

Effective staging and costumes, and apt direction are added assets.

The film could have been somewhat shorter to advantage, but, just as it stands, is praiseworthy entertainment.

See you tomorrow.

Crossed Squares.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Crossed Squares" is one of the few quilts which may boast their original names. In the many years during which quilts have been made it is a rare and unusual distinction for such a beautiful pattern. Like other old patterns, this design's most popular combination was blue and white. The coverlet was composed entirely of pieced blocks and set together to form an allover design. Blue binding was the only border used, and the entire quilt was quilted in outline.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Here's what you'll be having sometime between now and New Year's if you want to look your best. Nothing can equal the professional beauty treatment for erasing the ravages of a hectic shopping season.

This is as good a day as any to remind you again of one of the greatest pep and good looks restorers in the world: the professional beauty treatment. If you're haggard after the Christmas shopping but want to be all glowing and gay for New Year's a good treatment or two or three will do the trick.

How much you have in the way of getting primped up will depend on how much you want to spend. If you're as prosperous as you're in need of repairs you can hie yourself to one of a couple of salons in town. You can go in the morning and devote the whole, heavenly day to getting fixed up. You can have your lunch during the process, and if you don't feel like a million dollars after a day of pampering and freedom from care we'll go into another line of business.

In these de luxe all day sessions you have everything mortal mind has devised in the way of beautifying: a body massage, a facial, a hair do, a manicure, a pedicure and, if you like, such elegant extras as exercise, cabinet bath or even a good long snooze. There aren't many more soul satisfying ways to spend a Christmas check; a sum in the neighborhood of $25 will just about take you from start to finish.

There are plenty of treats for smaller sums. Our own choice for the picker upper that beats all others is a body treatment. Body massage does wonders for the jangled nerves and the weary frame. But maybe you'd rather have a facial. It's a grand relaxer, too—and of course you don't have to be told what magic it can work on the poor, tired face. The best way to take your facials is in regular doses; if you can afford a course you're wise to sign up for it. But if the budget permits only an occasional one make your appointment before those occasions on which you want to look your most radiant—like New Year's eve, for instance.

And speaking of great occasions—best wishes for the merriest kind of a Christmas from the Looking Glass department!

Miss Pickford Discusses Age and Marriage

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 23.—Mary Pickford today discussed the chances that the difference between her age and that of Buddy Rogers would handicap them in their marriage. She is 43, he is 32.

"Youth is a question of interest in life; not of years. I don't think the difference in our ages is any problem at all. I know there are many arguments against it, but it is an individual thing. No rule can be applied to it.

"Why, Bud feels much more settled than I do. And I don't think I look old. I know I don't feel it."

The question whether she planned to have children of her own after she and Mr. Rogers, actor turned orchestra leader, are married next spring brought forth observations characteristic of Miss Pickford's more literary works.

"Babies are still babies at 90," she said. "They merely put on a bigger overcoat. And that's one of the things we should remember—everybody loves a baby.

"I would like to have some children of my own, but I mother all babies. I am not one of those whose vanity demands a child of my own. I love all babies."

The interview was the first Miss Pickford has granted here for some time. It was started by statements in a current magazine interview that she was facing a "dangerous operation" and that she would quit motion picture production.

"I am not facing a dangerous operation or any other kind," she said. "I'm sorry that appeared that way, but it was probably due to the fact that when I gave out the interview I was feeling tired and worn out."

As for retiring from production, she said that right now she was organizing a film company. It won't be her own company, she said, but she will be active in it and it may be called the Pickford company.

"We hope to produce a picture by September," she said. "After that we hope to produce at least six pictures a year and more as time goes on."

Christmas night she will fly back to Hollywood with Rogers, now filling a vaudeville date here; her secretary, her niece, the niece's governess, a friend of the niece and a maid.

"It's quite a harem" she observed.

After six weeks in Hollywood she and Mr. Rogers will sail for Europe, where he will make a picture in London and she will travel about on her first vacation in four years.

"It's a reasonable desire for all Americans to have time for play," she said. "We should balance our lives more."

Ruggles Child Undergoes Operation in New York

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Wesley Ruggles Jr., 4 years old, son of the movie director, today underwent an ear operation in his mother's suite at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. His mother, Arline Judge, the actress, said there were no complications and he should be all right in a few days. The father is in Hollywood.

music box topped by an angel with polka dotted wings and dressed in an undershirt plays its little tunes when any one turns the crank. Sandy and Binge, who will have had baths and have red bows on by tomorrow, nose excitedly through the tissue papers and go into ecstasies of excitement over the little silver bells that are to be tied on the Christmas presents.

Today was to have seen the last of the shopping, and would have had we not got into the record shop yesterday morning to select some gramophone records. Names of persons on the Christmas list buzzed remindingly in our cars while we sat and listened to the Beethoven seventh, by Toscanini and the New York Philharmonic; to Edward's abdication speech all over again, and then to Noel Coward and Gertrude Lawrence in a transcription from "Tonight at 8:30," talking delightful nonsense in well-bred voices. . . .

"Did you know about valerian smelling of catnip?" . . . "I can go you one better than that. Lotus buds smell of pineapples." "Everything smells of something else. It's so dreadfully confusing." . . . "Never mind darling, I love you desperately. . . ."

By the time we emerged there wasn't a single pair of pale beige gloves left and the florist's had sold the last of the little pine trees with a bud a year that grows into a spiral of green. They didn't even have any more green tissue paper, and it was late anyhow, so we hurried home to find out what had been at the back of our mind ever since looking at the Christmas cards in the morning mail, what it was that friends back from Mexico who wrote their own Christmas card verses rimed so perfectly with Popocatepetl.

His daughter-in-law had gone to the hospital and he hung around the hospital all day awaiting news. He has a magnificent white crest that stands up when he is excited, and he talks with a slightly cockney accent. His vocabulary is limited to "Hello, boy," now, but he is a bright young fellow and further education is promised him shortly. There is some thought of starting him out on the king's abdication speech, the idea being that "At long last I am able to say a few words of my own" would be a suitable thing for a parrot just learning to talk to say, too.

Actor Wallace Ford Finds Lost Mother Living in Auto Trailer

MANCHESTER, England, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Wallace Ford, British actor who found his long lost mother living in an automobile trailer, granted her most cherished dream today—a little cottage in rural England.

Ford read hundreds of letters from women claiming him as their son and finally decided that Mrs. Daniel Maxted, 56, of Northwich, Cheshire, was his own mother.

Mrs. Maxted is married to a blind match seller.

Her handwriting was examined by Ford and the actor's aunt, Mrs. Marry Beddoes, of Birkdale, Lancashire.

"He is my son, Sammy," Mrs. Maxted said. "He has got my family's gray eyes and our mouth. At last we are united like a fairy tale come true."

She said her son was born in Bolton where she was a housemaid in February, 1898. Her name then was Catherine Jones.

Sammy was placed in a home in Liverpool, she said, and later came to live with his aunt.

Three Dances Are Given for Debutante Set

Tea Is Held to Introduce Another Bud.

The debutantes danced at three parties yesterday so they will be content, no doubt, to remain at home tonight. The supper-dance that the Stanley Keiths and the Farwell Winstons gave last night in the ballroom of the Drake hotel for their debutante daughters, Miss Betty Keith and Miss Anne Winston, will be remembered as one of the gayest and most beautiful parties of the 1936 season.

The ball was the third phase of yesterday's dancing. Mrs. Ernst Freund gave a tea-dance at the Arts club to present her daughter, Miss Nancy Freund, and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan S. Reid gave a dinner-dance at the Casino to introduce their second daughter, Miss Margot Reid. Another tea yesterday was given by the Arnold W. Totmans for their daughter, Miss Barbara Totman.

Not every one attended all of the parties during the afternoon and early evening, but nearly every one did gather at the Drake after 11 o'clock "to meet" Miss Winston and Miss Keith.

The large ballroom had been transformed into a veritable Christmas forest with loads of spicy trees, beautifully decorated with sparkling lights. Some of the trees blocked off one end of the large room to furnish space for chairs and tables where the temporarily weary could rest. The high ceiling was brought down by means of an artificial sky through which shone lights in a starry effect, as well as huge blue lights arranged and covered to look like giant balloons. Supper was served around 2:30 o'clock in the tower room, immediately joining the ballroom, where the Christmas decorations were repeated.

The debutantes and their mothers all chose white gowns for the occasion. Miss Winston's gown was of heavy white satin, very simply made, with rather a full skirt, and she carried white gladiolas interspersed with shiny gardenia leaves. Mrs. Winston wore a fringed gown and red camellias.

Miss Keith wore a full skirted white tulle gown with rows of white feathers trimming the skirt and in addition to a corsage of orchids she carried a spray of gardenias. Mrs. Keith wore silver and white brocade and purple orchids.

Mrs. Freund and her daughter received in the gallery of the club where the Joseph Winterbotham collection still is hanging. The debutante and her mother made a lovely picture standing between two tall vases of roses. Miss Freund wore a turquoise taffeta dress with a turquoise and silver jacket and carried an armful of pale pink Butterfly roses and blue iris. Mrs. Freund chose a gown of electric blue and a corsage of purple orchids.

The sub-debutante in the family, Miss Emmy Lou Freund, wore puce colored slipper satin and carried an old fashioned nosegay of pink rosebuds and forget-me-nots with a paper frill. The young people danced in the lounge, where the decorations blended with the room's lovely color scheme.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid and their daughter received at the entrance to the Casino ballroom which was decorated entirely in silver Christmas trees and blue lights. Strolling musicians furnished entertainment for the youthful guests between dances.

The debutante, who is tall, slim and brunette, never looked prettier than she did in her gown of airy white tulle, appliqued all over with silver thread in a flower pattern. She carried a tiny bouquet of minute sweetheart roses. Mrs. Reid wore white also, in heavy crepe. The debutante's older sister, Mrs. Ralph F. Chatillon, assisted her parents, wearing a stunning and unusual gown of black chiffon made with huge puffed sleeves and trimmed by an underbodice of pink to match the broad pink ribbon that lined the hem of the skirt.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Totman in Sunset road, Winnetka, was the setting for Miss Totman's debut. She received with her parents in the living room which was decorated in greens and white flowers. The debutante wore a gown of gold lamé and a corsage of unusual rose colored orchids. Mrs. Totman wore an American beauty crepe dress trimmed with a crystal cape, and gardenias.

City's Merry Christmas Is Joyous One

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The crowds may be slightly groggy from shopping, the shops may be crammed with tardy and excitable swarms of good natured but demanding buyers, but nothing equals the day before Christmas dither in Chicago.

If nothing else gets you, the sound of frosty Christmas carols, sung through the shops, will. The carols quicken the most blasé soul.

Pushing your way in and out of elevators gives you an exciting thrill as you wonder whether you'll be wearing some one else's coat or hat when you unscramble at each floor. Or the hazard of ascending your pet escalators in competition with a dozen of exuberant youngsters making the ascension in reverse, much to the amusement of kindred grownups and to the discomfiture of wandering "Scrooges" who still growl over Christmas.

Grownups that savor their Christmas shopping vicariously stand a dozen deep around the toy counters, armies of men join the youngsters at the electric train displays, and the live dog displays have a way of making many a soul late for lunch or other appointments.

Florist shops are filled with men clutching address books, sending the safe gift to any difficult lady on their list, sure of appreciation of this late but always good gesture. Hosiery counters are black with people, buying by the dozens, and jewelry shops wrap and send everything from fabulously lovely rings and bracelets to the newest flowers made entirely of jewels.

Christmas trees twinkle merrily from every window, the huge tree in the center of each railway station shines and sparkles, more trees trim the lights along streets of shops. The long rows of cars rolling north along the avenue slow down to hear more Christmas carols, to see more lights and wreaths, and to hear the merriest Christmas of all—the Merry Christmas of busy Chicago.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Arthur Sterry Coggeshall, chief of the Illinois State Museum of Natural History since 1931, today announced that his resignation, submitted to the museum's advisory board Dec. 15, has been accepted. He will leave Jan. 15 to become director of the Santa Barbara, Cal., museum.

Announce Menu for White House Christmas Dinner

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Tiny sausages will garnish the White House turkey Christmas day.

"Trimmin's" for the Roosevelt dinner at 6:30 o'clock will begin with oysters and end with coffee.

Roosevelts Cancel Dance for Franklin and Miss Du Pont

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Roosevelt have canceled the dance they were to have given next Saturday night for Franklin D. Jr. and his fiancée, Miss Ethel du Pont of Wilmington, because of the illness of Mr. Roosevelt. He is not doing as well as they expected him to do and will not be able to leave the hospital this week. He and his sister, Mrs. Boettiger, will be the only missing members of the President's immediate family for the Christmas celebration. Miss du Pont is to be a guest at the White House later in the week.

A group of Girl Scouts sang carols around the lighted tree in the East room this evening for President and Mrs. Roosevelt, their little house party and a few other guests. The songs preceded dinner.

Lily Damita Abandons Trip to Surprise Husband Flynn

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Lily Damita gave her husband, Erol Flynn, a pre-Christmas surprise today when she appeared in Hollywood by plane for a reunion. He had believed she was on the high seas bound for Europe. The movie couple recently announced a marital split but decided to "try it again" and left for New York together. Flynn then was recalled here for a new movie rôle. Miss Damita said she had come back to have Christmas dinner with her husband but would leave for Europe afterward.

Even the Buds Stay Home on Christmas Eve

Family Night Observed in Most Homes.

BY JUDITH CASS.

EVEN the busy debutantes will spend Christmas eve at home for there are no large parties planned for tonight. Almost every one will dine en famille and then take part in a family celebration or help trim the tree if there are little ones in the family to see the lighted and decorated tree for the first time on Christmas morning.

Many will end the evening at midnight church services, but others, even though they go to church, will not end the evening until some time after midnight for some hospitable souls invite their friends in for a warm drink and a snack after services. Mulled wine or Tom and Jerries are the favorite drinks for such late hours.

Open House Today at Tavern Club

The Tavern is having its annual Christmas eve open house from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon with Tom and Jerries and egg nogg as the liquid refreshments. The popular president, William C. Boyden, will not be on hand to receive the members and their guests, for he and his wife and their "Wee Willie" and little Katrina left yesterday to spend Christmas with Mr. Boyden's brother-in-law and sister, the Frank Peabody Magouns of Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. Magoun, who is a professor at Harvard, and his wife and their two sons and baby daughter are just back from his sabbatical year, spent in Germany. The Boydens will be back in Chicago Monday so they will be here for the Tavern's big New Year's eve celebration, but Katrina will miss the children's party which is being given Sunday.

Andrew Rebori is planning a circus as the entertainment for the young guests this year and the usual Sunday breakfast menu of kippered herring and kidney pie will be changed to something more appealing to young palates.

Other Clubs to Have New Year's Eve Parties.

The Saddle and Cycle, the Cliff Dwellers, and the Key club are among the other clubs in the city having New Year's eve parties for members; the Casino can accommodate only a few private dinner parties, for the main part of the club will be turned over to the subdebutante set which will welcome the New Year at the Junior Assembly. The same group of young married people who greeted 1936 at a Dutch treat party at the Racquet club will say good-by to it at a similar party. Last year they wore fancy dress and they will do the same this year. The young Potter Palmers and the Thomas Taylors were instrumental in planning both parties.

The Ernest S. Ballards and those of their seven children who are old enough to stay up to welcome 1937 are combining to give a big party for all ages at their home in Kent road, Hubbard Woods. There will be dancing, bridge, and supper as entertainment. The John Eliot Warners have invited about 100 of their friends to a supper-dance they will give on New Year's eve at their Winnetka home. Still another New Year's eve party in Winnetka is one the Lanning MacFarlands will give at their Rosewood avenue home.

The Onwentsia club is having a dance that night with dinner at 9 and breakfast at 2. The Knollwood, Exmoor, Skokie, and Barrington Hills clubs are among the other country clubs having celebrations on New Year's eve.

Private Parties at Other Clubs

The Glen View and Indian Hill clubs are not having club parties, but they will not be dark on New Year's eve, for there will be two private parties at the former and one at the latter. The E. Warner Coburns of Evanston and the Charles A. Liddles will entertain at the Glen View, and there will be a Dutch treat party at the Indian Hill with Godfrey Atkin as the moving spirit of the jollification.

The Man on the Blue

[Copyright: 1936: By Luke Short.]

SYNOPSIS.

Shamrock Ireland, wanted for shooting a town marshal in self-defense over a card game, reaches Arizona on his Blue and saves the life of Sheriff Lobell, who is about to be shot by a girl, Nancy Hyatt. The Hyatts—Nancy and her brother, Mayo—have lost their ranch, the Double Diamond, to the bank. Mayo has threatened to kill any man who serves him with a dispossess. Because Shamrock believes it was Mayo who betrayed the man who brought him up he accepts the dangerous task of serving the papers. He confronts Mayo at his ranch and learns he has misjudged him, but Nancy scorns him. She tried to shoot Lobell to save her brother, paroled on good behavior, from killing him. Shamrock bullies Lobell into appointing him deputy sheriff. Maginnis, a stable boy, is wanted, according to Lobell, across the border as a killer. Shamrock senses that Lobell, for some reason of his own, plans to have the lad shot while "attempting to escape" on the trip across the border. Lobell sends Shamrock to see Hyatt. Shamrock convinces the Hyatts he is with them, and persuades Mayo to leave the ranch with Nancy and Matt, the foreman, till they can investigate. He tells Lobell that the ranch will be given up peacefully. Shamrock overtakes the posse riding out with Maginnis and rescues him. The lad tells Shamrock that Lobell had conspired to have his father lynched because of a gold claim he'd found that Lobell was after. Shamrock sends the lad to Hyatt's hiding place, then goes to call on the banker, Gillespie, for further information, and finds him killed. Lobell has planted Hyatt's keys in the bank's vault. A posse is formed to capture Hyatt as the banker's murderer. Shamrock gallops off to warn Hyatt. He sends Hyatt and Maginnis off and, not trusting Lobell, hides behind a bowlder till the posse leaves, ready to protect Nancy if necessary.

REMORSE.

Shamrock fisted his hands and buried his face in his arm, trembling. All the bitter hardness of his life, his indifference to the decent things, his wild and savage years of living rose up to accuse him. What right had he to talk to her, to touch her, to claim even so much as her friendship when he was fouled with blood, with all the marks of a cheap gunman and saddle bum?

"Hell, it ain't for me," he muttered.

He stood up, the image of her there by the fire before him, and started blindly up the hill.

Then he became aware that he had stumbled carelessly and kicked several rocks so that they started rolling down the hill.

Instantly he faded back into the shadow of the bowlder, cursing.

He heard Nancy call to Matt.

"What was that, Matt?"

"Likely one of Lobell's gunnies waitin' for Mayo," Matt growled. "I'll see."

Shamrock heard him labor up the slope, then pause. "Come out of there!" Matt ordered.

Shamrock did not move, hoping that Matt's common sense would warn him away from a gunman hiding behind a rock. But Matt came on.

When Shamrock saw discovery inevitable he stood up.

"It's me, Matt."

Matt, ten feet off, lowered his six-gun and looked down at Nancy, who had seen and recognized Shamrock.

"You," she called softly. "Is anything wrong?"

The two men walked down to the fire, and Matt went over to the horses again.

Shamrock faced Nancy, the rifle slacked in his arm.

"Is anything wrong? Did they get Mayo?"

"No. They're waitin' for me."

"Why did you come back?"

"I—I don't trust that Lobell."

Nancy's eyes were searching his face. "You mean you heard it all? You were there when the posse came?"

Shamrock nodded curtly.

"But Matt was here. If they wanted to kill us you couldn't have done much against thirty of them. Besides, it was dangerous."

Shamrock said nothing.

"Or is it that you are spying on us for Lobell," Nancy said, and as soon as she said it she flushed. "I shouldn't have said that," she murmured, looking at Shamrock with puzzled eyes. "But it's queer—your helping us. Why should you?"

"Let it go," Shamrock said, after a pause.

"But why should you?"

"I was part of the cause of your gettin' in it," he said tonelessly. "I owe it to you, I reckon."

Nancy's eyes were still searching his face. "I never know when you are sincere," she said haltingly. "Is that why you're doing it, because you think you owe it to us?"

"Mostly."

"And what's the rest?" Nancy said, all the softness gone out of her voice.

Shamrock looked away, his face hard, as if he were stubbornly waiting to be dismissed.

"Is it because you think Mayo will pay you—with money? He won't. We haven't any."

Shamrock's gaze flicked back to settle on her face, his eyes blazing his hurt and denial.

Nancy saw it. "Then what is it?" she asked.

"You wouldn't understand," Shamrock said harshly. "I better go."

"But what is it?" she persisted.

Shamrock half lifted a hand in a gesture of protest, arrested the movement, then looked down at his hand curiously. When he lifted his face his eyes were somber and steady.

"It—it was you," he said huskily. "I"—he paused, looking at her face with hungry, quiet eyes—"—I better go," he finished, and turned on his heel.

Slowly a look of comprehension came over Nancy's face. "O. I didn't know," she murmured. "I'm sorry—terribly, terribly——"

"Let it go," Shamrock said tonelessly. He looked at her a long moment, then turned and walked out of the circle of firelight.

"Please! Come back!" Nancy cried after him, her voice tortured with remorse.

Shamrock did not even turn, but made his slow way up the slope.

Nancy stood watching him until long after he had disappeared from sight and Matt had returned to the fire.

When she turned there were tears in her eyes. She ran to Matt and buried her face in his shoulder. Although he had not heard a word, Nancy knew he understood.

"But I was so cruel to him, Matt. Why didn't I know? Why didn't you tell me?"

"Did you want to know?" Matt asked gently.

She looked up at him and nodded mutely.

"I thought you did. And things bein' that way I reckoned he was the man to say it—not me."

* *

The rest of the night was spent in work, hard, painstaking work that brought forth all the trail cunning of Shamrock and Hyatt. They were out to blot their trail. They circled far down to pick up the posse trail, then came back over it, trusting to its scuffed anonymity to hide their tracks. They left it twice on rock, came back to it, and only at the lake left it for good.

Here the posse had stopped to drink their horses. Shamrock waded the Blue into the shallow shore water, Hyatt and Maginnis behind him. They left the lake on a slope of granite that fingered out into the water and followed it back to a dry and rocky stream bed, followed it out to another rock outcrop and wound in a perfect maze of confused direction until the rock petered out.

Then they headed for the peaks, Hyatt in the lead. The best man Lobell could put on their trail would spend two days on it even if he were to succeed, and Hyatt knew that none of the ranchers would have the patience to persevere that long so close to home.

By daylight they were high in the mountains, and a chill wind was blowing down from the peaks that the deep pines smothered but did not hush.

It was here, just at sunrise, in the mouth of a small box canyon just below timber line and out of the wind that they camped. They had two slickers and a single blanket between them for sleeping and two pounds of jerky for food which had been left in Hyatt's saddlebag.

Guard Child's Rest at Christmas Time

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

As an experienced mother to inexperienced ones, let me suggest that you safeguard the younger children's nerves and digestion against the great excitement that is caused by Christmas anticipation and by the doings and emotions of the day itself.

Foresight, as some one has said, is better than hindsight. So heed my precaution and prevent that upset stomach or that upset disposition, or those dark circles of fatigue under their eyes—aftermaths of Christmas for so many children.

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Anticipation of this great day for children covers quite a long time, but it is on the 24th and 25th of December that you need to stage manage them. They'll have lots more fun if you do.

Don't let their routine get all shot to pieces. I don't mean by that that you should rush them off to bed on Christmas eve so they haven't time to savor the occasion. But start their bath and the hanging up of stockings and such things early enough so they can calm down and get to bed at a decent hour.

On Christmas day let them have goodies, but the kind that are not too rich. Certainly don't let them eat everything and anything on the dinner table, and from boxes and in the kitchen.

Be sure that they are taken from their entrancing new toys long enough to have a nap. Also bundle them into their outdoor things and let them get some play and fresh air.

All this doesn't mean that they shouldn't participate in the fun and talk and games. You don't need to make a fuss about your precautions. Just keep an eye on them and manage quietly. This will prevent upset digestions, undue fatigue, and perhaps several days of irritability or out-and-out bad temper. And last but not least, it will insure them a much more enjoyable Christmas.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in the Sunday Tribune.

Even the Buds Stay Home on Christmas Eve

Family Night Observed in Most Homes.

Palmer house the Interfraternity club will hold its tenth anniversary ball on New Year's eve and that night in the Louis XVI. room of the Hotel Sherman the Beverly Hills center of the Infant Welfare society will be giving its sixth annual supper party.

Reveal Engagement of Gertrude Gaylord.

From Pasadena comes news of the party given there last Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. George Snow Gaylord, former Chicagoans, to announce the engagement of their daughter, Gertrude, to Eugene Leslie Bruce, son of Mrs. Irene Cattell Bruce of South Pasadena. No date is set for the wedding.

Miss Gaylord was educated at Farmington and the Spence and Finch schools in New York and the Westridge school in Pasadena. Mr. Bruce is a graduate of California Institute of Technology and of the Vosberg School for Boys at Catalina Island. Receiving with the Gaylords and Miss Gertrude at the announcement tea was Mrs. Frederick Ruppel, the former Margaret Gaylord Brunker.

Margo Siqueland to Be June Bride.

Col. and Mrs. Tryggve A. Siqueland have issued invitations to a dinner next Monday at their home at which they formally will announce the engagement of their daughter, Margo, to Dr. Johannes Zimmer of Oslo, Norway.

Miss Siqueland met her fiancé a little more than a year ago when she and her sister, Miss Alyce Siqueland, were visiting in Norway. By coincidence Dr. Zimmer, who was then finishing his medical studies at the University of Oslo, is a grandson of Col. Siqueland's family physician during his boyhood in Norway.

Dr. Zimmer and his mother, Mrs. William Zimmer, are coming from Norway in June for the wedding, and in July he and his bride will return to Oslo. Later they plan to go to Vienna, where Dr. Zimmer will take postgraduate work in surgery.

Tell Engagement of Joyce Whitman.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland D. Whitman of Winnetka are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Joyce, to Ralph T. Hinton Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Hinton of Manteno, Ill. Miss Whitman is a graduate of Wellesley college and Northwestern university. Mr. Hinton attended Beloit college and Northwestern university, where he is continuing his postgraduate work, having received his M. A. in psychology there last year.

Wilton B. Martin will play Santa Claus this afternoon to the children who attend the annual Christmas party that the Drake hotel gives for the youngsters of the neighborhood. Miss Katherine Waller will tell stories to the little guests as they wait for Santa to come out of the great open hearth in the lounge. And after the presents from Santa's sack have been distributed there will be ice cream and cake for all.

North Shore Alumni Will Go Caroling.

The Alumni association of the North Shore Country Day school, augmented by the school's high school choir, will go caroling this evening as is their custom. All of former North Shore students at home from college, among them several of the season's debutantes, welcome this opportunity for a gettogether.

The carolers all will go to Mrs. Walter Strong's home after they have completed their rounds, for hot drinks and sandwiches.

Because it is Christmas eve there will be no performance of the Ballet Russe at the Auditorium tonight. Last night Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carpenter entertained President and Mrs. Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago, and the Tiffany Blakes at dinner and then took them to see the ballet. Others who had seats last night included the Potter Palmers, the Lloyd Laflins, the Roy Dickeys and the Scott Bonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Bruce Hakes of Oak Park have been receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, their first child, on Nov. 24, the birth date of his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Zoe D. Sutherland, also of Oak Park. The infant's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce E. Hakes of Evanston.

Miss Betty Leigh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude M. Leigh of London, England, has reached Chicago in the course of a two-year trip around the world, and is visiting the Berthold A. Cronsons on East 48th street. Miss Leigh expects to be back in England in time for the coronation.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Bette Jane Hutchinson, daughter of Mrs. Harvey Hutchinson Jr. of Shaker Heights, Cleveland, O., to John Baker Townsend of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Townsend of Binghamton, N. Y., will take place tomorrow. Mr. Townsend and his bride will live in the Marshall Field Garden apartments.

The wedding of Miss Anita Forch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Forch, 5342 Hutchinson street, to Forrest Woods, son of Col. and Mrs. G. F. Woods of Chicago, will take place at 8 o'clock this evening in the chapel of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Evanston. There will be a reception afterward in the parish house. Mr. Woods and his bride will live in Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Green, 5515 Hyde Park boulevard, announce the marriage of their daughter, Minna, to Bernard H. Platoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Platoff, yesterday at the Hotel Sherry.

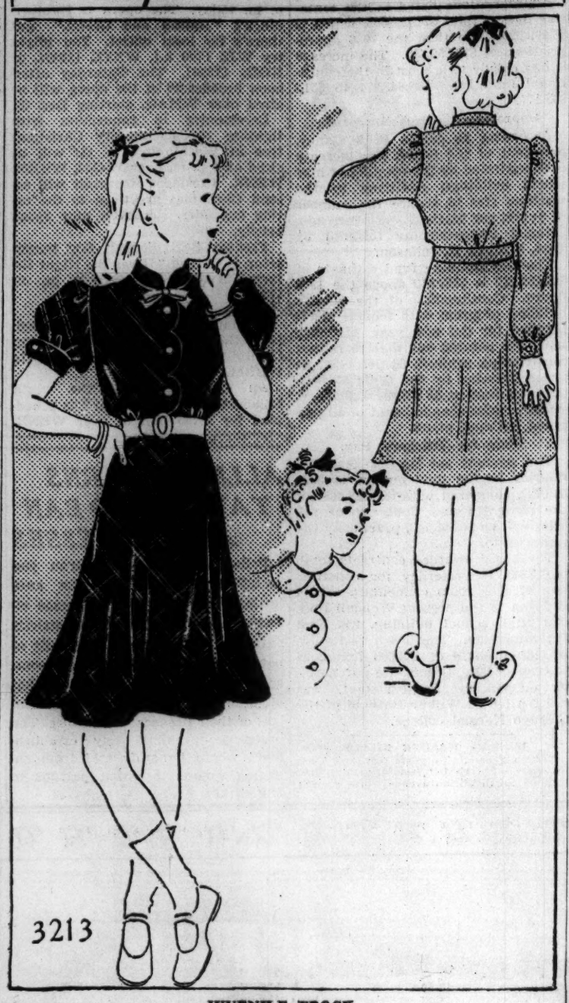
For Style Conscious Juvenile



JUVENILE FROCK.

Everything about this little dress is so dashing that your clothes conscious youngster will love it on sight. It has the advantage of being extremely simple to make, and it is flattering to the immature silhouettes of growing girls. Many of the fashionable details of adult frocks are found in this model. There is a pert little stand-up collar enhanced by a brief bow. The bodice closing is scalloped and trimmed with buttons. The sleeves are puffed and have tailored shirt cuffs which also have a button for added charm. The bodice is gathered softly into the skirt, creating desirable fullness in the waist while the skirt adheres to slender contours. Flare is prominent in the hemline.

If the young miss so desires, the frock may have a Peter Pan collar instead of the mandarin variety, and the sleeves may be long instead of short.

Plaid woolen fashioned the original of this little model. The little bow at the neckline is of red velvet and the patent lether belt matches it.

Tyrolean prints might be selected, too, since they are beautifully girlish. Soft woolens are definitly in order, as well as gayly patterned silks which are available in a wide variety.

Style No. 3213 is designed for sizes 4, 6, 8, and 10 years. Size 8 requires 1¾ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅛ yard of 35 inch contrasting and ½ yard of ribbon for the bow.

Divide Yule Custody of Astor Child

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Mary Astor and Dr. Franklyn Thorpe have arranged a Christmas division of custody of their baby, Marylyn. Moreover, the doctor has bought Mary a present and Mary has gone shopping with Marylyn to buy a remembrance for the baby's father. After the holidays the baby goes back to the actress' custody until summer.

All the studio dress designers are advising their beautiful actress clients that the smart thing this spring will be tailored outfits.

The recovery of Pat O'Brien's little adopted daughter, Margaret, after several weeks of serious illness will make Friday "the happiest Christmas" Pat has known. Pat's parents from Milwaukee and his wife's folks will assemble for a reunion.

Robert Taylor's present to Barbara Stanwyck, the girl friend, is a watch not much larger than a dime and just about as thin. It is set in a ring and guaranteed to keep time.

Gilbert Adrian, Metro studio's designer of women's clothes, has been urged by the Monte Carlo Russian ballet to design the costumes for their ballet production next year.

Freddie Bartholomew's tutor is Russell L. Van Scoyk, former football and basketball player at University of Kentucky, and tutor Van Scoyk has been taking pupil Bartholomew during the last few weeks on trips to Mount Wilson astronomical observatory, through the Los Angeles public library, and to Sunday professional football games.

Cecil De Mille for his new picture, "The Buccaneer," can't find enough flintlock guns in Hollywood to equip the pirates and soldiers and he has ordered Paramount studio mills to make him several hundred reproductions. There are less than 200 actual flintlocks in the film colony prop rooms.

Bette Davis was giving a magazine writer an interview in which she used the expression that she had been "licked to a frazzle" by Warner Brothers in her English lawsuit to have herself declared a free agent. "You weren't licked to a frazzle," the studio spokesman objected. "Warner Brothers won the suit, but they know you have a side to it also. You mustn't say you were licked to a frazzle because it isn't becoming in a glamorous girl to admit she has been subjugated." This observer's opinion after listening to the conversation and looking at Bette is that anybody who thinks he has dynamic Miss Davis subjugated is badly fooled.

Hazel Brooks, the American Airlines stewardess who accompanied Warner's "Gold Diggers" singing and dancing girls on their sky hop about the country early this month, has been given a screen test at the studio.

Richard Boleslawski, author of hit novels and director of hit movies, made his own metal candlesticks to give to his friends as Christmas gifts.

'Tis the day before Christmas and all through the house every creature is stirring, even the mouse [if there is one, although we hope there isn't!]. For the day before Christmas is no time for anybody to sit and twiddle thumbs. There's work to be done, especially in the kitchen if there's to be a holiday feast tomorrow.

When the fowl is stuffed, the dessert made and put away, the silverware shined, the table centerpiece finished and the old piano stool dusted off to make an extra chair at the long table tomorrow, it's time to think of a yuletide wassail. The word wassail, in case any one needs reminding, comes from the Scandinavian and means "be thou well." It is an old, old custom to drink to the health of one's friends and relatives at Christmas. In England, as in most other countries, this was done by drinking a spiced ale or wine, but a wassail may be made of spiced cider or fruit juices and will carry just as many good wishes for the well-being of friends.

The drink usually is served hot. Any of the following drinks may be served as a yuletide wassail, before or after the Christmas dinner, or on Christmas eve, tonight. With cakes or holiday cookies, a wassail makes intriguing party refreshment.

Mulled Cider Wassail.

[Serves ten.]

2 quarts cider
1 cup brown sugar
1 small stick cinnamon
6 cloves
1 teaspoon allspice

Tie spices in a bag and add them, with the sugar, to the cider. Place in a kettle over a low fire and heat for fifteen minutes. Do not allow to boil. Remove the spices and serve the cider in punch glasses.

Twelfth Night Wassail.

[To be served cold.]

1 quart cranberries
6 cups water
2 cups sugar
1 cup orange juice
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
1 quart ginger ale

Cook the cranberries in 4 cups of water until soft. Crush and strain. Boil sugar and the rest of the water for five minutes. Add to the cranberry juice and chill. Add the fruit juices and, just before serving, the ginger ale.

Fruit Christmas Wassail.

1 quart grape juice or sweetened cranberry juice
2 quarts water
2 cups sugar
½ teaspoon whole cloves
1 stick cinnamon
Thin slices of lemon rind

Boil the sugar, water, lemon rind, and spices together until well flavored. Add the fruit juice. Bring to boiling point and serve.

Yuletide Wassail.

[Serves eight.]

6 pared soft baked apples
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¾ cup granulated sugar
1 pint ale or beer
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1 quart ale
¾ cup sherry wine

Bake the apples as usual, cored and with sugar filled centers. Cool them. Add the spices and sugar to the pint of ale or beer and heat it, but do not allow it to boil. Stir occasionally, and add the lemon rind, ale, and sherry. Stir occasionally until hot. Add the apples, pour the wassail into a big punch bowl and serve from it.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

THE REVERSE.

Assume that the opener, with suits of equal length, but with a near-minimum, had chosen entirely on the principle of rank. The bidding then would have gone:

North	South		North	South
1 ♥	2 ♦	instead of	1 ♣	1 ♦
3 ♣			1 ♥

A progression of two rounds, contrary to both the principle of economy of bids and the added strength requirements for the higher rounds. This, although it does not actually bid the suits in reverse order of their rank, has the same effect of forcing partner to make his choice at the level of three-odd, and must, therefore, show at least as good a hand as the reverse shows.

Summing up the influence of the strength of the hand on the choice of suits:

Avoid the necessity for a reverse at a higher level if the hand contains less than four [sometimes three and one-half] honor tricks. With about four honor tricks or three and one-half with well padded suits, the normal choice of opening bid [in accordance with principles of length and rank] should be followed even though this may necessitate a reverse in a higher round.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 no trump	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the spade queen, and declarer won. Only eight top tricks were in sight, but the heart suit offered a splendid chance for building the ninth. At the second trick, therefore, declarer led a heart, but unfortunately he led the wrong heart! The heart layout with which he had to work should have dictated the proper sequence of heart leads. He could see that if the suit broke 3-2, virtually any method of play would return three heart tricks, but that if one defender had four, it mattered a great deal how the play was handled. If East had four, nothing could be done about it, since his minimum of two honors and ranking spot cards would lie over dummy's nine. No insurance could be taken against this, but there was a simple way to guard against a similar holding in the West hand.

Declarer's first heart lead should have been the ace, not a low card. When the ten dropped from East's hand it would have been an elementary safety play then to have led toward dummy's king-9-4 and, if West played low, put up the nine spot. If East won this, it merely would prove that the suit was going to break. As it happens, the nine would have held the trick.

Obviously, if West should split his honors at the second heart lead [which would be bad and tantamount to showing his cards to the declarer], dummy's king would win, and later a third lead be made toward the guarded nine spot. It would be difficult to devise a more elementary safety play than this.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Kindly advise how the following should be bid:

Opener	Responder
♠ A 7 6 4 2	♠ None
♥ A 6	♥ Q 10 4 3 2
♦ K 5 3	♦ A 8 4 2
♣ Q 10 5	♣ A J 6 3

Answer: Correct bidding is as follows:

Opener	Responder
1 spade	2 hearts
2 no trump	3 no trump

The opener's two no trump rebid is slightly shaded, but he must rebid, and has no better choice. Responder's three no trump is based on much the same reasoning.

Hair Beauty Is Dependent on Daily Exercise of the Scalp

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

You are going to hear considerable from now on about exercise for the scalp. You are going to hear so much about it, in fact, that you'll be forced into taking up this new way of treating hair and scalp.

Women finally have come to understand that all is not hair beauty that you get from regular salon appointments to have the hair dressed. They see that, in spite of the well dressed hair and the smart cut, the sheen, luster, the vitality that makes hair truly beautiful do not come from the simple business of having the hair dressed.

Every woman knows, just as well as any of us advisers on the subject, that a normal, healthy scalp makes hair beautiful. But how comparatively few get around to putting this information to practical use! However, as said, you will be getting around to it presently, since beautiful hair competition is going to force you to action. If your hair is dry and brittle, say, no one is going to tell you it's lovely even though you have just parted with a good few dollars to have it expertly styled, trimmed and set. If the hair is excessively oily, no one is going to take you aside and whisper that your hair looks perfectly gorgeous.

So, don't wait until every one is doing it. Get your locks agleaming right away by the simple business of exercising and massaging the scalp just as consistently as you now use cream on your face daily. Exercise for hair and scalp is no complicated performance. With a little practice you can get the trick of using fingers the scalp over, working to loosen the scalp skin free of the bony structure. Use thumb and finger pressure as you work over the entire head. Or, if you feel yourself inadequately equipped as a scalp masseuse, be a brusher then. Get one of the brushes with widely spaced bristles. The brushes with bristles set in wavelike rows strand the hair, penetrate readily, and guarantee a satisfactory scalp stimulation.

But there's a trick in brushing hair. Don't drop the head down and whack away at the top hair with the brush. You get no scalp massage to speak of this way. Brush upward and outward. This raises the hair so that the bristles easily reach the scalp. Brush the back of your head from hairline to crown. Begin at the neckline and work up, going from ear to ear. Take up small sections at a time until the entire head of hair is brushed. Make it a five minute treatment everytime. While using the brush, wipe it on a towel several times during a brushing. And wash the brush often in bath suds of mild soap and tepid water. Rinse and lay it on its side to dry, in the sun, if possible.

Nourishing Cream for Neck.

Interested: Massage the neck with a nourishing cream. Begin at the base of the neck and work upward and outward toward the ears. Follow this with a patting movement to quicken the circulation. Remove the cream with tissues, and apply an astringent lotion.

Faulty Diet May Dry Skin.

L. P.: Look to your diet. Often it is at fault when the skin is too dry. Eat more butter, choose fatty meats, and indulge freely in cream on your desserts. In addition, use a nourishing cream on your skin, especially at night.

HOPKINS DENIES HE WILL RESIGN AS HEAD OF WPA

Refuses to Give Estimate on Funds Needed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins today dismissed as "cockeyed" reports that he will resign unless his demand for a 750 million rather than a 500 million dollar deficiency appropriation for unemployment relief is met by President Roosevelt.

"There is no difference between the President and me at all," Hopkins snapped after a White House conference. "There is nothing to the report that I am to quit. It is a cockeyed story."

Asked whether he will seek 750 million dollars to continue WPA for the last five months of the present fiscal year which ends June 30, Hopkins said, "I can't answer that. You'll have to get your reply from the President." The President has repeatedly said he will not ask congress for more than 500 million dollars to continue works relief. He hopes to get additional money from unexpended WPA allocations to other departments.

No Differences, He Says.

Hopkins also refused to estimate what funds he will need to continue WPA work on the present scale of expenditure. His reply was, "I can't tell you what I will need. Anything the President wants is all right with me. We have no differences."

Asked specifically whether he will have sufficient funds to carry on his administration until the end of the fiscal year he replied, "From my point of view we never have enough to care for the unemployed, but I am not disturbed about the deficiency appropriation bill. It's up to congress in the last analysis."

Hopkins called at the White House to discuss the deficiency relief bill and the National Youth administration. For the NYA portion of his call he was accompanied by Charles Taussig, president of the American Molasses company and Wall street sugar operator, who has held various New Deal advisory posts. Taussig, who recently hired No. 1 Brain Truster Rexford Guy Tugwell after the latter ceased to be an asset to the New Deal, is chairman of the NYA advisory council.

Accompanied by Taussig.

While Hopkins was questioned for fifteen minutes by newspaper men, Taussig stood impatiently in the chill December air in front of the White House offices waiting to be photographed with Hopkins. Hopkins made no effort to cut short the questioning even though Taussig turned and beckoned through the glass of the door of the executive offices.

Asked whether he had any intention of joining Taussig's molasses company Hopkins roared with laughter. Taussig is known to New Dealers as a hard bargainer.

Hopkins refused to give a shadow of an estimate as to relief needs for the coming fiscal year which are to be drafted late in the spring. He indicated, however, that any estimate will await completion of the proposed census of unemployed.

SLEEPS WITH HER EYES SHUT FIRST TIME IN 16 YEARS

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The "girl with a new face," 18 year old Ruth Williams of Eldorado, Ark., said today in a letter to surgeans who aided her that she feels "like spending every hour of my life peeping into a mirror."

"It's no vanity," the letter continued. "It's just pride and gratitude over the new face you doctors have given me."

Since she was 2 years old she had been unable to sleep with her eyes closed because of burns suffered in a fall on hot cinders. Her eyebrows and one eyelid were destroyed, the forehead and cheeks were badly burned, and her nose was pulled out of position.

Now, after a series of nine operations, she can close her eyes without great effort—and she has a new face.

She underwent her first operation in July, 1935. Last Oct. 16 this daughter of a farmer went home with "the ability to look the world in the face," as her chief surgeon put it.

Skin was grafted from her thighs to her cheeks and forehead; her eyebrows and eyelid were restored with her own hair, and the nose was moved to its proper position.

Cold Kills Mate on Way Home; Widow Sues Saloon

Mrs. Mazzon Tyrrell and John Tyrrell, widow and son of James C. Tyrrell, former Libertyville barber, filed suit in Circuit court in Waukegan yesterday for $20,000 under the dramshop act against Archie W. Foss, Libertyville tavern keeper, and August Bockelmann, owner of the building in which Foss's tavern is located. Tyrrell was frozen to death during a sub-zero wave last Feb. 11. The bill charges that he lost his life because he had become intaxicated in Foss' tavern before starting home.

Clarence H. Mackay Will Quit Hospital for Holiday

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Clarence H. Mackay, president of the International Telephone and Telegraph company, who has been ill for some time at Doctor's hospital, will be home for Christmas, business associated said today. Far from being in a critical condition, as has been reported, he has recovered from his recent illness, it was said.

SEEK TWO CHECK ARTISTS.

Austin police yesterday were seeking a well dressed man about 35 years old and his blonde woman companion after the couple had cashed two bogus checks for $9.12 each in food stores at 4956 Race avenue and 5010 Ferdinand street.

PROPOSE SCHOOL BUDGET FOR 1937 OF $74,121,005

Increase of 3½ Millions Over Current Year.

The tentative 1937 school budget estimates, submitted to the board of education yesterday, indicate the system will follow much the same financial standards next year as it has in 1936. The figures show teachers' salaries will remain on the present basis and that economy measures adopted in 1933 will continue. The board voted to hold the first public hearing on the new budget at 10 a. m. on Jan. 6.

Appropriations listed in the tentative figures total $74,121,005, which is $3,509,929 more than the 1936 appropriations of $70,852,632. The increase is due chiefly to a boost in the educational fund from $48,848,977 to $51,938,177.

Improvements Cause Increase.

According to James B. McCahey, president of the board, the increase is necessitated by the opening of new school buildings, additions to the teaching staf to reduce the number of pupils per teacher, and other educational improvements fostered by Supt. William H. Johnson.

The 1937 building fund estimate of $13,452,212 is $362,812 above the 1936 figure. Continuation of the board's building program with federal aid is planned for the new year, McCahey said. He pointed out that to reduce construction projects 66 per cent, as urged Tuesday by the Civic Federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency, would require abandonment of all proposed building plans.

More for Teachers' Pay.

The amount set up for teachers' salaries in the new budget is $29,065,722, compared with $28,986,468 for the present year. Civil service salaries will be $6,866,723, practically the same as for 1936.

The board awarded contracts totaling $345,778 yesterday for construction of a 30 room elementary school addition to the present Wendell Phillips High school building, 244 East Pershing road. The board also authorized purchase of 133,000 textbooks to cost $76,000. One of the purchases, an elementary English text, was written by W. Wilbur Hatfield of the Chicago Normal college.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Globe circling messages of peace and good will from station N-O-E-L will fill the air today and tomorrow. Throughout the western world multitudes were up early today to hear the scheduled broadcast of Pope Pius from Rome. His christmas message was to be given at 5:30 a. m., central standard time [WBBM, WMAQ, WCFL]. It was to be preceded by a 15 minute program of music.

From this time on until Lionel Barrymore gives his annual interpretation of "Scrooge" on tomorrow evening's Hollywood Hotel hour there will be few programs in which the Christmas note does not predominate.

At 12:50 p. m. today an international broadcast from Bethlehem and Jerusalem is scheduled over WCFL-NBC. Carols are to be broadcast from the Church of the Nativity.

First of the Metropolitan Opera broadcasts of the season will be aired over the NBC-Blue network at 1:20 p. m. today. The opera is Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel." But there's no local outlet. You might try WJZ [760 k.], WXYZ, [1240], or KOIL [1260]. The Saturday afternoon broadcasts of the opera will be aired over WMAQ, starting Dec. 26.

Ceremonies in connection with lighting the community Christmas tree in Washington, D. C., will be aired at 4 p. m. over W-G-N, WBBM, WENR. President Roosevelt will extend Christmas greetings to the nation and Mrs. Roosevelt may speak briefly.

Freddie Bartholomew, boy screen actor, is to read "'Twas the Night Before Christmas" at 3:30 p. m. on WMAQ.

A midnight mass will be relayed from the Church of Ara Coeli atop Capitoline hill in Rome at 5 p. m. via WBBM.

An elaborate round the world broadcast of "Holy Night" is scheduled for 10:45 tonight over WENR, WMAQ, and WCFL. The broadcast will start from Hallein, Austria, burial place of Franz Gruber, author of the carol. Then Prof. Felix Gruber, his grandson, will sing the song. Following that a children's chorus will take up the number. As the rendition from Austria fades a New York chorus will continue the theme to orchestral accompaniment. There will be other versions from Buenos Aires, San Francisco, Honolulu, Manila.

Other Christmas features today include:

9:45 a. m.—WCFL—Christmas party on the decks of the Alameda-San Francisco ferryboat.

3:45 p. m.—WCFL—Capt. William Wincapan, "The Flying Santa Claus."

5—WMAQ—Christmas Carols from Grand Central terminal.

5:30—WBBM—President Eamon de Valera of Irish Free State extends Christmas greetings.

5:35—WCFL—American Legion Christmas—Commander Harry W. Colmery to speak.

8—WLS-WENR—Walter Hampden in Jerome K. Jerome's Christmas play, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back."

9—WENR—Christmas Jamboree with Roy Shield's music; Don McNeill interviewing Mary Christmas; Carols from International House at University of Chicago; Noble Cain's a capella choir and Sylvia Clark as Mrs Pennyfeather.

9—WBBM—Leopold Stokowski directs a symphony orchestra and Edwin Hill interviews people in various cities to whom Christmas means just another working day.

10:15—WBBM—U. of C. carillon recital, with Frederick Marriott.

10:15—WENR—Wells Hively's adaptation of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol."

11—WBBM—Howard Barlow and symphony orchestra in carol program.

11:20—WENR—Paul Whiteman's Christmas concert.

11:30—WCFL—San Francisco Community sing.

A special feature of Christmas night will be a program entitled "Spirit of Christmas," by the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra, directed by Eugene Ormandy, at 9 p. m. over WBBM-CBS. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick will give a Christmas message entitled "Good Will to Men."

ALLMAN WARNS TAVERNS TO BAN ALL HOSTESSES

Police Commissioner Allman yesterday announced that the anti-hostess ordinance, which became effective on Tuesday, will be strictly enforced. During the day details of patrolmen visited night clubs, saloons, and taverns warning proprietors that violation of the ordinance will mean loss of their licenses and closure. The ordinance prohibits any establishment where liquor is sold from engaging women to solicit patrons to buy drinks.

ROBBER OF 300 HOMES IS HELD TO GRAND JURY

Paul Petri, 28 years old, an ex-convict who confessed to breaking into 300 homes in the city, was held to the grand jury on four charges of burglary yesterday by Judge Frank M. Padden in Felony court. Petri's bonds were set at $100,000. In court were fifty-nine persons whose homes had been burglarized to testify against him. Petri was first arrested on Nov. 18 but escaped from two policemen who had taken him to his home at 2651 Burling street to seize some of his loot. He was captured Dec. 12 at 2567 North Clark street.

CATHOLIC YOUTH GROUPS URGED TO COMBAT ATHEISM

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Formation of 371 units of a new group to be known as the Catholic Youth organization to combat "apostles of discontent" in the New York Metropolitan area was called for today by Cardinal Patrick Hayes.

Steps have bee ntaken to affiliate with other diocesan Catholic Youth organizations throughout the country under the same designation.

The pastor of each Catholic parish in Greater New York is asked to appoint an assistant priest to take charge of a unit. In a pastoral letter announcing the plans, Cardinal Hayes said:

"Apostles of discontent, growing daily more numerous and aggressive, openly avow their purpose of stealing our youth and training them to anarchy and atheism. . . . Their zeal is a challenge to us. We cannot sit back and leave the field to them."

Tomorrow morning

YOU'LL REALLY HEAR THE JINGLE BELLS THAT CHILDREN DREAM OF!

IN A COMMUNITY AS BIG AS THIS it will take Santa Claus a long time to fill all the stockings, for he'll try not to miss a single one.

And so, very late in the night, he'll be starting back north . . . with a jingle of bells as Donder and Blitzen and the rest of the reindeer team go prancing away.

Children always hear those bells in their Christmas dreams. But, this year, they will really hear them. So will you. . . and quite clearly . . . if you get up early with the children. Or later, you'll hear them faintly in the distance.

Really and truly you'll hear jingle bells. They'll be on every Bowman steed . . . on all the many routes of Bowman.

They will, we hope, bring back memories of other Christmases when Santa came down the chimney to fill your stocking. They will, we hope, be an extra thrill for youngsters.

You see, many little children have never heard jingle bells on Christmas morning . . . never really heard them!

DE PAUL HANDS ILLINOIS FIRST DEFEAT, 31-25

CRUVER, HUSKY BACK, INJURED IN BOWL DRILL

Phelan Picks Miller to Replace Him.

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—The first injury of the Rose Bowl training period bobbed up in the camp of the Washington Huskies today at Santa Barbara. Jimmy Phelan, coach of the Pacific coast conference champions, announced that Al Cruver, 184 pound second string full back, will not be available for the game on New Year's day against Pittsburgh's Panthers.

Cruver, according to Coach Phelan, suffered three cracked ribs in a blocking drill and he will not be able to play. Cruver is rated as good as Ed Nowogrowski, first string full back.

Miller to Be Substitute.

The injury, however, failed to disturb Coach Phelan. He said he would use Merl Miller as a substitute for Nowogrowski against the Panthers.

"Something like that always is bound to happen," Phelan said. I guess it's just one of those things. I believe Miller will fit in all right."

Panthers in Heavy Drill.

Miller, who weighs 180 pounds, appears in good condition and completely recovered from a broken collar bone which he received in the Washington game against U. C. L. A. on Oct. 10. Miller is a sophomore.

At San Bernardino, the Panthers were hard at work again this afternoon. Coach Jock Sutherland sent the squad through a heavy session. He was pleased with the work of the team under the hot sun.

MARQUETTE MOVES TODAY

Durant, Okla., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—After three days of hard drill at the Southeastern Oklahoma State Teachers college field here, the Marquette university football squad will move on tomorrow to Dallas, Tex., scene of its New Year's day engagement with Texas Christian university in the Cotton Bowl. Coach Frank J. Murray and the Hilltoppers will arrive in Dallas tomorrow noon, in time for an afternoon workout at the Southern Methodist university stadium.

A reserve team, well drilled on enemy plays by Tarz Taylor, who has scouted Texas Christian, went into regular scrimmage against the varsity here today with Bob Hanel and Pat Toal enacting the famous Baugh to Rauch passing combination, the subs completed altogether too many passes to suit the coaching staf. Myles Reif, a senior center, was at guard position with the first string lineup today.

FETE SHRINE PLAYERS

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Shrine Luncheon club and the Intercollegiate Alumni Association of San Francisco today honored coaches and the 44 players of the 1937 annual New Year's day east-west football game.

Dick Hanley, co-coach of the east team, announced his resignation effective after this game but said he will continue in an advisory capacity.

The four coaches—Andy Kerr of Colgate and Hanley, former Northwestern coach, for the east; Babe Hollingberry of Washington State and Percy Locey, assistant dean of Oregon State, for the west—introduced the All-Star players. Bucky Bryan of Tulane, in the University of California hospital with tonsilitis, was absent.

Officials will be Bob Evans [Millikan], referee; Lloyd Yoder [Carnegie Tech], umpire; Rufus Klawans [Chicago], field judge, and bill Kelly [Wisconsin], head linesman. All are donating their services for the game, played each year for the benefit of the Shriners' hospital for crippled children.

SPEED DUQUESNE DRILL

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Coach John [Clipper] Smith ordered longer and harder practice today for his Duquesne university football players as preparations were rushed for the Orange Bowl game with Mississippi State at Miami, Fla., New Year's day.

The squad practiced plays built around Half Backs Boyd Brumbaugh and George Matsik. Smith is counting heavily on this pair.

The Duquesne eleven will entrain Sunday for Miami.

CALL MEETING OF THREE-EYE LEAGUE CITIES

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—A meeting of Three Eye league cities has been called for Sunday noon at the Le Clair hotel, Moline, by Harry R. Scranton, temporary chairman of the loop.

Seven cities are interested in joining the circuit, Scranton says, and all of them have major league backing.

Peoria, Decatur, Moline, Clinton, Ia., Bloomington, Terre Haute and Evansville are ready and Springfield may be sought as the eighth city.

MARQUETTE STRATEGISTS PLAN THEIR ATTACK

Coach Frank Murray of Marquette and his staf, including Capt. Ray (Buzz) Buivid, are shown at Durant, Okla., discussing details of the attack that the Milwaukee team will employ in its game with Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Tex., Jan. 1. Marquette has been in training at Durant all this week and will move on to Dallas today. Left to right are Coach Murray, Buivid, and Coaches Joe Dunn and Tarzan Taylor. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Griffith Sees Peril to Sport in Proselyting

College sports would be wiped out if subsidization ever became a recognized part of athletic programs, Maj. John L. Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner and president of the National Collegiate A. A., said yesterday.

The trend toward "open and honest" handling of the question of recruiting and subsidizing athletes is nothing over which to cheer, Griffith insisted.

"Any one who has given thought to the question," Griffith said, "must realize that if the colleges ever openly entered into the practice of paying players, the sports affected would not endure long. The student bodies and alumni would soon lose interest in a team composed of mercenaries. The colleges would realize that it is not in keeping with educational policies to maintain stables of paid gladiators.

"I do not share the opinions of some that because the amateur ideal is not always maintained in its entirety, that it should be abandoned and a lower principle substituted for it. Specifically, I do not agree that because some college athletes are professionals masking as amateurs we should pay all our players.

"I know there is much more good than bad in college football," he said earnestly. "I also recognize that some practices are bad. But there wouldn't be much sense in destroying a whole barrel of apples because some of them were decayed."

ST. LOUIS BROWNS ADD DES MOINES TO FARM CLUBS

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns of the American league late today signed a working agreement with Des Moines of the Western league.

For an unannounced sum the Browns obtained the privilege of selecting several players from the class A club at the end of the 1937 season. They also will send rookies there for seasoning.

The Browns now have three "farm" clubs. San Antonio of the class A1 Texas league was owned by the major league club before Donald L. Barnes and associates purchased the players and franchise from the Ball estate last month.

Talking It Over

FRIENDS RALLY TO SUPPORT OF HUNK ANDERSON

Charge Dismissal Result of Meddling.

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 23.—(AP)—A group of North Carolina State College alumni, organized as the "friends of Heartly W. [Hunk] Anderson," promised today to air the college's athletic situation before the 1937 general assembly.

Irked by the walking papers handed the former Notre Dame coach the "friends" promised to do "all in our power" to have Anderson's contract renewed as head football coach.

In a resolution passed last night and made public today the Anderson supporters requested the executive committee of the General Alumni association at State to call a special alumni meeting on the Governor's Inaugural day, Jan. 7.

No Right to Meddle.

The purpose of the session, the resolution said, was "to prepare suitable resolutions relative to the need of local self-government at each branch of the university and to present such resolutions to the general assembly of North Carolina."

The friends, said Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the Greater University of North Carolina, had no right to meddle with the athletic situation at State, even though the institution is a unit of the university.

Threatening legal action, Dale Clark, Charlotte alumnus and a member of State's athletic council, blamed Graham for a large portion of the friction which, he said, existed at the institution.

Claims Contract Renewed.

Anderson's three year contract at State, which will expire Dec. 31, was renewed automatically for one year, Clark contended, when the athletic council recommended that he be retained and Col. John W. Harrison approved the recommendation.

Meanwhile, the Hillbilly club, an organization of North Carolina State students, met at Asheville and adopted a resolution expressing confidence in the stand taken by President Frank Graham and Dean Harrelson.

MICHIGAN BEATS WASHINGTON IN OVERTIME, 39-33

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The University of Michigan basketball team won a three game series with the University of Washington by defeating the Huskies, 39 to 33, tonight in an overtime battle.

With the score tied 33 all at the end of the regular time John Townsend and Matt Patanelli each sank a field goal and Townsend added two free throws for the Wolverines.

Last night the Ann Arbor quintet won, 34 to 32, in overtime. The last two games were in marked contrast with the first, in which Washington loped away, 40 to 23.

Three minutes before the end of tonight's game Washington took a 32 to 31 lead. Edmond Thomas shot Michigan ahead by one point with a long basket from the side court. Ed Loverich, fouled by Ferris Jennings, sank a free throw as the gun sounded to send the game into overtime.

MINNESOTA RING GROUP SUSPENDS 5 IOWA BOXERS

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Five Iowa professional boxers were suspended by the Minnesota boxing commission today. Four of them, Mac Carroll, Hank Henkels, Jiggs Driscoll and Bob O'Brien, colored, were banned for unsatisfactory showings, while Jackie Dempsey was suspended for his failure to report that he would be unable to fight on the program scheduled at Rochester, Minn., Dec. 7.

Ma Newell, Harvard's Great Football Star, Liked Only One Sport—Rowing

[This is the third of a series of articles on famous headliners of other years whose careers and contributions to sports have perhaps become obscured by time and the exploits of more widely publicized successors. All of them rank among the greatest in their respective fields.]

BY ARCH WARD.

COACHES George Adams and G. A. Stewart liked the bushy haired, smiling freshman from Phillips Exeter. He was a nice boy and pretty well set up, too. But when they settled down to selecting their 1890 Harvard varsity they passed him up. He was "too small for the line and too slow for the back field."

Undaunted, however, the freshman continued to report and soon impressed Adams and Stewart with his enthusiasm and courage. They wanted to reward him, so they put him in against Phillips Exeter in the opening game of the season. It would please the youngster to oppose his old school. Anyway, there was nothing to lose. Harvard was winning, 41 to 0.

Makes All-American Team Four Times.

They never got Marshall Newell out of the Harvard lineup after that day against Exeter and he went on to make the All-American team four times, the first man to achieve that distinction. He was chosen as the best tackle in football by Caspar Whitney and Walter Camp in 1890, 1891, 1892, and 1893, and there still are a few players of that era who claim Newell's equal never stepped upon a gridiron, although he weighed only 162 pounds when he won his job and 168 when he was graduated.

It was his defensive play that won immortality for Newell. Ma, as he became known to Yale men of his day and succeeding generations, was almost clairvoyant in diagnosing plays. Despite his size, he charged into the massed interference and the Flying Wedge, which other teams took from Princeton, with the fury of a tornado. The late John Heisman, who played against Newell, described him as a man with hands of steel, who trailed the ball with the implacability of a hound.

Yale Makes Mistake of Pounding Newell.

Harvard came down to the Yale game in 1890 with ten consecutive victories, and needed only a triumph over the powerful Eli to complete a perfect season. Yale had assembled one of the most formidable offenses in its history. It planned to continue its supremacy over Harvard by centering its attack on the ever smiling freshman tackle. That was where Yale lost the game. Newell threw back Yale's every assault, and Harvard won, 12 to 6. Yale's only solace was the fact that its touchdown was the second scored against Harvard that season. Amherst had slipped over one early in the year while losing, 74 to 6. Neither, however, had been made over Newell's position.

Success rested lightly on Newell's sinewy shoulders. After his freshman year he made no pretense at liking football. He detested the game and repeatedly gave as his reason for continuing his belief that Harvard needed his help.

Rowing Favorite Sport of This Football Star.

Despite this outspoken dislike for the game, Newell blasted away at the opponents' rush line with every ounce of his energy on every play. It was part of Ma's personal code. Whatever he tackled he tackled for keeps. The only sport that gave him genuine pleasure was rowing. He pulled at bow in the varsity shell in 1891 and 1892. In 1893, his senior year, he rowed No. 3.

Possessed of unlimited optimistic courage, Newell was as popular on all the other campuses of his time as he was at Harvard, where he still is considered the greatest lineman in the school's history and where a gate in the stadium and the varsity boat house have been named for him.

After his graduation he became affiliated with the Boston and Albany railroad and advanced to the office of assistant division superintendent at Springfield, Mass.

Thirty-nine years ago tonight, on Christmas eve of 1897, two brakemen walking through the yards in a blizzard at Springfield came across a body. Finger prints and a pocket folio identified it as Ma Newell. He had been struck by a switch engine several hours before.

ATTACHMENT FOR JACK KEARNS' ARREST ISSUED

An attachment for the arrest of Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, was issued yesterday by Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan upon the plea of Kearns' first wife, Legana, of New York that he is $2,200 in arrears in payments under an alimony settlement. The order was signed when Kearns failed to appear to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court for failure to pay.

Cleveland to Get Pro League Charter in '37

Cleveland, O., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Cleveland Rams, professional football team, will enter the National Professional league in 1937, Frank Strock, club secretary, said tonight.

The Rams were in the American league during the 1936 season. Strock said a National league franchise will be given Cleveland at the next league meeting Feb. 6.

Strock said a syndicate is being formed here with a backing of at least $50,000.

RAMS HAVE GOOD CHANCE.

No action is contemplated on Cleveland's application for a National league franchise until Feb. 6, officials of the Cardinals and Bears said last night. Several cities, including Buffalo, Los Angeles, and Cleveland, have applied for membership, but all requests were tabled at the winter meeting two weeks ago pending George Marshall's disposition of the Boston club.

Marshall since has abandoned a plan to merge his club with Philadelphia, moving it to Washington. This leaves nine clubs in the circuit, with five in the eastern division, and enhances Cleveland's chances of being admitted as the fifth western division club, it was said.

YOST, PHILLIPS LEAD RALLY IN FINAL MINUTES

Illini Sophomores Star.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The Blue Demons of De Paul met the fighting Illini of Illinois in a basketball game at the 132d Armory last night. Although the Illini lived up to their name, they found the Demons positively demoniac, the latter finally handing the Illinois quintet its first defeat of the season, 31 to 25.

The victory not only avenged a one basket defeat by Illinois last season, but also brought De Paul its third decision in five games and an even break with Big Ten competition.

Harvey Boys Carry On.

The folks who came in from Harvey to see their two bright young men, Tom Nisbet and Lou Boudreau, perform for Illinois as they used to for Thornton Township High, were not disappointed. They saw the sophomore pair lead a gallant charge from a 17 to 11 deficit at half time to a 24 to 19 lead with seven minutes to go. Lou finished the contest with Illinois' high total, three baskets and a free throw, while Tom settled for three field goals.

But the visitors from Harvey, and the rest in the crowd of 3,500, also saw long, lackadaisical looking Nick Yost and short, swarthy Willie Phillips play a bit of basketball. They saw this duo share scoring honors with four baskets and two free throws each. With Illinois leading, 24 to 19, it took Nicholas and William to score ten of the 12 points which finally won the ball game.

Wendt Sends Demons Ahead.

De Paul took the lead in the opening two minutes when Yost dropped the first of De Paul's three free throws. Riegel, guilty of the pushing misdeamor which gave Yost his chance, promptly amended this with the first basket of the game. Phillips replied to this with his first field goal, but Henry returned with a midfloor shot which gave Illinois a 4 to 3 lead. That was the last time during the half for the Illini to enjoy an advantage.

A neat side shot by Wendt pulled De Paul ahead and Phillips added to the margin by delivering a free throw on Henry's foul.

Yost spilled a twisting one hand effort through the cords to make it 8 to 4, and after the Illinois offense had been thwarted in a number of serious charges, Wendt scored on an under-the-basket try.

Henry Misses One.

Nisbet collected Illinois' third field goal from a long distance, after Henry had blown a free throw attempt. Boudreau clicked on one of two free throws to make it 10 to 7, but Howlett, Yost, and Phillips collaborated to make it 17 to 11 by half time, the only interruptions being a long shot by Henry and an angle success by Boudreau.

At the outset of the second half the Illini were playing as though they weren't going to allow De Paul a point for the period. Nisbet, Riegel, and Boudreau headed the rally which brought the score 21 to 17 before Wendt scored a free throw for De Paul in the 11th minute.

De Paul Steps Out.

Ed Campion, the blond guard who was the defensive standout of the game, then counted from the free throw line, but Nisbet and Jim Vopicka made it 24 for the Illini.

Here it was that Yost came through in noble style, dropping in a free throw and two baskets to tie the score. Phillips, Wendt, and Pat Howlett finished the job, the first named doing the large share of the chore.

BUTLER, 43; BADGERS, 23

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Butler university's basketball team snapped into action for the first time this season tonight and soundly trounced the formidable Wisconsin Badgers, 43 to 23.

Howard Powell led the Badger scorers with seven points or three field goals and one free throw. Bill Geyer of Butler was high point man for the evening with 12 points on four baskets and four free tosses.

It was Butler's first victory of the season and Wisconsin's second defeat.

Wisconsin took the lead on a free throw but the Bulldogs came back with a field goal and from then on during the first half Butler made more than two points to every one scored by their opponents. Butler scored ten baskets and Wisconsin only two during the first half, which ended 24 to 9 in favor of the Bulldogs.

Although the Badgers played better basketball in the second half, they failed to threaten the Bulldogs' heavy

SILVER SKATES IS TRAINING GROUND FOR CHAMPIONS

Winners Have Gone On to International Fame.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Silver Skates Derbies, which will be held for the twentieth year on Jan. 9 and 10 at the Garfield park lagoon, were created to give the maximum number of Chicago's boys and girls an opportunity to compete fairly for worth while prizes, to foster an already popular outdoor winter sport, and by creating that interest to insure that Chicago always would be well represented in national competition.

That these objectives have been reached is attested by the number of Silver Skates champions who have won national titles and international fame, by the ever increasing number of the age classes, and the number of entries which in the last few years have always been between four and five thousand.

No Entry Fee.

There is no entry fee. Skaters who are 16 years of age and over, however, must register with the Western Skating association, which sanctions the Derbies and other events in the Chicago territory. This registration not only certifies the amateurism of the individual but permits competition in all events for one year. Boys and girls under 16 years of age do not need to register with the association. Contestants may register on the day they report for their preliminary races. All that is necessary now in order to compete in this season's Silver Skates Derbies is to fill out the entry blank and send it to THE TRIBUNE'S sports department before midnight Jan. 3.

The well known story of Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates was the inspiration for naming these races. In 1917, when the first Derby was held, there was only one classification and only 300 men participated. Since then the Derbies have grown until, with the inclusion of the girls' intermediate division this year, there are eight. Forty major prizes, including twenty-four pairs of skates; three gold medals for lap prizes, two team trophies, at least 275 preliminary winner gold medals, and several thousand bronze buttons will be given away.

More than 100 officials, many of whom have served in these races for twenty years, will conduct the Derbies at Garfield park. To these men goes much of the credit for the constant expansion of the program and the success of the tournaments.

Course of Action.

Each contestant will be assigned a number and will be listed in his age class immediately upon receipt of his entry. All names will be printed in a program which will be distributed without charge on the days of the races. After reporting to the clerks on the day of the preliminaries, his racing number printed on cloth will be pinned on his back. Postcards furnishing the numbers will not be mailed out this year.

It is taken for granted that the correct ages of all contestants are given by the managers and coaches of teams. Individual contestants, it is assumed, will compete in their correct age classification. However, in fairness to all skaters, each winner of a preliminary medal will be required to furnish proof of his or her age if this is requested by the officials in charge. Any protest by any competitor or coach will lead to investigation in which the skater must prove his right to compete in the class he has chosen.

MINNESOTA WINS, 34-23

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Minnesota took up where Ohio State left off to deal Creighton's Missouri Valley conference basketball co-champions a 34 to 23 defeat here tonight.

Bob Manly led the Gopher assault which riddled Creighton's disorganized defenses. Manly made five field goals and two free throws to set the night's scoring pace while Johnson accounted for seven points in addition to doing outstanding work at guard.

Martin Rolek, usually the Minnesota spark plug, was badly off form, failing on every try from the floor, though he managed two free throws.

The Gophers held the Jays well in check the first half, permitting not a field goal until after 15 minutes of play and holding a 16 to 7 lead at half time.

SKATING STARS HOLD PREVIEW OF ICE CARNIVAL

Cast of 40 Goes Through Dress Rehersal.

A preview of the fifth annual Chicago Stadium Ice carnival which opens tomorrow night to run for four performances was staged when the new costumes were delivered yesterday.

Two hundred tinseled and spangled costumes were fitted to the cast of forty professional skating stars, the spotlights were turned on, the special musical score was rehersed, and after a long drill in the group numbers the rink was cleared and Supt. Donald MacLeod ordered a squad of thirty men to begin laying out the ice coloring. A Christmas holly design will be painted in the ice.

700 Tiny Trees.

Lights were installed on the 700 tiny Christmas trees which will serve as the ice border and the scenic and property effect were used for the first time in the preview dress rehersal.

Led by the international stars, Idi Papez and Karl Zwack of Vienna, the cast went through the dress rehersal of 22 numbers in two and a half hours with only one minor accident. Miss Bess Ehrhardt, the 20 year old Superior, Wis., girl who has in one year risen from the front row in group numbers to stardom, crashed into a stage railroad locomotive that was steaming across the ice, but after a brief rest was back on the ice to reherse her "Veiling of the Sun" dance.

Varied Program Planned.

Eddie Shipstad and Oscar Johnson in their two character numbers, and Heinie Brock, a skating clown, will provide the comedy acts. The Viennese pair, Idi Papez and Karl Zwack, are rehersing a "lift" number. Roy Shipstad is billed as the "Human Top." The Nelson sisters from Minneapolis will put on their foursome skating act. Everett McGowan and Ruth Mack will be seen in "Café de L'Apache." New group numbers will provide variety.

Tilden Awaits Start of New Pro Net Tour

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—William Tatem Tilden II., his long head sticking out of a big blue blanket, made plans today for his seventh year as a tennis professional. He has a new cast of characters, a new set of detective magazines, a cough like the bark of a dog, and limitless confidence in the durability of his knees and the future of professional tennis.

"You know, professional tennis has progressed to the point where they introduce me as Mr. Tilden now," he beamed. "They used to call me plain Bill."

Satoh Interesting Newcomer.

Most interesting newcomer in the Tilden troupe is Hyotaro Satoh, a sports writer from Tokio.

Satoh says he hopes to be another Tilden, a Japanese Tilden. He is 30 years old and admits he should have started earlier, but he has ambitions nevertheless.

Other members of the troupe will be Vinnie Richards, Martin Plaa of France, and Al Chapin.

"We've always taken only four players before. The extra one's in case I drop dead along the way," Tilden explained. Also in the party will be a manager, a ball boy, 1,000 pounds of canvas court, a few net posts, and the detective stories.

"I read literally hundreds of them every tour," Tilden said. "They're usually scattered all over the room."

Hopes for Open Tourney.

After the tour is finished in the spring Tilden and Satoh will go to England to compete in the world's professional championship in May.

Tilden has no regrets about his professional venture and experience. "I wish I had turned pro long before I did," he says.

He is still hoping that the amateur tennis authorities will some day sanction an open tournament between pros and amateurs, but he's not doing much crusading for it.

"They'll have to do something though. Von Cramm, Budge and Borotra are the only amateurs in the world today with any real color," he said.

He rates Baron von Cramm of Germany as the world's best amateur, with Don Budge of Oakland, Cal., not far behind.

Conservation Club to Conduct Drive on Foxes

Rock Island, Ill., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Members of the Rock River Conservation club will conduct a drive from Dec. 27 to Jan. 3 against foxes, which are blamed in a large measure for the shortage of game this season. The group received the pledge of Warren Hodgett of Moline, district game inspector, for his cooperation in the club's efforts to preserve game. Sportsmen from Moline, Rock Island, East Moline, Coal Valley, and Viola joined the club last night.

In order that each Christmas gift
May be a useful token
Throughout the entire year, we keep
Our eyes and ears wide open.

We know exactly what will fit
Some bedroom, bath or nook;
Who wants gadget for his boat,
And who would like a book.

Then in December's early days
Our shopping is a pleasure—
The gifts are wrapped and tied, and then
Come quiet days we treasure.

There's ample time to cook and load
Ice box and pantry shelf—
We like our Christmas guests to feel
The dinner got itself.

Table Tennis Stars in Meet Here Jan. 1-3

Ranking table tennis stars of the United States will arrive here next week to compete at the Lake Shore Athletic club Jan. 1, 2 and 3, for the intercity championship and for places on the U. S. men's and women's teams which play in world meet in Europe.

Leading the men invaders will be Jimmy McClure, of Indianapolis, who first broke into big time competition two years ago and now ranks No. 1. McClure upset all predictions last spring in the international meet at Prague when he teamed with Bud Blattner, 16 year old St. Louis star, to win the world's doubles title.

Besides McClure, the tournament roster will include Abe Berenbaum, of New York, national champion in 1935 and runner-up to world's champion Victor Barna in Philadelphia last spring and Bud Blattner, number three ranking U. S. player.

Seven cities have qualified teams. New York, the defending title holder, will be challenged by St. Louis, Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit, Kansas City, and Newark, N. J.

NEW YORK A. C. PLANS $150,000 SWIMMING POOL

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—A new outdoor swimming pool, one of the largest and most elaborate in the United States, is being planned by the New York Athletic club for its Travers Island summer home.

The pool, which will cost an estimated $150,000, will be the site for national championship and other title events if all is accomplished according to specifications. Its length for swimming races will be 50 meters. A special section for fancy diving will have a maximum depth of 16 feet.

The pool will be financed by subscriptions and outright donations. No work will be started until the necessary funds covering the entire cost of construction and equipment are on on deposit.

Approximately 2,000 spectators will be able to witness diving and polo at the Travers Island pool, and double that number will be accommodated for the swimming events.

T. O. M. SOPWITH, ARRIVES JUST TO DO SOME FISHING

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—T. O. M. Sopwith, British sportsman and challenger for the America's yachting cup, arrived on the liner Europa tonight, but it's fishing not yachting that will hold his interest this trip.

He said he plans to spend six weeks fishing off the Florida coast with friends on the yacht Caroline. Then he will return to England to supervise preparations for the trans-Atlantic crossing of the Endeavor II., new challenger for the cup, and the original Endeavor, losing entry of the last international series.

They will be towed to the United States in June, he explained, and he will follow shortly afterward to be on hand for the series in July.

Cotton Bowl Participants to Receive Gold Watches

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Members of the Marquette and Texas Christian football teams, who meet in the first annual Cotton Bowl game here on New Year's day, will receive gold watches, J. Curtis Sanford, president of the Cotton Bowl association, announced today. A gold trophy also will be awarded to the winning team.

Baltimore Orioles Buy Schalk from Newark Bears

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 23.—(AP)—John Odgen, general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, announced today the purchase of Leroy A. Schalk, second baseman, from the Newark Bears. The price was said to be about $10,000. Schalk went to the New York Yankees from Oklahoma City in 1932. Last season he batted .266 in 159 games for the Bears.

LOUGHLIN JOINS BLACKHAWKS FOR RED WING CLASH

Teams Meet in Detroit Tomorrow Night.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 23.—[Special.] The Chicago Blackhawks, who are scheduled to battle the Red Wings here Christmas night, arrived here this afternoon from Montreal. The Hawks were joined by Clem Loughlin, who, because of illness, had turned the managerial reins over to Vice President Tobin for the past 10 days.

The Wings and the Hawks have met twice this season. The first clash went to Clem Loughlin's men in Detroit, 2 to 0. The second was captured by Detroit in Chicago when Mush March deflected the puck into the Hawks' net. The fluke play, which materialized in overtime, credited Marty Barry with what proved the winning goal. The final score was 2 to 1.

Romnes Left Behind.

Manager Loughlin was disappointed at not being able to take his star center, Doc Romnes, with him to Detroit. The winner of last season's Byng trophy was left in Chicago in the care of the club physician, who is having more than the usual amount of trouble in alleviating a very troublesome charley horse which has kept Romnes out of three games and will probably keep him out of at least that many more.

Romnes' absence from his accustomed spot between Paul Thompson and Musa March is a serious handicap to not only the Hawks' best scoring line, but to the team itself. Tommy Cook, who prior to Romnes' injury was nursing a sore left leg, is vallantly attempting to fill Romnes' shoes, but his style is hardly suited to the fast skating of Thompson and March.

Wings at Full Strength.

The Red Wings, who were riddled with injuries recently, will, with the exception of Doug Young, be back at full strength for Friday's game, which means that the Blackhawks, if they are to win, will not only have to be unusually effective, but will also have to get a majority of the breaks in the game.

AURIE LEADS SCORERS

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Larry Aurie of the Detroit Red Wings retained the scoring leadership of the National Hocky league with seventeen points, according to official statistics released today covering games up to and including last Sunday.

The Wing sharpshooter had compiled his total on ten goals and seven assists and shared with Johnny Gagnon, veteran Canadien star, the distinction of having the most goals in the league.

Dave Schriner, lanky New York American wing, trailed Aurie by one point, having a total of sixteen on nine goals and seven assists. He topped the Canadian division scorers.

Herbie Lewis and Marty Barry, Detroit; Lynn Patrick, Rangers, and Johnny Gagnon, Canadiens, were deadlocked for third place at fourteen points each.

Medwick Bats in 138 Runs; Leads League

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

In case there should be any lingering doubt about his skill, Joe Ducky Medwick stepped out during the last National league race and did more than a few things with his bat. According to the season's official "slugging" figures, announced yesterday, the St. Louis Cardinals' star outfielder, was the circuit's best in propelling runs across the plate. He was personally responsible for driving 138 across the plate, not to mention his hits for a total of 367 bases which accorded him another front row seat in the final reckoning.

Medwick's leading challenger was Mel Ott, the little Giant, who on a percentage basis captured the slugging title, although driving in three fewer runs than the dynamic Cardinal. Ott's percentage went up because of having batted only 534 times against 636 appearances for Medwick. The Giant outfielder's hits totaled only 314 bases, against Medwick's 367. But Ott did finish with a large edge in the pass department. He walked 111 times and Medwick 34.

Cubs Are Fifth.

Medwick's individual work did much to put the Cardinals at the top in team slugging. The Cardinals led the league in total bases, as well as in the scoring of runs. Only three teams were weaker than the Cubs when it came to extra base hits. The Cubs' total base hitting amounted to 2,120 for fifth place in slugging, a mere matteer of 150 runs less than driven home by the Cardinals. The figures reveal another item about the Cub attack. They hit into 138 double plays, whereas the pennant winning Giants hit into only 116.

The best of the Cubs at driving in runs was Frank Demaree. He accounted for 96, making him tenth in the league on a percentage basis. Billy Herman was fifteenth with 93. Gabby Hartnett was 23d on the list, having driven home 64 runs. Stanley Hack drove in 78 runs. But Herman hit into 12 double plays, Hartnett into 12, Hack into 14, and Bill Jurges into 16. This explains why a lot of hits went to waste.

Vaughan Walks 118 Times.

The best waiter in the league was Arky Vaughan, winner of the batting title in 1935. The Pirate shortstop walked 118 times, leading in this respect for the third successive year. Another honor, although nobody would brag about it, went to Bill Brubaker, also of the Pirates. With a total of 96 he cornered the strikeout championship. Brubaker also hit into three double plays in one game, a performance equaled by Babe Herman of the Reds.

The Giants were the best home team in the circuit. They won 52 and lost only 26 at the Polo grounds. The best travelers were the Cardinals, who registered 44 victories on foreign fields and lost 34. The Cubs won only 37 away from their own Wrigley field. The Cubs won 57 out of 77 at home, so the failure of their pennant quest can be traced directly to stage fright experienced while on the road.

Friends Honor Connie Mack on Birthday

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—More than fifty of Connie Mack's friends, including former players, baseball writers, and club associates, tendered him a surprise luncheon as he celebrated his 74th birthday today.

The veteran manager of the Athletics was at his desk at Shibe park as usual before noon, writing letters and making plans for the 1937 campaign and training trip to Mexico.

Recalls 50 Year Career.

Secretary Bob Schroeder called Mack and told him Bill McCauley, the ground keeper, wanted to see him on an important matter in the clubhouse. Connie hurried down to find the guests seated at long tables.

Responding to a few introductory remarks by Roy Mack, vice president of the club and his oldest son, the veteran manager summarized his long relationship with baseball writers.

"There have been times, perhaps, when things did not go as they should—for those I have only regrets. But on the whole I look back over 36 years of friendly association with the baseball writers of Philadelphia and the other major league cities, and I think I can truthfully say that whenever it was possible I tried to give them a story.

"Sometimes we have tried to keep news from becoming public, and on this I want to make a confession. I have wondered at many things in my 50 odd years in baseball, but the one that has always kept me puzzled was how the writers—especially when every precaution was taken to prevent it—how you fellows always managed to get the news first!"

Receives Pen Set.

Later, after he was presented with a fountain pen set by the Philadelphia chapter, Mack declared his 74th birthday would be one of the best remembered of all.

"I have only one regret," he declared. "It makes me very happy to gather here with you boys, but it would be perfect with my old pal here, too. I refer to John D. Shibe, my partner and friend for 35 years in the Athletics——"

That was all, but as he finished, with the huge birthday cake and the candles and Christmas sprigs festooning the luncheon table, Mack was as close to a show of emotion as his closest observers have ever seen him. John Shibe, only surviving member of the family that helped Connie found the Athletics, is ill.

Seated with him in addition to his sons, Roy and Connie Jr., were Ira Thomas, Lena Blackburne, Phil Haggerty, and Benny and Frank McFarland, associated with the club. Bing Miller of the Boston Red Sox also was present.

Small Montana Sails Today; to Fight Lynch in London

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Benjamin [Small] Montana, Filipino, recognized as flyweight champion by the National Boxing association, is booked to sail on the Aquitania tomorrow for London to fight Benny Lynch, Scotch claimant of the European 112 pound title.

BOOK 8 GAMES FOR GRINNELL FOOTBALL TEAM

Grinnell, Ia., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Grinnell college football team will play at least eight contents during the 1937 season, and possibly nine, according to the tentative schedule released this week by John C. Truesdale, director of athletics. The schedule will not become official until approved by the faculty committee.

One date remains to be filled, and Truesdale indicated it might be filled by Central college, Pella, Ia. There will be four night games, two being played at home.

Grinnell will open its season on Sept. 25 against Cornell college here, and will conclude its season against the St. Louis university at Grinnell on Nov. 20. The schedule:

Sept. 25—Cornell at Grinnell.
*Oct. 1—Iowa State Teachers at Grinnell.
*Oct. 8—Creighton university at Omaha.
Oct. 15-16—Open date, to be filled.
*Oct. 22—Washburn at Topeka, Kas.
Oct. 30—Drake at Des Moines.
Nov. 6—Carleton college at Northfield, Minn.
*Nov. 12—Coe college at Grinnell.
Nov. 20—St. Louis university at Grinnell.

*Night games.

NEBRASKA NEXT ON SCHEDULE FOR LOYOLA QUINTET

Ramblers Go After Their 6th Straight Victory.

Loyola university's basketball team will face its second tough assignment of the year Saturday night when the University of Nebraska, victor over Minnesota, comes to Loyola for the first game between the two schools. Loyola successfully met its first major opponent when Kansas State, also a winner over Minnesota, was turned back, 44 to 32. Besides Kansas State, the Ramblers have defeated Arkansas State 44 to 23, Beloit 42 to 30, Columbia of Dubuque 41 to 18, and Ripon 45 to 17 this season.

Coach Lennie Sachs has used every one of the 12 men on the squad in each game and has not yet decided on a starting lineup. Mike Novak, a 6 foot 9 inch sophomore center, is leading the Loyola scorers with 39 points. He is closely pressed by Wibs Kautz, another sophomore, who has accounted for 34 points from his guard position. The third sophomore to outpoint last year's veterans is Bill O'Brien, a forward, who has 29 to his credit.

Mary Colen, acting captain last season and the leading team scorer for two years, is in fourth place with 25 points, closely pressed by Ed Murray, center for two years, who has 22 points. On the basis of their scoring prowess, this combination may be rated as the first team, but worthy material will be then sitting on the bench in Ed Calihan, Gart Winkler, Billy Lynch, Bob Brennan, Georgie Hogan, Jackie Hayes, and Johnny Brennan.

BRAWNER, ZONA TO BOX 6 ROUNDS ON MAREK CARD

Scrivani and Brown in Preliminaries.

Moss T. Brawner, former novice Golden Gloves heavyweight champion, and Maz Zona, Chicago Heights, have been signed for a six round supporting bout to the ten round windup between Max Marek and Billy Treest at White City next Wednesday.

Andy Scrivini, lightweight, and Johnny Brown, bantamweight, also Golden Gloves graduates, will appear in two other matches, the American Olympic titleholder against Jimmy Richards and Brown against Babe La Varra. Each contest is set for four rounds.

Verne Surby, heavyweight newcomer from Missouri, also will fight on the card. Treest, who will be fighting Marek for the state heavyweight championship, yesterday sparred two rounds with Surby and three with Brawner. After the drill Billy weighed 183 pounds, one more than he expects to carry against Max.

Johnny Erjavec, Duluth 185 pound boxer, anticipates a scrap with Art Oliver at Marigold Gardens Jan. 4. . . . Oscar Rankin left last night for Pittsburgh where he clashes with Al Gainer, New Haven, Conn., tomorrow afternoon. . . . Eddie Pierce, middleweight monarch of South Africa, boxed six rounds yesterday at Trafton's gymnasium, two each with Chester Kozan, Freddy Graham, and Phil Rosenberg, and then departed for Denver, Colo., for a ten round encounter there Monday against Young Joe Louis. . . . King Levinsky has started drills for a bout with Maxie Rosenbloom, ex-light heavyweight titleholder, at Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 5. . . . Jim McMillen will open training in the loop Monday in preparation for a heavyweight wrestling title bout with Everett Marshall here early next month. The Antioch, Ill., challenger is being treated for a cold.

Gov. Horner has postponed filling the vacancy on the Illinois athletic commission created by the death of Commissioner Packey McFarland until Jan. 4. Gene Meany, who resigned as secretary of the board last February, remains the leading candidate. . . . Jack Hartford, boxing instructor at Morgan Park Military academy, has announced the arrival of a 9 pound 11 ounce son. . . . Morrie Feldman, who has leased Rainbo Fronton for the next five years, will offer weekly amateur fight cards there, beginning Jan. 8. . . . The next amateur show at the Madison Athletic club will be held Jan. 8.

SORENSON SEEKS TO REGAIN LEAD IN MIDGET RACES

Shorty Sorenson will try to regain the lead in the point standing for the midget auto racing championship by winning the 30 lap feature Sunday night at the 124th Field Artillery armory, 52d street and Cottage Grove avenue. Sorenson is 18 points behind Duke Nalon, who went into the lead two weeks ago.

Jimmy Snyder is also within striking distance, occupying third rung on the ladder. A victory in the feature and the 15 lap handicap would carry Snyder near the top.

Thorne Donnelley, president of the association, announced yesterday that, owing to the overwhelming demand, it has been decided to admit cars powered with outboard motors to open competition Sunday night for the first time this season.

Seven outboards have qualified to date to start in the time trials. They are cars to be driven by Duke Nalon, Jimmy Snyder, Tony Willman, Art Hartsfeld, Ted Tetterton, Wally Zale, and Harry Lewis. The two-cycle cars will enter competition with the four-cycles which have been setting records at the armory during the current season.

BEAVERS BUILD HUGE DAMS IN KANKAKEE RIVER

Knox, Ind., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Beavers have come back to Starke county, supposedly down the Kankakee river from the Kankakee state game preserve, where a number were placed a few years ago.

Colonies are working in ditches near Knox and have attracted scores of people to view their amazing workmanship on several dams they have built.

Trees eight inches in diameter were felled at the stream's edge and the butts studded in the stream bank with the brush pointing upstream. Mud was then patted into the brushes layer on layer until the right height was reached. Then each layer was patted down flat by the beavers with their tails.

The larger dam is twelve feet from bank to bank; in front of the dam brush was placed to keep the water from flowing so fast over the dam.

The beavers have built their homes in the banks of the ditch just above the water level.

Beavers are fully protected by federal law.

KUKLA, BOEHM WIN MILWAUKEE HANDBALL TITLE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 23.—The Eagles club duo of Walter Kukla and Les Boehm defeated Bill Dinkelman and Charley Horvath of the Bucyrus club, 21-20, 21-15, for the championship of the all-city class B handball doubles meet at the Jewish center tonight.

Ambrose McCall and Leonard Reuter of the fire department took third place by winning from Carl Wilke and Tony Karpowitz of the M. A. C., 21-17, 21-17. The champions received trophies, the second and third place squads medals.

Horses Sail to Break Strike in Porto Rico

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Nineteen race horses sailed today aboard the Bull line steamer Delsina for San Juan, Porto Rico, to help fill the cards on the island's two race tracks.

The horses were termed "strike-breakers" because they are intended to offset a strike against the corporations owning the tracks, by horse owners who are holding out for larger purses at the twice-weekly meets.

Frank Grovas and L. C. Reyes, representatives of the corporations, bought the 19 horses. Grovas purchased six of the animals at an auction last Saturday at the Timonium race track near here. He paid less than $100 for five of them and $170 for the sixth.

The horses and age of each are: Parade On, 4; Waltz King, 4; Serenabit, 6; Valley Rose, 4; Banana, 3; St. Christopher, 6; Khelaboo, 4; Charming Gift, 3; Sunny Susan, 7; Our Rose, 5; Traplow, 5; Gracias, 4; Keswick, 7; Night Glass, 2; Moonglade, 7; Sun Greamer, 8; Miss Millicent, 2; Bud Brown, 3, and Time Winner, 3.

Special stalls were built on the steamer's deck for the horses.

Iowa Points for Opener with Indiana

Iowa City, Ia., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Paced by a clever sophomore forward, Ben Stephens of Cambridge, Ill., the University of Iowa basketball team will enter the Big Ten race Jan. 4 against Indiana after compiling one of the best early season records in several years.

Averaging 40 points a game in compiling six straight victories, Coach Ollie Williams' seasoned team appears to rate as one of the dark horses in the forthcoming Big Ten cage scramble.

Iowa's status in the conference race is likely to be determined early, however, for the Hawkeyes will bump up against Indiana, Northwestern, Purdue and Illinois between Jan. 4 and 16, with only the tilt with the Boilermakers to be played in the Iowa fieldhouse.

Stephens Is High Scorer.

Coach Williams' hopes for bettering the Hawks' performance of five victories and seven defeats in the Big Ten last year rest largely on the shoulders of Stephens, the team's only newcomer, who is pacing the Old Gold five in scoring with 57 points in six games.

The other starting posts are held by a quartet of juniors, with the speedy and sharpshooting Walley Gaddis of Dunkerton at the other forward, Jack Drees of Eau Claire, Wis. at center and Capt. Ken Suesens of Burlington and Joe Van Ysseldyk of Muscatine at the guards.

Williams is armed with better reserve strength than he has enjoyed in several seasons and three of the second string players are threatening to break into the starting lineup.

Reserves Get Chance.

Sam Johnson, junior from Cedar Rapids, started the Washington university game in the absence of Gaddis and led the scoring with 17 points. Matt Walsh, 6 foot 6 inch senior from Council Bluffs, is threatening Drees at the center post while Al Bobby, senior guard from Farrell, Pa., stands third among Iowa scorers with 33 points in six games.

Although satisfied with the forwards, and with the brilliant defensive work of Capt. Suesens at guard, Coach Williams has been worrying about Hawkeye weakness at the other two positions.

The Iowa coach plans to alternate Drees and Walsh at center throughout the Big Ten schedule, and may be forced to alternate Van Ysseldyk and Bobby at the guard post opposite Suesens.

ROOSEVELT RACE COURSE WILL BE RECONSTRUCTED

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Aiming at a higher average speed, the Roosevelt raceway automobile course at Westbury, N. Y., will be re-shaped in time for the renewal of the George Vanderbilt cup race next year.

The revised course, which Maj. George H. Robertson, general manager, said will cost approximately $100,000 to make over, will be three and a third miles per lap instead of four miles as was the circuit over which Tazio Nuvolari of Italy won the 300 mile cup race Oct. 12.

Time, 1:39. Two dollar mutuels paid: Terpsichore, $10.30 straight, $6.20 place, $3.70 show; Maid of Arches, $5.60 place, $3.00 show; Knight's Fancy, $3.40 show. Winner, br. f., 3, by Blue Pete-Silver Sons. Owner, F. Thompson. Trainer, F. L. Moore. Went to post at 4:53. Off at 4:55. Started good. Won driving; place same.

TERPSICHORE, under strong and power ul ride, assumed lead early, set fast pace, and held on gamely. MAID OF ARCHES was probably best, but was weakly ridden. KNIGHT'S FANCY slipped through on inside and held on well. LANGUOROUS finished fast. LADY MARNOCK was almost knocked down just after the start by VITOFOL. She closed a big gap.

EIGHTH RACE—One mile. Two year olds. Purse $700. Net value to winner, $525; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Winner, ch. f., 2, by Cotlogomor-Kirk Lady. Owner, D. Hardy. Trainer, same. Went to post at 5:32. Off at 5:23. Start good. Won driving; place same.

IPSO FACTO perfectly ridden. He got away fast, was sent to the front going into first turn, and, rated along, held on gamely. CANDLELIGHT moved up very fast in last three furlongs, but was no match for the winner. MORE POISE displayed keen speed and ran good race. SPOTLESS came from far back. GEOLOGIST ran a very bad race.

JACOBS STATES TERMS

Red Bank, N. J., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Fight Promoter Mike Jacobs said tonight negotiations for a proposed Joe Louis-Bob Pastor heavyweight fight in New York are still at a standstill because of Madison Square Garden's refusal to meet his terms.

Jacobs has demanded that the Garden guarantee him a three year option on Pastor if the New York heavyweight should beat Louis in the proposed fight.

"If they don't come to terms," he stated, "there won't be any fight."

He admitted that Jan. 29 has been mentioned as a possible date for the fight, with Madison Square Garden as the site. Pastor jumped into prominence as an opponent for the Detroit fighter by knocking out Ray Impellitiere recently.

Midwest A. A. U. to Hold Basketball Meet March 7

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—The Midwest A. A. U. annual basketball tournament will be held in Omaha, March 7, Lyle Remde, midwestern commissioner, has announced. Teams from Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota will compete. The winner will represent the Omaha district in the national tournament to be held at Denver, Colo., on March 14.

Fred Reif of Chicago to Captain Creighton Eleven

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Fred Reif, Chicago, a guard on Creighton university's Missouri Valley championship football team this last season, has been elected captain of the 1937 Creighton eleven. Francis Wilcox, Perry, Ia., has been named honorary captain of 1936 Creighton football team.

No Fights in N. Y. for Louis, Jacobs Says

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—The New York athletic commission was in the middle of another battle today, with Mike Jacobs threatening to keep Joe Louis out of matches in New York state and to throw boxing and wrestling out of the Hippodrome because the commission interfered with his plans.

Jacobs issued his threat when the commission ordered him to select some night, other than Monday, to stage wrestling matches and then refused to sanction a proposed bout between Gunnar Barlund and Reds Burman Jan. 6 because, the commission insisted, Burman was not a fit opponent for the Gunnar.

"Louis will not fight in New York state and this includes the proposed Bob Pastor bout at the Garden and one tentatively scheduled for Buffalo," Jacobs declared after the meeting of the commission.

In five bouts held in New York, Louis has played to near capacity audiences. He fought Primo Carnera, Max Baer, and Max Schmeling at Yankee stadium, the Baer fight grossing more than a million dollars.

STENOGRAPHER TELLS COURT OF RACE TIP FRAUD

Names Connie Bennett's Horse and Feldstein.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 23. — The fifth race at Tanforan track, near San Francisco, last March 26, on which Miss Stella Mundall, pretty 22 year old Los Angeles stenographer, was tipped that "the race was fixed for Constance Bennett's horse," proved a matter of much interest to Federal District Judge George Cosgrave today.

Miss Mundall was the principal witness in the federal prosecution of Lewis Newman, Abe Feldstein, and Dave Cohen on trial on charges of using the mails to defraud by mailing out an illegal race track "service."

"I paid $5 a week for the service," Miss Mundall said. Last March 26 she was in telephonic communication several times with a man in San Francisco whom she knew as Gordon Stewart, but who is now identified as Feldstein.

Its In the Bag.

"He told me, 'We have a chain of horses and jockies we buy off.' Send me $250 so I can buy up all eleven horses in the fifth race today. We are going to fix it so we can't lose."

Miss Mundall telegraphed the money. He then called her at her office and told her, "The race is all fixed," she testified.

Miss Mundall asked Feldstein if it wouldn't be better for her to wager on "place and show" rather to win, and said he replied, "Not on your life. Put it on the nose. When we fix a race it's fixed. We're a reliable firm and have been doing business for 31 years.

"He told me the name of the horse was Constance Bennett's Rattle Brain," she said.

Miss Mundall then testified she took all the money she had and what she could obtain from friends, amounting to $500, and wagered on the Bennett horse.

Jocky On Stand.

"I lost," said Miss Mundall sadly. "I phoned the address in San Francisco but couldn't reach anybody. Next day I got a telegram saying everything would be explained. That telegram was the last I ever heard from that racing service."

She had been informed her $250 and 75 per cent of anything she lost would be refunded after the race, she said.

Elmer Phillips, 18 year old jocky, who rode the actress' horse in the race, was another witness. He testified he rode Rattle Brain to win.

"I was ahead going into the stretch," he said, "but a horse named Sally's Booter beat me out by a nose."

Defendant Newman said he "studied the form charts and merely sent out word Rattle Brain was the horse to beat in that race."

NASH MOTORS AND KELVINATOR MERGER VOTED

Personnel, Policies Are Unchanged.

Merger of the Nash motors company, automobile manufacturer with headquarters in Kenosha and the Kelvinator corporation, manufacturer of electrical refrigerators and other household appliances, Detroit, was approved yesterday by the stockholders. Nash stockholders met at Baltimore in the afternoon and Kelvinator stockholders met at Detroit in the morning.

C. W. NASH.

Charles W. Nash, chairman of the board of the Nash company, will be chairman of the new concern, which will be known as the Nash-Kelvinator corporation. George W. Mason, president of Kelvinator, will be president of the company.

Nash Issues Statement.

Nash issued the following statement yesterday:

"The Nash division of the Nash-Kelvinator corporation will continue to manufacture motor cars, while the Kelvinator division maintains its production of refrigerators, diversified household appliances, and other temperature engineering equipment. No change is contemplated at present in the personnel or policies of either division."

Combined assets of the new company will be approximately $53,000,000, assets of Nash being given as $35,000,000 and those of Kelvinator as $18,000,000.

Nash is one of the leading independent manufacturers of automobiles. It was incorporated in 1916 as successor to the Thomas B. Jeffery company at Kenosha which had been established in 1901. It has factories in Racine and Milwaukee as well as in Kenosha. Kelvinator was incorporated in 1925 as a successor to several companies, one of which was organized in 1904.

First Big Auto Merger in Years.

The Nash company for many years has been the subject of speculation as to merger possibilities and at one time was reported to be considering a tie-up with Packard. The merger is the first involving a major unit in the automobile industry in ten years.

While the automobile and refrigerator business are widely divergent, there is precedent for the Kelvinator-Nash deal in the General Motors organization. The nation's largest automobile concern has as one of its subsidiaries Frigidaire, electrical refrigerator manufacturer.

Under the terms of the merger, shares of Kelvinator will be exchanged on a basis of 1¾ shares of the new corporation for each one share of Kelvinator now held, while Nash stockholders will exchange their stock on a basis of share for share. Nash stock closed yesterday at 16½, up ⅝ from the preceding day, and Kelvinator closed at 21⅝, also up ⅝.

BURLINGTON ASKS APPROVAL OF 7 MILLION ISSUE

The Burlington railroad yesterday asked permission of the interstate commerce commission to issue and sell $7,080,000 of 2 per cent equipment trust certificates. Proceeds, together with other funds, will be used to buy $8,861,300 of equipment including 1,000 steel frame box cars, 250 automobile cars, 250 hopper cars, 1,500 gondola cars, 100 flat cars, 300 refrigerator cars, 150 stock cars, and 10 locomotives.

A. W. Porter, Inc., will offer today 60,000 shares of capital stock of the Weisbaum Bros.-Brower company, Cincinnati, O., manufacturers of men's neckwear and allied lines, at $6 per share. Of the shares offered one-half were purchased from the company and stockholders provided the other half.

First Security Trust Company of Salt Lake City, Utah, headed a group which was awarded a new issue of $1,250,000 of tax anticipation notes of Salt Lake City on a 0.70 per cent interest basis, plus a premium of $107. The notes are to be dated Dec. 31, 1936, and will be payable Dec. 31, 1937.

Philippine Sugar Makers Fined for Exceeding Quotas

MANILA, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Stiff penalties against ten leading Philippine sugar producers for exceeding their 1936 quotas were announced today by commonwealth officials, who hinted at possible criminal action. Sugar Administrator Jorge Varga announced aggregate fines of 250,000 pesos [$125,000] had been levied against the organizations for producing 4,101 short tons too much. The secretary of justice said the excess sugar would be confiscated. He intimated criminal prosecution would be instituted if evidence indicates fraudulent shipping was intended.

Libbey-Owens Buys Tract for Research Building

Toledo, O., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Libby-Owens-Ford Glass company announced today purchase of a 16-acre tract of land near the Laminated Glass plant here as a site for a new research building. D. H. Goodwillie, executive vice president, said the project would represent an investment of $475,000.

Foreign Wheat Buying Sends Grains Higher

Grain markets moved higher yesterday with wheat and rye in the lead as European importing countries again made heavy purchases of wheat. While there was considerable selling of wheat futures, attributed to evening up operations previous to the Christmas holidays, closing prices on the Chicago Board of Trade were ¾ to 1¼ cents a bushel higher. Winnipeg and Kansas City gained as much as 2 cents while Liverpool ignored the decline in North America late Tuesday and closed ¾ to 1⅞ cents higher.

Speculative interest was smaller, but the undertone in all pits was distinctly firm. Corn gained a small fraction and oats advanced nearly a cent. Rye closed 1⅛ cents higher. Liquidation developed in soy beans with futures closing 2¼ to 2½ cents lower. The May delivery as low as $1.50½ a bushel, or nearly 10 cents under the high of last Saturday.

Markets Abroad Lead Rise.

Strength in foreign markets, furnished the stimulus for early buying. Bullish sentiment was augmented later by a most sensational estimate on the world supply and demand situation by Broomhall, a leading English statistician. His report indicated there is no surplus wheat in exporting countries after allowing for a moderate carryover in exporting countries at the end of the current crop year.

The estimated world supply and demand situation for the 1936-'37 season is so closely adjusted that many traders believe Europe may come into the market early next year for liberal supplies of new American winter wheat. The latter will not start to be harvested until next June. Reports yesterday claimed there was a good demand for Canadian cash wheat for shipment at the opening of lake navigation next spring.

Italy Buys More Wheat.

Italy was reported to have bought 250,000 bushels of Argentine wheat, while Winnipeg messages indicated sales of 500,000 bushels of Canadian grain had been made to various countries.

Closing prices on the May delivery of leading grains on the Chicago Board of Trade, with comparisons, follow:

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Wk. ago.	Mo. ago.
Wheat	$1.31¼	$1.29⅞	$1.29⅝	$1.15⅝
Corn	1.04⅞	1.04⅛	1.04¼	.99⅝
Oats	.50½	.49⅝	.50½	.44⅛
Rye	1.10⅝	1.09	1.09⅝	.91¼
Soy beans	1.51½	1.53¾	1.51	1.33⅝

December corn was offered for sale yesterday on all minor upturns, especially around $1.09 a bushel. A decrease of 869,000 bushels in uncompleted contracts of December corn as the result of Tuesday's trading to a total of 4,895,000 bushels lessened fears of a "squeeze" in that delivery. Thre are only three business days remaining for trading in December grain futures.

EXPORT COPPER BOUNDS TO NEW SIX YEAR PEAK

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The price of export copper bounded to another new peak since 1930 today. Metal for shipment to Europe commanded a price of 11.75 cents a pound, an advance of .12½ cent over yesterday's level. Demand continued brisk in foreign markets.

Some domestic interests expressed belief the price was too high and while admitting active requirements for industry and armaments abroad, asserted that large speculative purchases were partly responsible for high prices.

Demand for domestic copper continued good, with the price remaining at the 11⅝ cent level at which it was fixed yesterday.

Another base metal, antimony, advanced in sympathy with the recent gains in lead, zinc, and copper. It was quoted at 13.25 cents a pound, ½ cent higher, and at the best price since January.

Crude rubber, cocoa, raw silk, and hides futures worked upward, rubber at one time passing 21 cents a pound for the first time since March, 1929.

SECOND PETITION FILED FOR GRAIN PIT PRESIDENCY

A petition nominating Fred Lewis for president of the Chicago Board of Trade was filed yesterday with the exchange. Kenneth S. Templeton, present first vice president, was nominated for the office in a petition filed late in October. This will be the first contest for president since John J. Stream defeated the late John Hill Jr. in 1923.

Two candidates have been nominated for second vice president—Orrin S. Dowse and Barnett Faroll—and there are twelve nominees for the five vacancies on the directorate. Saturday will be the last day for filing petitions for officials. The annual election will be held Jan. 4.

Canada Will Retire All Tax Free Loans in Year

OTTAWA, Que., Dec. 23.—[Special.] The Canadian government by this time next year will have abolished federal tax free bonds. Federal Finance Minister Charles Dunning announced today that his government was negotiating with Morgan Stanley & Co. of New York for a new refunding issue to redeem $89,787,000 of 5 per cent war loan bonds issued on March 1, 1917. The only other tax free issue matures Dec. 1 of next year and will be refunded during 1937 by an issue in Canada.

U. S. Pipe Lowest Bidder on N. York Tunnel Project

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—U. S. Pipe and Foundry company was low bidder today for 55,000 tons of cast iron plates for tunnel lining in the new midtown tunnel for New York City with a bid of $3,356,001.

Ten Year Record of the Automobile Manufacturing Industry

Steel Output Steady Despite Holiday Lull

Steel ingot output is maintaining a volume seldom equaled at this time of year despite the threat of labor trouble in the automotive industry and the interruption in steel making caused by the Christmas holidays, the magazine Iron Age reported yesterday. Output of the nation's steel plants this week is estimated by the journal at 78 per cent of capacity, off 1 point, and the rate may go higher next week. Production last year during the Christmas week dropped 7 points to 48½ per cent.

"Unless labor troubles in the automobile industry are speedily settled widespread shutdowns are likely to occur," the publication asserted. "Ford Motor company has announced that some of its branch plants will suspend for several days and semi-official reports state that shutdowns may last 10 days, starting Dec. 24.

Chrysler Holds Up Orders.

"Chrysler corporation has issued indefinite hold up orders on parts supplied on the outside for Plymouth and Dodge cars. Some mills have received instructions to postpone shipments of sheets and strip. While the steel industry is watching the situation with anxiety, delays in rolling automobile steel may afford some relief in the intense pressure being put on sheet and strip mills."

Iron Age said labor troubles at steel plants are not expected to develop immediately, although the automobile industry's situation points to methods that may eventually be pursued.

"A heavy volume of business in bars, shapes, and plates is being piled on the almost unprecedented tonnage of other products booked in November," the magazine said.

Some Bookings Exceed November.

"Steel companies whose finishing capacity runs to heavier products are in some cases booking more tonnage this month than in November. This is accounted for by the many coverages for identified construction projects, including railroad equipment.

"An advance of $4 a ton in concrete reinforcing bars, with a Dec. 23 deadline on protection at the old price, has driven in a large tonnage on this product. Shipments against much of the building work, for which protection is being obtained on bars, shapes, and plates, probably will not be completed for several months."

An indication that the large volume of buying the last few weeks has been speculative only to a small degree is shown in the fact that many consumers have come into the market for additional tonnages of sheets and strip, paying the higher prices quoted for the first quarter, according to the journal.

Foreign Demand Grows.

"World-wide shortage of steel, accentuated abroad by the feverish activity in rearmament, is having marked repercussions in this country," it continued. "Imports of finished steel and pig iron are lessening and some steel importers are trying to obtain supplies from domestic mills without much success. Foreign inquiry for pig iron totals more than 100,000 tons. . . ."

Added to the coke and pig iron shortages that have given the mills trouble for some weeks is another runaway market in scrap, with further advances of 50 cents a ton at Chicago and Philadelphia and 25 cents at Pittsburgh, bringing the Iron Age composite price to $17.75. At Cleveland prices went up from $1.25 to $3 and at Detroit $1 or more.

Report Argentina Acquires Cordoba Central Railroad

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Dec. 23.—The government was reported today to have negotiated the purchase of the 1,218 mile Cordoba Central Railway Company, Ltd., for 10,000,000 pounds [about $50,000,000], subject to congressional sanction, whih will be asked next week. The railroad extends from Buenos Aires through Rosario, San Francisco, and Cordoba to Tucuman.

Hudson Motor Car Sales Exceed 100,000 Mark

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Retail sales of the Hudson Motor Car company in the United States for 1936 passed the 100,000 mark on Dec. 17, W. R. Tracy, vice president, said today. This compares with 78,745 units sold in the full year 1935.

PEOPLES GAS REPORTS SHARP INCREASE IN EARNINGS FOR YEAR

The Peoples Gas Light and Coke company yesterday filed a statement with the Illinois commerce commission showing net income for the year ended Nov. 30 of $1,450,250, excluding subsidiary companies. This compares with $587,346 in the preceding year. The company reported November net income of $351,600, against $28,547 in the same period of 1935.

The Wesson Oil and Snowdrift company yesterday reported net profit of $1,321,701, equal to $1.75 a share on common stock, for the first quarter of the company's fiscal year ended Nov. 30. The results were the best on record for a first quarter and compare with net of $911,633, or $1.05 a share, in the corresponding period last year. The company makes cottonseed oil products.

Illinois Bell Telephone company yesterday filed a statement with the Securities and Exchange commission listing gross income of $81,130,678 and net income of $13,149,372 for the 12 months ended Oct. 31. Comparative figures for the preceding year are not available.

U. S. STEEL UNITS PLACE ORDERS FOR 5,000 CARS

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Four railroads, subsidiaries of United States Steel corporation, have placed orders for 5,000 freight cars, the corporation disclosed today.

Bessemer and Lake Erie ordered 500 seventy-ton hopper cars from American Car and Foundry, 500 fifty-ton hopper cars from Greenville Car, and 1,000 ninety-ton hopper cars from Pullman Standard Car.

Elgin, Joliet, and Eastern railway ordered 400 fifty-ton gondolas from Mount Vernon Car manufacturing, 250 gondolas from General American Car, 200 dump cars from American Car and Foundry, 100 fifty ton gondolas from Ralston Steel Car, and 100 seventy-ton gondolas from Greenville Car.

Union railroad ordered 600 seventy ton gondolas from Pressed Steel Car, 200 seventy ton gondolas from Magor Car, and 100 seventy ton gondolas from Ralston Steel Car.

Duluth, Missabe, and Northern ordered 1,000 ore cars from Pullman Standard Car, and 50 ore cars from Ryan Car.

TWO TRUSTEES RULED LIABLE FOR $1,363,000

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Two trustees of the estate of Alanson D. Brown, founder of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe company, were held liable for $1,363,000 by Circuit Judge Frank C. O'Malley today for failure to comply with provisions of his will.

The court ordered the trustees, the St. Louis Union Trust company and Alanson C. Brown, son of the shoe manufacturer, "surcharged" with $13.50 a share for 101,000 shares of Hamilton-Brown stock they retained in the estate.

Judge O'Malley said Brown's will directed sale of the stock by the estate within 15 years after his death in 1913. A qualifying clause, "if this can be done safely," the court ruled, did not give the trustees the right to withhold sale beyond the 15 year period. In June, 1928, when the 15 year period ended, Judge O'Malley said, the stock had a net value of $16 a share. When the suit was filed in December, 1931, its value was $2.50 a share.

Chance Vought Get Navy Order for Forty Planes

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Chance Vought Aircraft announced today it had received an order for forty scout-bomber airplanes from the United States navy. The planes will be similar to eighty-four ships delivered during the year to the navy for its aircraft carriers. They are designed for both bombing and long range scouting. The planes will be of metal structure, fabric covered, and of the two seat biplane type.

Canadian Minister Seeks Two New Trade Treaties

Montreal, Que., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—W. D. Euler, Canadian minister of trade and commerce, will sail Dec. 30 for Australia and New Zealand to negotiate new trade treaties with these British dominions.

Lytton at 90 Gives Bonus, Longevity Rule

Announcing that his 700 employés would share in the distribution of a $25,000 to $30,000 Christmas bonus and pay increases for some, Henry C. Lytton, president of the Hub, yesterday said that the business of his company is much better than it was last year and that he looks for 1937 to be even better than in 1936.

HENRY C. LYTTON.

Lytton, ninety year old veteran of the Chicago merchandising world, was in a jovial mood as he discussed the improvement in the business to which he returned in 1932 after having retired from active affairs.

Gives His Philosophy.

"Be careful and be moderate," Lytton gave as his advice for one wishing to reach a good old age. "Look at this hand," he said, as he extended his right arm. "It's as steady as that of a youngster and yet I am in my ninety-first year. Some folks call me lucky, but I attribute my health to the fact I took care of myself in my youth. I've never been intoxicated in my life. I feel as good today as I did 25 years ago."

Lytton said that a recent survey showed business men get less out of life than other groups.

Responsibilities Arduous.

"That's because of our responsibilities," he explained. "We in executive positions have to keep busy every minute to keep our business alive."

"An education is a mighty fine thing," he remarked, "but a college course isn't necessary for a man to make a success in life. He can educate himself. My advice to the young man is to keep repeating "There is no such thing as failure."

Lytton said that December business of his company is running 20 to 24 per cent over that of 1935. He said that it has been so good that the Hub will take over the ninth floor of the Lytton building for its own use.

ANHEUSER-BUSCH DECLARES EXTRA OF $5 A SHARE

A special dividend of $5 a share on capital stock was declared yesterday by Anheuser-Busch, Inc., St. Louis brewers, bringing the total amount declared this year to $12 a share.

Directors of the Fairchild Aviation company declared a common dividend of 15 cents a share, payable in 5 per cent notes due Dec. 29, 1937. Sherman M. Fairchild, president, said that while the company's cash was sufficient to make the payment, the directors felt it was best not to diminish working capital.

An extra dividend of 50 cents a share and the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share were voted by Lerner Stores, Inc.

The Chicago Venetian Blind company placed common stock on an annual dividend of 60 cents a share to be paid monthly and declared a dividend of 5 cents a share for December.

Amoskeag Pays First Liquidating Dividend

Boston, Mass., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Arthur Black, referee in bankruptcy, today ordered payment of $629,428 first liquidating dividend, amounting to $2 a share, to about 2,000 stockholders of the defunct Amoskeag Manufacturing company, but withheld payment to two Boston concerns because of a stockholder's protest. Black said the Dumaine Trust and the Consolidated Investment Trust will not receive their dividends [amounting to $102,526] until they file a stipulation explaining just why they should be paid.

McCALL CORPORATION

46th Common Dividend

The Board of Directors has declared a quarterly dividend of 50¢ per share, payable February 1, 1937, to stockholders of record at the close of business January 15, 1937.

HOLIDAY POSTAL RECEIPTS HERE INCREASE 23%

All Time Record Set for One Day.

Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen said yesterday that receipts of the Chicago postoffice in the first 22 days of December increased 23 per cent over the corresponding period of 1935.

POSTMASTER KRUETGEN.

An all time record for Christmas mail was established Tuesday when 19,294,497 pieces of first class material were checked through the postoffice. A record volume of 172,031 sacks of parcel post was also handled.

Receipts in the first 22 days of the month totaled $4,638,056, an increase of 22.96 per cent over the $3,771,831 taken in during the comparable period in December, 1935, Kruetgen said. First class mail handled during the period totaled 210,490,652 pieces, an upturn of 9.89 per cent over the corresponding period of last year.

Other Classes Increase.

Other classes of mail showed big increases during the period. Second class matter totaled 249,950 sacks, a gain of 21 per cent over 1935.

Parcel post and newspapers amounted to 2,551,350 sacks, a rise of 35 per cent.

Second class mail handled on Tuesday totaled 14,542 sacks. On the same day last year, a Sunday, 2,749 sacks of this class of mail were handled.

The total of 172,031 sacks of parcel post and newspapers handled Tuesday represented an increase of 131 per cent over the comparable day of 1935. Receipts for the day were $413,649. The office was closed Dec. 22 last year and no money was taken in.

Record Wire Business.

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—A telegraphic survey of its system completed today indicates a record Christmas and New Year's greeting business this year, Postal Telegraph-Cable company announced. General managers reported the number of telegrams filed in advance for delivery Christmas morning were 100 per cent more than last year, and there was general agreement that the final total would top the record years of 1930 by at least 50 per cent and double 1935.

FINANCIAL PAPER, 19, FOUND GUILTY OF MAIL FRAUD

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—A federal jury tonight convicted National Investment Transcript, Inc. of Camden, N. J., and fourteen individual defendants on all counts of a nineteen count mail fraud and conspiracy indictment, after twenty-seven hours' deliberation.

During the trial which began Nov. 10, Assistant United States Attorney Leo J. Fennelly presented evidence in an attempt to show that National Investment Transcript, a financial publication, pushed Rayon Industries stock after gaining the confidence of its subscribers. Fennelly charged that stock buyers had lost more than $5,000,000 on the stock, and presented many of the investors as witnesses.

Clement H. Congdon, a principal defendant, was editor and publisher of the Philadelphia Sunday Transcript and was accused of promoting the stock through National Investment Transcript. Congdon faces a possible prison sentence totaling nine-two years and a fine of $28,000.

Others facing similar sentences include: Simon Levine of New York, president of Rayon Industries corporation; Marshall Ward of Forest Hills, N. Y., former member of the New York Stock exchange and New York distributor of the stock; Leonard J. Rollnick, New York broker, who government attorneys said promoted the conspiracy and who they asserted recently was convicted of mail fraud in the Chicago federal court.

J.M.O'Mahoney Appointed NewYork Central Secretary

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Appointment of Joseph M. O'Mahoney as secretary of the New York Central Railroad company and affiliated companies was announced today. He succeeds Edward F. Stephenson, who died Dec. 12. O'Mahoney has been with the railroad 36 years, and for the last sixteen was assistant secretary.

Many Brokers Pay Bonuses to Employes

Brokerage houses, members of the New York Stock Exchange yesterday joined the long list of companies paying Christmas bonuses and special compensation to employés. It was estimated that about 500 firms belonging to the exchange would pay bonuses ranging from one to twenty weeks' extra pay. Besides the member firms, several hundred security houses in Chicago and New York are reported to have taken similar action.

Irving Salomon, president of the Royal Metal Manufacturing company, announced his company would give employés an amount equal to 60 per cent of distributed profits for the year. He said that if conditions warant a larger proportion of profits will be paid employés until 100 per cent is reached.

Diamond T Pays Extra.

The Diamond T. Motor company, Chicago, will pay all its employés a substantial Christmas bonus, C. A. Tilt, president, announced. Employés with the company twenty years or longer will get two months' pay, those with ten to fifteen years' service will get four weeks' pay, those with 6 to 10 years' service will get three weeks' pay, and those with from three to five years' service will get two weeks' pay. Lesser amounts will be paid those with shorter service records.

The Nash Motors company will pay $85,000 in cash bonuses to 7,350 employés in factories at Kenosha, Racine and Milwaukee. Every worker in the shops and offices of the three plants will be included in the disbursement.

H. A. Satin & Co. will distribute a Christmas bonus of a half week's pay to employés in service two years or under, and one week's pay to those with the firm more than two years.

The 17,268 workers of the Owens-Illinois Glass company will share a $500,000 bonus, with each employé getting at least the equivalent of one week's pay.

Other Bonuses Announced.

Johnson & Johnson, makers of surgical supplies, will pay its 2,600 employés a 5 per cent bonus.

The 350 employés of the Jefferson Woolen Mills company will share a $23,000 bonus distribution.

International Business Machines will pay 3,000 employés a bonus totaling $130,000, consisting of a week's pay to those with the concern a year or longer, and a half week's pay to those employed six months.

The Toledo Blade yesterday paid each worker a bonus, those with the company five years or longer getting $25.

The Hubinger company, Keokuk, Ia., paid a $21,000 bonus to its 400 employés. Payments amounted to 6 per cent of annual wages.

The American Corrugated Paper corporation announced a pay boost of approximately 10 per cent, effective Jan. 1.

Pay Increase Granted.

The Northwestern Photo-Engraving company announced that its 89 workers will receive a Christmas bonus of a half week's pay and pay increases ranging from 10 to 20 per cent.

McGill Manufacturing and Continental Diamond Fibre announced Christmas bonuses totaling $10,000.

The Rahr Malting company, which operates plants in Manitowoc, Wis., and Minneapolis and Shakopee, Minn., announced a 10 per cent wage increase for all employés and a bonus of 5 per cent of 1936 salaries for executives. The wage increase for plant workers is retroactive to Nov. 1. All employés with the company a year will be given a week's vacation with pay.

The Wisconsin Malting company, Manitowoc, Wis., also increased wages 10 per cent.

The Empire Star Mines, Ltd., will pay more than 1,000 employés a $50 bonus.

HEAVY BUILDING AWARDS HIGHER FOR LAST WEEK

New York, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Engineering construction awards for the week ended Tuesday totaled $49,856,000, compared with $39,853,000 in the preceding week and $64,307,000 in the corresponding period last year, Engineering News-Record reported today.

Private work predominated in the latest week's total, amounting to $33,657,000, compared with $16,199,000 of public projects, including $2,062,000 in federal work. The larger projects included a $3,000,000 third unit of the Union Bag and Paper company's pulp plant at Savannah, Ga.

Contracts awarded on construction projects in the process industries this month rose to $8,696,000 from $3,513,000 in November and $1,906,000 in December, 1935, the magazine Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering reported. For the year to date contracts awarded jumped to $73,832,000 from $35,860,000 in the same period of 1935.

STOCKS RALLY SHARPLY WITH OILS IN LEAD

Advances Range to Two Points.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 23.—Oil shares furnished the leadership for the stock market today as the list supplemented the rise of the previous session with gains ranging from fractions to more than 2 points. Virtually every section was active and moved to higher levels.

Volume of trading again failed to reach 2,000,000 shares, transactions totaling 1,867,882 shares, compared with 1,667,250 on Tuesday. A substantial part of the business was accounted for by the oils.

Expectations of a boost in the price of crude before the end of the year was credited for the bullish sentiment which sent a number of petroleum shares to new tops for the year and brought gains of a point or more all along the line.

Oil Group Advances.

Standard of New Jersey was strong and substantial advances were registered by Barnsdall, Amerada, Phillips Petroleum, Skelly, Texas, Pure Oil, Standards of Indiana, Kansas, and California, Pan-American, Continental, and Union.

Prices were buoyant at the start of the day and a good deal of strength was maintained, with best levels being reached in late dealings.

Co-leaders with the oils were the steels. Bethlehem rose 1⅞, United States Steel moved up 1¼, and Youngstown, Midland, and Crucible were each bid up more than a point.

Even carrier shares, which have been reactionary recently, turned in a better performance. The group rose fractionally with best gains taking place in Union Pacific, Chesapeake and Ohio, and Union Pacific. Early reports from leading carriers indicated that loading last week held at better than seasonal levels.

Chrysler, General Motors Rise.

Chrysler and General Motors each rose a point.

Copper shares suffered from a profit taking following the sharp rise of the previous session. Kennecott, Cerro De Pasco, and Anaconda sold off fractionally. Kimberly Clark and Inspiration were strong. American Smelters picked up 1⅝ points.

American Car and Foundry was a strong equipment, while United Air Lines featured dealings in the aviations. Case and Deere buoyed up the farm implements. Packing shares enjoyed a good day and rubber stocks moved forward with the increase in price of that commodity.

Individual strong spots included American Telephone, Johns-Manville, Continental Can, American Can, Newport Industries, Canada Dry, General Refractories, Burroughs Adding Machine, du Pont, Paramount issues, Commercial Investors Trust, Commercial Credit, Revere Brass, Western Union, and United States Pipe. Bangor and Aroostook sold at a new low price.

Lott Hotels' Trustee Paid $1,250 a Month

An uncontested order allowing the trustee and attorney of the three Lott hotels—the Parkway, Webster, and Belden-Stratford—to receive the same monthly compensation they were paid while the trustee was receiver, was entered yesterday by Circuit Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski.

John J. Fox, architect, who resigned last week as receiver and who immediately was appointed trustee, receives $1,250 a month. Attorney Michael F. Ryan receives $500 monthly.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK. In the Matter of WICKWIRE SPENCER STEEL COMPANY. Debtor. In Proceedings for the Reorganization of a Corporation. No. 21880.

NOTICE TO HOLDERS OF VOTING TRUST CERTIFICATES OF WICKWIRE SPENCER STEEL COMPANY.

Under the terms of the Plan of Reorganization of Wickwire Spencer Steel Company, dated as of August 30, 1935, as amended, which Plan, as so amended, has been confirmed by the Court in the above-mentioned proceedings, holders of Voting Trust Certificates are to be entitled to subscribe for Common Stock of the Reorganized Company, to be represented by Voting Trust Certificates, within sixty days after the property is transferred by the Trustees to the Reorganized Company.

Holders of Voting Trust Certificates are hereby notified that, pursuant to order of the Court entered December 17, 1936, they must, as a condition precedent to their right so to subscribe, on or before January 25, 1937, deposit the Voting Trust Certificates now held by them, duly endorsed in blank, under the Deposit Agreement which has been approved by the Court, accompanied by a Proxy, Power of Attorney and Consent, also approved by the Court, executed by the holder or on his behalf. Holders of Voting Trust Certificates failing to take this action will not be entitled to subscribe for stock of the Reorganized Company unless the Court shall, in the case of any depositor, for cause shown, extend the time of such deposit, or shall enter a general order extending such time.

The purpose of requiring the deposit of Voting Trust Certificates is to enable them to be dealt with in any manner necessary or expedient to the carrying out of the Plan of Reorganization, as amended, including the voting thereof and of the stock represented thereby to authorize the new Common Stock to be issued and subscribed for under the Plan of Reorganization. No action may be taken, however, which will deprive holders of Voting Trust Certificates of their right to subscribe to the new common stock pursuant to the Plan or which will in any way impair such rights. Negotiable receipts will be issued for deposited Certificates and the holders of such receipts will have all the rights to subscribe which are to pertain to the Voting Trust Certificates so deposited.

Holders of Certificates of Deposit for Voting Trust Certificates deposited under the Deposit Agreement dated December 20, 1928 need take no action, as the Committee under said Deposit Agreement will take appropriate action on their behalf.

Forms of Proxy, Power of Attorney and Consent, of the Letter of Transmittal to accompany deposited Voting Trust Certificates, and also copies of the Deposit Agreement, may be obtained from the Trustees of Wickwire Spencer Steel Company, 41 East 42nd Street, New York City, or from the Depositary. The Depositary with which deposits of Voting Trust Certificates and executed Proxies, Powers of Attorney and Consents must be made is:

The Chase National Bank of the City of New York,

POWER OUTPUT DIPS, BUT SETS SEASONAL PEAK

Chicago Area's Total Is Above Year Ago.

Electric power production last week declined slightly from the all-time peak recorded in the preceding week, but the total was the largest on record for that period of year, according to figures released yesterday by the Edison Electric institute.

Production amounted to 2,274,508,000 kilowatt hours compared with 2,278,303,000 kilowatt hours in the preceding week, and was 13.6 per cent ahead of the 2,002,005,000 produced a year ago.

Higher in Preceding Week.

In the week ended Dec. 12 output was 14.9 per cent above the same period a year ago. In the corresponding week last year power production crossed the two billion mark for the first time.

The electricity output of the four companies serving the Chicago district for the week ended Dec. 19 was 134,774,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 121,686,000 in the corresponding week last year, an increase of 10.8 per cent. In the preceding week this year output totaled 136,095,000.

Chicago Area Figures.

Output in kilowatt hours and percentage comparisons with last year for the Chicago area follow:

Week ended,	1936.	1935.	Per cent Increase.
Dec. 19	134,774,000	121,686,000	10.8
Dec. 12	136,095,000	117,930,000	15.7
Dec. 5	134,742,000	116,978,000	14.7
Nov. 28	124,351,000	109,687,000	13.3

All geographical areas registered gains over a year ago as follows: New England, 10.2 per cent; middle Atlantic, 11.4; central industrial, 15.6; west central, 11.0; southern states, 16.1; Rocky mountain, 15.9, and Pacific coast, 7.7.

TRADE UPTURN BRINGS RISE IN WORKERS' DEATHS

Pointing out that the current upward swing of business is exacting an increased toll in industrial and other occupational accident deaths and injuries, W. H. Cameron, managing director of the National Safety Council, said yesterday the increase "probably is smaller than increases in employment and man-hour exposure to accidents." The increase at the end of October was 5 per cent, the council reported.

"Although industry and business have been forced to make cost analyses of mounting accident expense as production was stepped up to meet demands of expanding markets, there are indications that organized industrial safety and accident prevention work have checked what might well have been a greater increase in work hour mishaps to employés," Cameron said.

Council figures showed 1,500 occupational accident deaths in October. It was the fourth month of 1936 in which there was no gain over the corresponding months of 1935. Total accident deaths for the first 10 months of this year were estimated by the council at 14,500. The 12 month total for 1935 was 16,500.

BUTTER AND EGGS ADVANCE; POTATOES ARE IRREGULAR

Trading in butter and egg futures yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange was fairly active. Evidence that recent deliveries of cash butter on December contracts had passed into strong hands, the forecast for lower temperatures, and short covering, carried butter futures up ¾ cents with December closing at 32¾ cents a pound. Sales were 134 cars.

Egg futures closed ½ cent higher with December at 27¾ cents a dozen. Sales, 134 cars. A better demand for fresh eggs and an increased out of storage movement were factors.

A stronger cash market had some effect on potato futures with prices unchanged to 4 cents higher, the latter on January which closed at $2.76 per 100 pounds. Sales, 17 cars. Prices follow:

TREASURY VOIDS IMPORT RULES ON GERMAN GOODS

Grants Exemptions from Countervailing Duties.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—Four types of trade transactions, including outright barter of goods, were listed by the treasury today for exemption from countervailing duties imposed on German exports because of subsidies granted by the Nazi government.

The treasury's ruling was the latest development in the continuing friction over bounties and grants made to German exporters of goods to this country which undercut American industry. The German scheme was to subsidize her exporters by payments of direct cash bounties by industrial associations, scrip, and bond procedures, and currency manipulation through the use of "blocked" or "Aski" marks. These are marks representing the proceeds from a sale of goods to Germany, and cannot be removed from the country.

Clarification Requested.

The treasury's exemption list was posted following numerous requests from American business men for clarification on the manner in which they might trade with Germany without forcing the levy of the countervailing duties.

The ruling would permit the purchase of German goods when the American uses "blocked" marks or the so-called "registered" or "credit" marks continuously owned by him. The latter are marks issued in Germany for accounts rising outside the purchase of goods. For example, marks of this kind are given to an American for interest or principal on a debt, bank interest, or an inheritance.

The four transactions under which countervailing action would not be taken were announced by the treasury as follows:

"1. Payment of the purchase price, in whole or in part, with the use of controled mark credits, provided that the credits so used have been, from the time they became subject to German governmental control, continuously owned by the person for whose actual account the merchandise is purchased for direct or indirect shipment to the United States [in cases involving blocked marks].

Involves Credit Marks.

"2. Payment of the purchase price, in whole or in part with the proceeds of the sale in Germany of merchandise exported from the United States, provided that such proceeds, until so used, have been continuously owned by the person for whose actual account the American merchandise is sold in Germany and the German goods are purchased in that country [in cases involving registered or credit marks].

"3. Combinations of the foregoing two procedures.

"4. Exchange of merchandise between single German and American parties without any monetary transaction actually taking place."

Canadian Bank's Profits, Assets, and Deposits Gain

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—The Canadian Bank of Commerce has made public its statement for the year ended on Nov. 30, showing gains in nearly all items, compared with a year ago. Total assets of the bank increased $8,210,000 to $637,737,903, while total deposits rose $8,420,000 to $526 896,000. Net profits for the year were $2,909,124, about $120,000 higher than a year ago. Dividends of $2,400,000, or at the rate of 8 per cent, were paid.

Gold Trapping Apparatus Planned for Western Mints

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—New gold-trapping apparatus will be installed in the San Francisco and Denver mints next year to catch gold particles going up the chimney in the melting process, Miss Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, announced today. The gold trap in the New York assay office during the last year caught $56,000 worth of minute particles of the precious metal.

Kentucky Tobacco Auction Brings Return of 22 Million

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Pockets of Kentucky growers of burley tobacco bulged today with $21,899,288, returns from two weeks' of sales at the highest prices since the 1919 boom days. This is $6,271,400 more than they had last Christmas. At the close of the December auctions reports disclosed 53,314,016 pounds were sold at $41.07 a hundred pounds.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—The bond market moved higher today, with speculative rail liens attracting considerable interest. Trading volume was $13,806,000 face value, compared with $13,380,000 yesterday. Governments accounted for less than $1,000,000 of the turnover, activity being heaviest in corporate and foreign bonds.

New Haven 6s of 1940 climbed 3½ points to 53¾, following recommendation by the road's trustees that more than $3,600,000 of interest be paid on defaulted bonds and debentures secured by mortgages.

Hearing Set for Dec. 28.

The court will hold a hearing on the proposal Dec. 28. Other New Haven issues closed more or less uneven.

Gains of a point or more were chalked up on the St. Paul 5s of 1975, Frisco 4½s and the Erie 5s.

Moving along in sympathy with the stock market, convertible bonds advanced. Chesapeake corporation 5s rose nearly five points, American Type Founders 5s and Pure Oil 4¼s moved up two points or better apiece.

Mexican Liens Rise.

Mexican and Cuban bonds were features of the foreign section. Reports that Mexico is negotiating with bankers to reduce its debt to less than half the present amount sent Mexican liens up a point or more. It was reported that Mexico's dollar debt would be converted into pesos.

Cuban government, public works, railway, and sugar issues continued upward as the sugar tax controversy was being wound up with impeachment proceedings against President Gomez. Antioquia bonds were a feature of the Central and South American group.

The tone of both high grade and second grade American corporate bonds continued strong.

Motor Wheel.

Investors' Guide: Please send me stock analysis of Motor Wheel corporation.—Z. G. C.

Answer: This concern is one of the two leading producers of automobile wheels, rims, and hubs in the United States. It had contracts this year with Buick, Cadillac, La Salle, Chrysler, De Soto, Plymouth, Packard, Hudson, Terraplane, and others. Brake drums and parts were supplied to Chrysler, General Motors, Packard, and others. Stampings and pressed steel parts also are produced.

To obtain diversification and reduce dependence on the automotive industry the company began manufacturing oil burners and complete heating and cooking equipment in 1930. Expansion of sales in 1935 put this division on a profitable basis for the first time.

Whisky and wine barrels and other wooden products now are manufactured at mills in the south which formerly were used for making wood wheels. The mills adjoin company owned timber, the supply of which is adequate for many years.

Both volume of business and profits have expanded sharply in the last two years, reflecting the high level of activity in the automobile industry and improvement in other lines of the company's activity. With net income amounting to $1,388,000, or $1.63 a share in the first nine months of 1936, this year's showing will be the best since 1929. Net income for the first nine months of 1935 was $546,000, or 64 cents a share. For all of 1935 net income was $1,088,000, or $1.28 a share.

Net income was $410,000, or 48 cents a share in 1934, and $122,000, or 14 cents a share in 1933. Losses of $1,187,000 and $572,000 occurred in 1932 and 1931, respectively. The company's best year was in 1929 when net income was $3,480,000, or $4.28 a share.

Financial position is sound, current assets being $5,712,000 and current liabilities $1,135,000 on Sept. 30, 1936. Surplus was $6,030,000. The company has no funded debt.

Capitalization consists solely of 850,000 shares of $5 par common stock.

Dividends were resumed with a payment of 12½ cents a share in June, 1935, after being omitted since the first quarter of 1932. The quarterly rate now is 40 cents.

The stock now deserves a fairly good rating.

CROP INSURANCE RECOMMENDED TO ROOSEVELT

Plan Requires Farmers to Pay Costs.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Recommendations calling for congressional action to insure the nation's wheat farmers against crop losses resulting from drouth, flood, and pestilence were forwarded to President Roosevelt today in a report by his committee on crop insurance. The committee urged that authorizing legislation be passed during the coming session so that the plan may be applied on the 1938 crop.

The recommendations departed radically from those made to Secretary Wallace by wheat farmers from the great plains area in a report recently adopted. It advised the President and told the wheat farmers in effect that if they wanted to be insured against crop losses they should expect to defray the cost of insurance.

Limits Federal Aid.

Whereas the wheat farmers recommended that the government pay the cost, at least in part, of the risks involved, the President's committee proposed the federal financial assistance be limited to overhead administrative expenses, the purchase and handling of commodities necessary to initiate the program, and reserves needed to meet possible extraordinary needs in event of a series of low yields in the early years of the program.

In order that the program should not encourage poor farm management and penalize good farmers by not indemnifying the less industrious, the committee recommends that not more than a specified percentage of the planted wheat crop be insured against loss of yields, and a 75 per cent insurance protection was suggested as a maximum. In no case would the program insure against losses from declining prices.

Means Seed Loan Cut.

The report contained a table showing that net federal expenditures for agricultural relief during the ten-year period ended June 30, 1936, amounted to $615,937,000. These expenditures were emergency relief such as seed grain loans, feed loans, direct relief for destitute farmers and similar items necessitated by drouth, storms, and disasters in stricken farming areas. The figures did not include benefit payments under the AAA. Citing these figures, the committee said:

"A crop insurance program, even for wheat only, should reduce to a considerable extent the necessity that has existed in the past for seed and feed loans, drouth loans, and similar relief.

"It should reduce the need for federal programs such as were carried out in the drouth areas by the federal emergency relief administration and the Works Progress administration. It should reduce and perhaps eliminate some of the temporary situations that required help from the resettlement administration."

Basis of Payments.

Under the plan recommended by the committee, premiums would be payable on an annual basis in kind or in cash at the option of the farmers, and the same privileges as to the form of insurance payments by the government would apply. Since premiums would exceed indemnities in years of large crops, the committee explained, a reserve of wheat would be built up.

"This plan would contribute to reducing fluctuations in market supplies and prices of wheat," said the report. "Wheat would be taken off the market in years of good crops since premiums in such years would exceed indemnities, and would be put back on the market only in years of poor crops when indemnities would exceed premiums."

An example of how premiums would be determined follows:

Suppose the yield per acre on one farm for six years was: 1930—8 bushels, 1931—15 bushels, 1932—4 bushels, 1933—10 bushels, 1934—no crop, and 1935—11 bushels. The six year total yield was 48 bushels, or an average annual yield of 8 bushels.

To insure 75 per cent of this or 6 bushels to an acre, would have required 2 bushels indemnity in 1932 and 6 bushels in 1934, or a total of 8 bushels for the six years. Thus the premium would be 8 bushels divided by six, or 1 1-3 bushels per year.

BUSINESS BITS

Harold H. Stout has resigned as an officer of the Halsted Exchange National bank and has been elected a vice president of Central National Bank of Chicago, it was announced yesterday.

Dr. John C. Hostetter, former director of development and research of the Corning Glass works, has been elected vice president in charge of research and development of the Hartford-Empire company of Hartford, Conn., it was announced today.

A membership in the Chicago Mercantile exchange has been posted for transfer to Frank H. Boardman, treasurer of the Fulton Market Cold Storage company.

GRAIN RECEIPTS AT CHICAGO RISE SHARPLY IN 1936

Receipts of grain and soy beans at Chicago during 1936 aggregated 138,812,000 bushels, according to a preliminary estimate of Lyman C. West, statistician for the Chicago Board of Trade. In 1935 receipts were the smallest in over 40 years, totaling 92,421,000 bushels, reflecting the severe drouth in 1934.

Corn furnished a large part of the increased receipts this year, arrivals being estimated at 61,400,000 bushels, or 28,000,000 in excess of 1935. Receipts of wheat aggregated 23,600,000 bushels, oats 22,000,000 bushels, rye 7,300,000 bushels, barley 15,700,000 bushels, and soy beans 8,800,000 bushels. All showed moderate gains compared with the previous year.

Form Committee to Aid West Side Development

C. L. Rice, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, yesterday announced the formation of a special committee whose purpose will be to assist in the development and coördination of various projects for improvements on Chicago's west side. Eugene A. Rummler, attorney, is chairman of the group.

LIFT ESTIMATE OF WORLD WHEAT IMPORT NEEDS

Broomhall Puts Total at 568 Million Bushels.

There is a demand this season for every bushel of cash wheat that surplus producing countries can furnish, according to Broomhall, leading European authority, who yesterday increased his estimate on the probable purchases by importing countries to 568,000,000 bushels. This figure represents an increase of 28,000,000 bushels above his estimate earlier in December, and compares with a tentative figure of 516,000,000 bushels in October.

Total world exportable surplus for the 1936-'37 season is estimated at 652,000,000 bushels, or 84,000,000 bushels in excess of the probable demand.

Illinois First in Corn.

Illinois displaced the state of Iowa as the premier producer of corn this year for the first time since 1917, according to the detailed department of agriculture report for 1936. Production of corn as grain this season in Illinois was 40,000,000 bushels in excess of that of Iowa. The so-called 11 surplus states which furnish practically all of the commercial corn of the country harvested 746,477,000 bushels as grain this season, or 648,000,000 bushels less than in 1935, compared with 630,000,000 bushels secured as grain in 1934.

Indicated yield of corn as grain in the states of largest production the last two years follow:

Kansas Wheat Outlook Poor.

Outlook for the new winter wheat crop in western Kansas is precarious, according to the detailed government Dec. 1 report. In commenting on the situation in the western third of the state, which has over 33 per cent of the total wheat acreage, the report said the condition was generally poor and that above normal rainfall will be required during the winter and spring to prevent heavy abandonment and produce even a fair crop of wheat in 1937.
